TRIO GIVEN MEDALS FOR HEROIC ACT

Phone Employees Awarded Vail Memorial Token for St. Francis Dam Effort

Mrs. Althea Marks of Bell, Mrs. Carrie Johnson and Myrna Dresser of Fillmore, three heroes of the St. Francis Dam break in March, 1928, will receive the Theodore N. Vail bronze medal in recognition of their services, according to announcement made yesterday by H. N. Rush, vice-president and general manager of the Southern California Telephone Company.

The medals are part of the Theodore N. Vail memorial fund, and are awarded annually to members of the Bell system throughout the United States in recognition of noteworthy public service.

The regional committee for the Pacific Telephone and Telegraph Company decided that no other occasion during 1928 called forth such heroism and self-sacrifice as the St. Francis Dam disaster. The citation forces of the telephone company at Saticoy and Fillmore performed the greatest acts of public service, during the break and subsequent flood, the two forces maintained telephone service and gave out warnings that lives and property were saved.

Honorable mention was awarded to Miss Hannah Miller and Miss Dorothy Tibbitts of Los Angeles for prompt action which saved a relay to Delbert T. Rubisch of Ventura for administering artificial respiration, and to Edward B. Wells and Van Nuys for administering first aid in an automobile accident.

HIS WALLET LOCATED IN POLICE CAR

A wallet stolen in a hold-up in Beverly Hills was found yesterday in a police automobile standing outside Los Angeles' Central Police Station. The hold-up was reported Monday night by Dr. Edward Hoeppner of 217 West Seventy-fifth street, New York, who is a guest of Barton Hepburn, 712 Alpine Drive, Beverly Hills.

Dr. Hoeppner said that on Monday night he started afoot to the Beverly Hills Theater when two bandits drove up beside him on Alpine Drive. They aimed revolvers at him and took his watch and wallet containing $80. As they drove off he noted the number of the car.

At Mr. Hepburn's home yesterday Dr. Hoeppner was visited by Detective Lieutenants Vannice and Lennen of the central station staff, who presented the empty wallet, which they identified by a Hollywood Athletic Club guest card, and described the three bandits. They took the physician to Central Station to look over suspects and photographs, and he made a positive identification. He was asked to appear at 8 a.m. today at a special line-up of suspects.

Will Rogers Remarks:

NEW YORK, March 27.—[To the Editor of The Times:] I told you Mr. Hoover did one good deed every day. I see today where he is going to clean up the Republican organizations in the South. That's going to take a little over a day; may be a day and a half. He will find it's easier to change the color on some than it is the morals on others. If he holds a clinic over 'em he will find the blackest ones are the whitest ones after all. The only way that situation can be remedied that I can see is to ship in some better Republicans from the North, and there just ain't any to spare.

Yours,

WILL.

P.S.—They solved the Rothstein murder case here yesterday. They turned the fellow out they had arrested for it and told him to drop back some time if he ever felt like confessing.

MONEY JAM SMASHED

Stocks Rally as Funds Flow

Credit Crisis Averted When National Bank Opens Coffers for Loans

Gains of $5 to $20 Become Common Under Backing of Financial Houses

NEW YORK, March 27. (AP)—New York bankers smashed the money jam in Wall street today by supplying sufficient funds to keep the call-money rate stabilized at 15 per cent and stock prices rallied in spectacular fashion, recovering most of the ground lost in the two preceding sessions.

Chief credit for leading the bull forces and thousands of small speculators and investors still in the market out of the wilderness of despair was given to Charles E. Mitchell, president of the National City Bank, who loaned the bank's funds freely when the call rate threatened to go above the 20 per cent level on Tuesday and served notice today that the bank was prepared to lend $25,000,000 additional, if necessary—$5,000,000 each at 16, 17, 18, 19 and 20 per cent.

WORLD'S OIL KINGS ACT

Overproduction Curb Decided

Sweeping Move to Correct Ills of Industry Marks New York Meeting

Return to Basis of Year Ago Agreed, and Study Group to be Appointed

NEW YORK, March 27. (AP)—In a directors' room high in a Park-avenue skyscraper, oil kings of the world today agreed to take up the slack in a market bulging from surplus supply by going back to their production basis of a year ago.

These men of millions also received and agreed to carry out a recommendation for appointment of a permanent organization to study with the Department of Commerce and the Federal Oil Conservation Board the "serious overproduction" existing throughout the world.

Agreeing to these proposals are such men as Sir Henri Deterding, managing director of the Royal Dutch Company, one of the largest oil producers in the world; Harry F. Sinclair, of the Sinclair Consolidated Oil Company; W. C. Teagle of the Standard Oil Company of New Jersey; E. G. Seubert of the Standard Oil Company of Indiana, and E. B. Reeser of the Barnsdall Corporation of Tulsa, Okla., and president of the American Petroleum Institute, a trade organization through whose directors the agreement was made.

OUTCOME OF MEETING

Through a day of prolonged discussion and many committee meetings, the producers presented their cases and stumbling-blocks were many, but the result was that almost all of the American and foreign producers of crude oil in the Western Hemisphere will curtail from next Monday so that 1929 production, which thus far exceeds by about 170,000 barrels a day the daily output of last year, will not be greater than 1928 when 897,816,793 barrels were produced for an average daily supply of 2,453,051.

All the producers at the meeting agreed to curtail, but where and how much the cut will be are details left in the hands of five regional committees to determine. These committees will govern production in the Pacific Coast region, Interior United States, Mexico and Northern South America, the Atlantic Coast States and Louisiana, Arkansas and Texas. The Atlantic Coast and the Gulf States formerly were in one committee.

MATTER OF LEGISLATION

A general committee was authorized to ascertain what legislation is necessary to make the curtailment program practical, although some States already have enacted or have pending legislation governing production. The committee also was asked to study whether it would be "desirable to encourage the same degree of restriction and conservation on the part of foreign fields as of our own."

President Reeser of the institute said he expects 50 per cent of the proposed reduction will be realized by next Monday, with the curtailment fully achieved by July 1.

Reeser said he anticipates no advance in the price of gasoline at this time, although he indicated his confidence that the industry will recover from the "overproduction and uneconomical competition" which he indicated have kept the trade's return on its investment at 3 1-4 per cent for several years.

SUPPORT NEEDED

"The baby born today," he said, "still needs nourishment and encouragement, but it's the first time we've had a baby."

The institute's board of directors also adopted a resolution saying they do not oppose a gasoline tax for use on highway construction and maintenance, but oppose as "unsound and vicious" such a tax for other than road purposes.

Only the ratifications of France and Japan are necessary to bring the treaty into full force.

River Outwits Flood Fighters

BISMARCK (N. D.) March 27. (AP) The Missouri River today played "tricks" on half a hundred men who flirted with death in an effort to relieve flood conditions in Bismarck and Mandan.

While army engineers directed a crew of men in placing dynamite on a gigantic gorge at Huff, south of here, the ice jam began to move out, and for half an hour it appeared that the danger of a serious flood was over. The gorge suddenly re-formed, however, and tonight apparently is as solid as ever, and the water is rising at the rate of half a foot an hour.

Valuable Pearl Necklace Lost

NEW YORK, March 27. (AP)—Loss of a pearl necklace valued at $82,000 was reported today by the company with which it was insured. The necklace was lost by Mrs. Charles P. Ward of Newark, N. J., in New York City last Saturday while she was on the way from a hotel to a theater.

A reward of $5000 has been posted by the insurance company for its return.

English English to Rule Talkies, Says Englishman

NEW YORK, March 27. (AP)—The English language, through talking motion pictures, now stands a good chance of becoming the international language, in the opinion of John Maxwell, chairman of British International Pictures, and Colvin Brown, vice-president of the Pathe Company, who arrived today.

It's going to be "English English," however, and not "American English," in the opinion of Maxwell. He cited as reason for his belief the fact that a large number of English actors are being engaged for the talkies at Hollywood.

Brown said that the English are criticising the American accent in the talking pictures sent over there, and he expects to see a battle between New York English and London English.

Mining Relief Fund to Close

LONDON, March 27. (AP)—The Lord Mayor announced today that the fund for relief of distress in the mining districts will close on April 30. This follows the intimation that the government does not wish the fund to enter as a factor in the election campaign. General subscriptions total $3,850,000, the government's pound-for-pound contribution making an aggregate of $7,700,000.

The Lord Mayor said he has reason to believe an appreciable contribution still has to reach him from all parts of the country and from overseas.

Thaws Causing New Avalanches

Boston Paper Gives News Wedding Will be in June at Morrow Summer Home

BOSTON, March 27. (AP)—The Boston Traveler today said it has learned that Col. Charles A. Lindbergh and Anne Morrow will be married at the Morrow summer home at North Haven, Me. The newspaper said the wedding will take place in June, in accordance with an announcement made by Mr. and Mrs. Dwight Morrow in Mexico City.

No further plans were given beyond the fact that the caretaker of the summer home, Herbert O. Grant, is preparing for the arrival of the Morrows early in June.

SOUTHLAND TESTING TOUR MADE BY COLONEL

Col. Lindbergh went on a plane-testing tour of Southern California airports yesterday, taking aloft three planes other than his own Curtiss Falcon, and evidently unbending a bit in his former attitude against taking up passengers for "joy rides" in small planes.

The trans-Atlantic flyer started the afternoon at the Carpinteria Field of the Chadbourne Donze Air Service by taking up and stunting an imported English sport biplane.

Accompanied by a Carpinteria pilot, Jack Slaybaugh, Col. Lindbergh hopped to the Lockheed Aircraft Company's field at Burbank and borrowed a new Lockheed ship which he flew to the Santa Monica Municipal Airport.

Douglas Fairbanks met the flyer at the Santa Monica field and after an inspection of the new Douglas airplane manufacturing plant, Col. Lindbergh took Fairbanks on a flight over Santa Monica in a new Douglas observation biplane. Col. Lindbergh was taken through the new plant by Donald Douglas, president of the organization, and W. H. Wetzel, general manager.

The Lockheed plane was returned by Col. Lindbergh to Burbank and he flew his own plane back to Carpinteria at sundown. The flyer is staying at the home of Harry F. Guggenheim in Montecito.

BYRD'S DAYS DARKENING

Antarctic Winter Night Near

Gray Twilight Settles Over Frigid Wastes as Party Prepares Shelter

Planes Being Put in Snow Hangars and Supplies Stored Away

BY RUSSELL OWEN

(Copyright, 1929, by the Los Angeles Times, New York Times and the St. Louis Post-Dispatch. All rights for publication reserved throughout the world.)

LITTLE AMERICA (Antarctica) March 27. (Exclusive)—The gray twilight that comes before the winter night is settling down over Antarctica. The sun rises only a short distance over the horizon and is a discouraged yellow ball which gives little heat. But most of the outside work is done and in a few weeks more, when the sun dips behind the barrier for the last time and our days are marked by pale glow of stars and moon and the howling drive of the wind, there will be shelter for everyone and rooms where we may read and pass the days of darkness in comfort.

This day there is a strong wind blowing and snow is drifting. A holiday has been declared that tired muscles may be rested and energy renewed for the last days of hard work. A man tires much more quickly down here, so much vitality is expended in resisting the cold. For three months these men have worked as they never would have worked under normal conditions, building a home and hauling all the bulky and heavy material which accompanies aviation. It has been a herculean task.

PLANES TO BE HOUSED

The Fairchild is buried for the winter in a house of snow blocks, and the Ford and the Floyd Bennett will be tucked away on the next quiet day. The day she made her last flight snow blocks were piled all around her up to the top of the fuselage, so that she rests in a sort of snow fort. A tarpaulin was put across the top and she was made as secure as if run into a hangar and the door locked. The wind can blow all it wants to now without injuring her. The center section of the Ford has been put in place and the wing motors hung before putting it away in a dugout of its own.

Yesterday the last of the barrier cache was brought in. This was some of the material taken ashore while the Eleanor Bolling lay alongside the barrier and it has gradually been hauled toward camp as weather permitted.

SIGNS OF RELIEF

The last drums of gasoline and last bags of coal were taken in yesterday after they had been excavated from tons of snow and it was with sighs of relief that the men dropped into chairs when they returned last night. In the meantime everything about camp has been collected and placed in one big pile over which a house will be constructed. Then it will be both accessible and protected.

The weather has been less fickle this week and the days have been clear and cold. At night now we have beautifully tinted sunsets and while they linger in the west the full moon comes up in the east, a brilliant moon of unfamiliar countenance. It finally occurred to some of us that we are looking at it upside down, the reason being that we are ourselves upside down at the bottom of the world. Imagine a tiny person standing on the top of an orange looking at an object some distance away, and then place that same person at the bottom of his orange world with his head down and his feet up and our position relative to the moon can be understood. So far we haven't fallen off, for which we are grateful to Newton.

American Consul Made Target

Loss of Rum Vessel Brings Threats from Citizens in British Honduras

Seaman Lost on I'm Alone Found to be National of French Republic

BELIZE (British Honduras) March 27. (AP)—G. Russell Taggart, United States Consul here, sought police protection today because of high feeling over the sinking of the vessel I'm Alone. Two Belize men were members of the crew. The authorities are taking every precaution to prevent an attack on the Consulate.

STATE DEPARTMENT HAS NO ADVICE ON BELIZE TROUBLE

WASHINGTON, March 27. (AP)—State Department officials said tonight they had received no information from the American Consul at Belize, British Honduras, regarding his reported request for police protection due to high feeling over the sinking of the Canadian rum runner I'm Alone by a Coast Guard patrol boat.

It was pointed out that the Consul might apply for such protection before notifying the department, or in the event no trouble resulted, he might not cable the department regarding the case.

Further international complications in the sinking of the I'm Alone developed today with the disclosure that the seaman who lost his life was a French subject and the French Embassy became active in the case.

First reports of the incident said the seaman was a naturalized British subject, but the French Consul at New Orleans telegraphed the French Embassy today that his investigations showed that the seaman, who was drowned in the melee of the crew of the I'm Alone in leaving the ship, was a Frenchman.

CABLE TO PARIS

The Embassy immediately cabled the Foreign Office in Paris and asked for instructions. No action in the way of a protest or a request to the American government for information will be taken, it was said, until the Embassy is so directed by the French government.

It is believed possible that the Foreign Office in Paris will await more details from the complete reports of the incident which have been mailed to the Embassy by the Consul.

Meanwhile the Canadian Legation has begun the unraveling of the points at issue which have been raised unofficially. The first reports from British Consul Henry Tom at New Orleans were received by the Canadian Legation today. Since much of the case, if pressed by the Canadians, will revolve around the single question of just how far the I'm Alone was from shore when first hailed by the Coast Guard vessel Wolcott, the Canadians from their reports tried first to learn the position of the I'm Alone.

REPORTS OBSCURE

The reports, it was said at the Legation, are as obscure on the subject as previous unofficial reports. The Consul's report reiterated that the position, as contended by the captain of the I'm Alone, was between fourteen and fifteen miles off the American coast and not, as contended by the Coast Guard, within the twelve-mile limit as set by American statutes, which is not recognized by international law.

It is considered probable, in view of the difference of opinion over the distance of the ship from shore when first hailed, that the Canadians may have to corroborate their information with that now in the hands of the State Department, or that both parties may have to call upon the French for any more exact information they have been able to gather on the subject.

HOOVER'S DESK GETS PHONE

Precedent Shattered in Improving Office Efficiency; Other Innovations Planned

WASHINGTON, March 27. (Exclusive)—President Hoover has shattered another White House precedent by having a telephone installed at his desk in the executive office.

Presidents during the time prior to Mr. Hoover seldom used a telephone and when they did they talked over one in a room adjoining the executive office. When they had telephoning to do, they usually turned the job over to a secretary or other assistant.

But President Hoover sees no reason why he should not make use of the telephone when he is in a hurry to reach a Cabinet officer or someone else on a governmental or private matter, nor why he should have to walk into the next room to get to a telephone. The arrangement that has existed to date did not square with his ideas of efficiency of office management.

ONE-PIECE TYPE

He has installed what is known as the "French" or "Continental" phone—the one-piece type—and it is right at his elbow.

It is a safe presumption that few calls will find a direct way to him over this phone, but the outgoing calls already are well up in number.

This is only one of many innovations Mr. Hoover is making or has made at the White House. At his direction, the large room on the second floor of the mansion, which heretofore has served as a study, or library, for the President and immediate family, has been transformed into a living-room. Decorations and arrangement and furniture have been changed to meet the President's desires.

ALTERATIONS BEGIN SOON

Plans for altering the interior of the executive offices to meet the needs of the new administration are complete, and actual work will start within a week or two. Mr. Hoover would like to build a modern office structure for the executive offices, but this is out of the question as such a building would not harmonize with the general architectural plan of the White House.

Additional space is to be obtained chiefly by remodeling the basement of the present executive office and utilizing the west wing connecting the office with the main White House.

Threats Balk Plan to Call Him in Hardy Trial

Peril from Underworld Held Too Great to Risk

"Miss X" to Appear at Call, Attorney Declares

SACRAMENTO, March 27. (AP)—Fear for the safety of the life of Asa Keyes, former Los Angeles District Attorney, now awaiting sentence on conviction of bribery charges, may restrain prosecutors in the impeachment of Judge Carlos S. Hardy from bringing Keyes to the Capitol to tell what he knows of the Aimee Semple McPherson "kidnaping case" investigation.

Underworld threats against the life of Keyes may lead the present-ing board of five Assembly' man-agers to leave Keyes safely in jail in Los Angeles, it developed here tonight.

Assemblyman Sewell left for Los Angeles after a conference with Clare Woolwine, who returned from the south this morning. Walter J. Little, William Hornblower and Melvin I. Cronin, the Assembly prosecutors.

WILL TALK TO KEYES

Sewell will 'talk to Keyes and E. J. Dennison," Los Angeles former Assistant District Attorney, to de-termine if Dennison "Can give all the testimony that is desired of Keyes." That announcement was made by Hornblower following the conference.

Hornblower was noncommittal when asked if the board of managers was fearful for Keyes's safety should he be removed from jail and be brought to Sacramento. Asked if there was any other reason for the move Hornblower replied, "None that I know of."

Both Keyes and Dennison already have been subpoenaed by the prose-cution to appear as witnesses in the trial of Judge Hardy for "misde-meanors in office."

Little and Hornblower both de-clared that Sewell would carry south two or more new subpoenas.

"MISS X" SUMMONED

One summons is for Mrs. Lor-raine Wiseman-Sielaff, once named "Madame X," who was asserted to have accompanied Kenneth G. Or-miston, former Angelus Temple ra-dio operator, to Carmel during the period Mrs. McPherson said she was held by kidnapers.

Woolwine declared on his return here that S. S. Hahn, attorney for Mrs. Viola Kimball of Oakland, whom the evangelist once named as "Madame X" and who is twin sis-ter of Mrs. Wiseman-Sielaff, stated he had possession of an affidavit Mrs. McPherson is declared to have made clearing Mrs. Kimball of the "whole affair."

Hahn also asserted knowledge of where Mrs. Wiseman-Sielaff is at present and stated she will answer a subpoena to appear at the Hardy trial, Woolwine said. A summons already has been issued for her and it is held probable that Sewell will carry it south for service.

The board of managers has been seeking the mysterious "Madam X" since the impeachment trial started and has thus far been un-able to learn of her whereabouts.

Now he is president of the company at $200,000 a year.

JENSEN UP IN QUEST OF AIR RECORD

Flyer Hits Bumpy Skyway in Endurance Test Start Over Long Island

ROOSEVELT FIELD (N. Y.) March 27. (AP)—Bumping along the air like a farmer in a springless wagon, Martin Jensen looped the Long Island skyways today on the first stretch of an attempt to set a new solo endurance-flight record.

The sky was clear and the wind no more than fresh, but the air was as rough as a corduroy road. Jen-sen said in a note he dropped that one aerial "thank-you-mam" jounced him right off his seat and bumped his head on a cabin cross-bar.

But for all this Jensen reported "things are going fine," and told of a lunch of one sandwich, one or-ange, a cup of water and some gum.

The present record, established by the late Royal V. Thomas, is thirty-five hours and thirty-five minutes. To beat that record Jensen, who left the ground at 6:01:34 this morn-ing, will have to stay aloft until 6:35 tomorrow afternoon. To set a new official mark it is necessary to surpass the old one by at least an hour.

Jensen is flying a single-motored monoplane owned by an oil com-pany and is using automobile gaso-line.

mation so far available, expressed the feeling today that the matter may never have to be pressed by the Canadians, since it is possible that the American lawyers study-ing the case may recognize the Canadian position and advise the State Department to concede the issue.

It was pointed out at the French Embassy today that their interest in the case, unlike that of the British and Canadian, is not one of principle involved in the sink-ing of the ship, or the more broad lines of the treaty. The French, it is said, are mainly interested in the death of one of their citizens.

The British are still interested, because a principle of the anti-rum-smuggling treaty of 1924 may be involved and informal discussions between officials of the Canadian and British diplomats continued today. The Canadians have offered to furnish the British any infor-mation on the case they may re-ceive from the British Consulate at New Orleans.

I'M ALONE CASE DRAWS WORLD LEAGUE'S ATTENTION

GENEVA, March 27. (AP)—The I'm Alone controversy has aroused in-terest here because the law governing territorial waters now is ill-y defined. It will be on the agenda of an international law conference to be held at The Hague next year. In preparation for that conference the transit section of the League of Nations is studying the problem of policing territorial waters.

BLAME PUT ON PILOT IN FORD PLANE CRASH

NEWARK (N. J.) March 27. (AP) Lieut. Richard Aldsworth, traffic manager of Newark Municipal Air-port, today ascribed the crash of the trimotored Ford monoplane on the 17th inst., in which fourteen persons were killed, to the failure of an engine and "subsequent im-proper piloting." His report was made to Mayor Congleton.

tack Naco until Escobar and Manzo had done it.

It is now too late for any of them to do anything.

Gen. Gonsales and Gen. Olaches discussed the situation frankly with us last night. They are very in-teresting men. Olaches has Indian blood. He is shy, diffident, but charming. Gonsales is destined to be one of the towering figures of Mexico. Calles already has in-formed him that he is to command all military forces of Northern Mexico after this conflict. Gon-sales looks like a West Pointer. He is gay, careless, cynical. He in-terrupts a penetrating brilliant analysis of national politics to make a wise-crack about blonds.

He said last night that he be-lieves the crisis of the revolution has passed. At that hour he ex-pected an attack by Topete. He has been warned, for one thing. For another he figured that Topete would have to make some kind of dramatic gesture to save his face.

BATTLE EXPECTATIONS

Gonsales thinks the battle will consist of one whirlwind attack; that it will last about twenty-four hours and that Topete then either will draw off to join Escobar, go back to Nogales, or cross the line and surrender, according to how the general situation looks.

He said at dinner that unless Topete attacks within eight days, he probably will take the offensive, capture Agua Prieta and probably Cananea, where the American min-ing companies are harrassed by rebels.

Gonzales said he thinks that this revolution will prove to be a blessing in disguise. It will do much to abolish the revolution as a national custom. If the United States main-tains its present policy, the over-throw of the Mexican government becomes next to impossible.

He predicted that an agreement will be arrived at between the church and the national govern-ment. The Mexican government is perfectly willing to permit religious services, "but," he said, "we do not like to have the soil of Mexico owned by Rome."

REASON FOR DELAY

I asked him the reason why our saffron-hued friend Topete had not attacked Naco a week ago, but had waited until Naco had become so heavily fortified that an attack would be suicide. He said he be-lieves the rebels backed troops a week ago. They told the reporters at Nogales about their armies and their troop trains; but they really had none.

I asked him where and when he thought the decisive battle of the revolution would be fought. He said he does not think there will be such a battle.

The rebel armies will disintegrate rather than experience pulveriza-tion. Dispatches received by the Mexican consulate here indicate that Manzo's army is deserting. Truck drivers of troop trains are quitting because they are not paid. The civilian population of the af-fected districts is turning against the rebels. A rebellion in an un-friendly district is a military con-tradiction. It can't be done.

I had a heart-to-heart talk with a little Yaqui Indian in the trenches this morning. He shared my senti-ments. The Yaquis are gloomy litis people with tiny hands and feet. Next to the Apaches, they are the greatest fighters the world ever has known.

"No fighting generals any more in Mexico," he said. "Much talk; no fight."

"Pancho Villa, he was fighter. If he lose, he just fight some more. These generals just talk some more. Yaquis like to fight; they let old women talk."

REBELS REPORTED EVACUATING JIMENEZ

MEXICO CITY, March 27. (AP)—It was reported tonight on good au-thority that the rebels are evacuat-ing Jimenez and continuing their retreat northward. Government of-ficials here believe that Gen. Esco-bar will not make a stand against Gen. Calles's Federals until he reaches Bachimba Pass, a few miles south of the City of Chihuahua.

Mazatlan, where a rebel siege re-cently was lifted, sent an official estimate giving the total rebel casu-alties as 300 killed and wounded. The last previous report on the five days' fighting around the western seaport placed the rebel dead at sixty-five. It is figured here that of the 300 now reported about one-third would be dead.

It is said that the rebel leaders Iturbe and Roberto Cruz, who led the attack on Mazatlan, are retreat-ing northward steadily and are about two-thirds on the way to Culiacan.

The rebels have found a new method of destroying railroad tracks. They pour kerosene on the ties and set fire to them, the heat twisting the rails and making them unserviceable for replacement.

It was learned from government circles this evening that Gen. Calles hopes to clean up Chihuahua with-in a few days. He intends then to send a column northward to recap-ture Juarez, while another column goes northeastward to campaign in Sonora. Not much has been heard about rebel activities in that State for two weeks.

POLICE OFFICERS HELD ON ARMS CHARGE

TUCSON (Ariz.) March 27. (AP)—Chief Gatliff and Capt. Morris of the Douglas Police Department were held under $5000 bonds when they were arraigned in United States District Court here this afternoon in connection with a charge of con-spiracy to smuggle arms and am-munition across the international line into Mexico.

The police officers were arrested this morning by United States spe-cial officers who arrested ten prom-inent Douglas and Agua Prieta residents on the conspiracy charge.

Special agents of the United States Department of Justice had been working for the past week on various reports that smuggling was going on, and had questioned Doug-las police officials on the where-abouts of 37,000 rounds of ammuni-tion and two machine guns belong-ing to the city of Douglas which disappeared from the police station during the first week of March.

WARNING GIVEN ON AIDING REBELS

WASHINGTON, March 27. (AP)—State Department officials today said that Americans in Mexico who assisted Mexican revolutionists in their campaign against the con-stituted government there forfeit the protection of the United States government.

Any participation by Americans or Mexicans in the United States toward assisting the Mexican rebels is a violation of the neutrality law and the government is keeping a close watch to prevent such viola-tions.

The report that R. H. Polk, an American, is organizing an air force in Chihuahua for the rebel army, has not reached the Amer-ican government through official channels. State Department of-ficials said, however, that Polk and any other Americans assisting the rebels will do so at their own risk. Polk is not listed as a member of the American armed forces.

FEDERAL ADVANCE CLOSE TO JIMENEZ

By the Associated Press

Federal cavalry advance guards were reported near the rebels in the stronghold of Jimenez in South Chihuahua, as confirmation of the Federal victory at Mazatlan on the West Coast caused interest in the Mexican campaign to shift back to Northern Mexico.

Chapultepec Castle announced that Gen. Ortiz, leading the ad-vance of Gen. Almazan's army, had arrived "near Jimenez," where Gen. Escobar, rebel generalissimo, is said to have established headquarters.

"Escobar still is dodging us but we are continuing to advance," Ortiz reported.

Gen. Calles informed Mexico City by wireless that his repair crews are putting into shape six miles of railway track daily north of Torreon.

Ambassador Morrow and Consul Blocker at Mazatlan both confirm raising of the siege of the seaport. The government declares that a Federal force from Durango ad-vancing against Culiacan, Sinaloa, threatens retreat of the rebels.

Aid for the rebels in the air is promised with formation of the "Yankee Doodle Flyers," by a group of American pilots who will serve Gen. Escobar. Federal mastery of the air has been a most serious menace to the insurgent campaign.

Ten men were arrested at Doug-las, Ariz., charged with smuggling arms and ammunition across the international boundary.

Baker Passes 89th Milestone

NEW YORK, March 27. (Exclu-sive)—George F. Baker, Sr., sage of philanthropy and finance, observed his 89th birthday quietly today at his winter home on Jekyll Island, Georgia. Mr. Baker, who has been credited with an accrual of $13,000,-000 to his vast fortune within the past month by the advance in First National Bank stock, of which he owns 20,000 shares, has spent his recent birthdays at this winter re-treat.

Mr. Baker, reputed the third wealthiest individual in America, for fifty years has been identified with the more important phases of New York's financial life.

MARSHALL STIMSON AND HOOVER CONFER

WASHINGTON, March 27. (Ex-clusive)—Marshall Stimson of Los Angeles, who was in charge of the speakers' bureau during the Hoover Presidential campaign in Southern California, conferred with Presi-dent Hoover this morning at the White House. Mr. Stimson left to-night for Los Angeles. In leaving the White House he said he was de-lighted to see with what efficiency the first California President is per-forming his duties.

DESERT DUST SLOWS ARMY

Heat, Sun, Wind and Drought Weary Almazan's Men in March Against Rebels

BY ORVILLE DWYER

[Copyright, 1929, by the Chicago Tribune.]

WITH GEN. ALMAZAN'S ARMY IN CHIHUAHUA, March 27. (Ex-clusive)—Fighting intense heat, sun, wind and everlasting blinding, choking desert dust, scarcity of food and, most dangerous of all, the lack of water, Gen. Juan Andreu Almazan's army is now four days forward in its heartbreaking northern campaign against the rebels.

Trotting on and on through the blazing sun are 5000 cavalry soldiers advancing on a long slender col-umn and behind these, a fleet of automobiles and trucks carrying the infantry and general's staff thread their way slowly and painfully over the tortuous, sandy, soft-bottomed trails called roads.

ARTILLERYMEN IN REAR

A thousand artillerymen with horses and mules dragging eighteen French 75's and other lighter guns bring up the rear.

Each day the long column stops to pitch camp at some desert oasis or railroad station wherever water is in any extent available. There for hours work of watering the 6000 or 7000 horses and mules by obso-lete old-world methods goes on.

The advance starts again about 1 o'clock in the morning, when the bugle blows the cavalry to saddle and to ride once more until the next noon time or later. The horses' hoofs and the wheels of the auto-mobiles and trucks sink deep into the sand and night or day the whole column advances through a solid gray cloud of dust so fine and powdery that it is lighter than air.

DUST EVERYWHERE

This dust is one of the wearying things the army has to contend with. It never clears away, filling the nose, ears and eyes. It brings moments of total blindness or calls forth scalding, smarting tears; each breath fills the lungs with it, so that they contract and threat-en to burst, and it seems impos-sible to go on. Before the columns have been long on their way it clings to the faces and hands and bodies of the soldiers until they are all one color and each as if he had jumped into a barrel of buff calci-mine.

Water is too scarce for ablution purposes. The temptation to use a bit of drinking water for the face is strong, but when this was com-municated to a young officer, who speaks English, he cautioned against it. He said it would bring resent-ment and break an unwritten rule of the desert. Better suffer from dirt than from thirst, he said, and as time went on the tenderfoot had to admit the wisdom of the rule.

BANKS AVERT MONEY CRISIS

and revived confidence which had been badly shaken by the drastic decline in the early part of yester-day's record-breaking session.

Considerable significance was at-tached in Wall street to Mr. Mitchell's action because he is a di-rector of the New York Federal Reserve Bank which has been ac-tive in attempting to carry out the Federal Reserve Board policy of forcing a substantial reduction in speculative borrowings.

"So far as this institution is concerned," Mr. Mitchell was quoted as saying, "we feel that we have an obligation which is paramount to any Federal Reserve warning, or anything else, to avert, so far as lies within our power, any danger-ous crisis in the money market."

TICKER KEEPS UP

Total stock sales today were only 5,618,990 shares, as against 8,246,760 on yesterday's record session. The ticker, which ran for more than two hours after the market closed yesterday, kept well abreast of the proceedings today, the final quota-tions being printed only twenty-two minutes after the sounding of the closing gong.

The strong support furnished the money market late yesterday brought about a heavy accumula-tion of overnight buying orders with the result that the market started upward from the start. The market ran into some selling, how-ever, when the call money renewal rate was posted at 15 per cent, the highest since February, 1920, and contrasted with an opening rate of 12 per cent yesterday. When it became apparent that the rate would hold at that figure and that powerful financial interests were standing by to support the money market if necessary, the rally was resumed and continued until just before the close when profit taking whittled away part of the earlier gains.

SMALL MEN DRIVEN OUT

Governors of the stock exchange voted to suspend business on Sat-urday, as well as the Good Friday holiday, probably to afford relief to the thousands of brokerage-house employees who have been swamped with an accumulation of work as a result of the riotous sessions of the last few days. Similar action was taken by the governors of the New York Curb Market.

Brokerage houses were again thronged today with customers, hundreds of whom watched stocks which they had dumped overboard yesterday climb to heights which would have netted them handsome profits if they had held on and weathered the storm of selling. Amateur "bear" traders who inva-riably sell at the wrong time, also saw stocks in which they had a short position in the belief that the bottom had dropped out of the market, go surging to levels which forced them to cover their commit-ments at substantial losses.

While brokers were reluctant to talk about their customers' com-mitments, it is known that thou-sands of small speculators all over the country had been driven out of the market or forced to take substantial losses. Millions of dol-lars in paper profits also have van-ished from the accounts of some of Wall street's largest operators but these men are in a better po-sition to withstand the losses and have learned from experience that dumping their holdings in a wildly declining market, unless forced by necessity, is generally poor busi-ness.

Gains of $5 to nearly $20 a share were quite common in today's mar-ket. Adams Express soared $34 on a few sales and Ford Motor of Canada, traded on the New York Curb market, skyrocketed $128 a share.

The engagement was announced previously.

BISHOP BRENT DIES ABROAD

Episcopal Prelate Known for Fight on Opium

He Won Distinction as Chief Chaplain in War

Divine Wrote Many Books on Religious Topics

LAUSANNE (Switzerland) March 27. (AP)—Bishop Charles Henry Brent of the Episcopal diocese of Buffalo, N. Y., died here at 3 o'clock this morning.

NEW YORK, March 27. (AP)—Charles Henry Brent, who became bishop of the Western New York diocese of the Protestant Episcopal Church in 1918, was probably most widely known for his long fight against the opium traffic while bishop of the Philippine Islands from 1901 to 1918. His accomplish-ments as chief of the chaplain service of the American Expedi-tionary Force during the World War also brought him high honors, in-cluding decoration with the distin-guished service medal.

Bishop Brent was born in New-castle, Ont., April 9, 1862, and after preparing for college at the Trin-ity college school at Port Hope, Ont., he entered Trinity college, University of Ontario from which he was graduated in 1884. Since that time he had been awarded honorary degrees from nu-merous educational institutions in Europe, Canada and the United States.

ORDAINED IN 1887

From 1885 to 1887 he was under-master at the Trinity preparatory school which he had attended as a boy. In the final year of his serv-ice there he was ordained to the priesthood and was made curate of St. Paul's Cathedral, Buffalo, N. Y., in 1888. He served later in Boston and was associate rector of St. Stephen in Boston, in 1901, when he was elected bishop of the Philip-pine Islands.

During his seventeen years' serv-ice in the Philippines he declined offers of the bishopric of Washing-ton, D. C., and the bishopric of New Jersey. During this period he was for two years a member of the committee appointed by the Philip-pine government to investigate the opium question in the Orient.

Later he became senior member of the American delegation to the in-ternational opium commission at Shanghai. He became president of this organization in 1909 and two years later he was named chair-man of the American delegation and president of the opium confer-ence at The Hague. In 1923 he served as an American representa-tive at drug traffic conferences at Geneva.

AUTHOR OF MANY BOOKS

His war services were recognized by the British government which conferred the honor of Companion of the Bath upon him and the Ital-ian government made him Com-mander of the Order of Leopold.

As the author of numerous books on religious and educational top-ics, Bishop Brent was widely known. He lectured in many of the larger universities of this country and Great Britain and was an over-seer of Harvard University. He al-so served on the editorial staff of the Churchman for three years be-fore his election as bishop.

Bishop Brent was the son of a clergyman, Reverend Canon Henry Brent and Sophia Frances (Cum-mings) Brent. Bishop Brent never married.

Film Company in Britain Quits Silent Pictures

[Copyright, 1929, by the New York Times]

LONDON, March 27. (Exclusive) The British and Foreign Films, Ltd., has followed the lead of William Fox and decided to go "talkie."

No more silent films will be pro-duced after the present program is completed. As a result of nego-tiations with French and German bankers, an ambitious inter-Euro-pean program of talking films will be begun almost immediately, al-though it is not announced which language will be used. This is the first British company to swing in the direction of the sound films. Others are moving cautiously, and most producers here have said they are opposed to abandoning silent films.

YOUNG SPRINGS ICING PROJECT

Governor Announces Steps to Get Harbor Site

Decision Opposes Report by Committee Member

New Avalanche of Protests Expected on Move

BY FLOYD J. HEALEY
"Times" Staff Correspondent

SAN FRANCISCO, March 27. (Exclusive) — Announcement was made by Gov. Young at Sacramento today that "a program has been decided upon which will involve immediate steps for the acquisition of Mission Rock by the San Francisco Harbor Commission," and that definite steps are under way toward the solution of the problem of shipside cold-storage facilities.

The decision is in opposition to a report made to him by at least one member of the committee named to investigate the feasibility of such a project at his own suggestion and is in opposition to resolutions and reports of several interested organizations, it was learned here tonight.

In addition, the Senate Committee on Commerce and Navigation needed the protests of shipping interests, business men, cold-storage executives and many fruit producers several days ago by tabling a proposal to erect such a refrigeration terminal on the San Francisco water front, while it was incorporated as part of a bill proposing a $10,000,000 State-wide bond issue for the development of the harbor.

PLANT OPPOSED

Opposition to the proposed State-owned and controlled refrigeration plant, involving purchase of acreage at the so-called Mission Rock at a price ranging from $1,000,000 to $1,750,000 against an asserted purchase price of $150,000 for the same property five years ago, is based upon seven specific major contentions. They are:

(1.) The proposed cold-storage terminal will put the State of California into competition with a private business which, in turn, is regulated by the State.

(2.) Ample cold-storage facilities now are provided, at less expense to the shipper and to commerce.

(3.) Shippers prefer to store perishables as near as possible to point of production. Prompt refrigeration of deciduous fruit, after picking, is an important factor in ultimate sale.

(4.) Where shipside facilities are provided a negligible percentage of export commodities are stored in shipside warehouses.

(5.) Funds available for harbor improvements are greatly needed for additional piers and remodeling old piers.

(6.) All available funds for improvement of farm conditions and marketing advantages should be used along lines of proven benefit and immediate relief for farming communities.

(7.) State funds could be expended better in developing foreign marketing agencies and studying foreign marketing conditions, with a view to improving the ability of our foreign markets to consume a large part of our exportable perishable surpluses.

POINTS IN REPORT

Each of the points listed, it is learned, has been incorporated into a report sent to Gov. Young over the signature of M. H. Robbins, president of the Union Ice Company, and a member of the committee named to study the practicability, need and feasibility of the refrigeration and precooling terminal.

Robbins, it is understood, was the only member of the committee representing existing cold storage interests. His minority report, it is learned, also accuses the committee of failing to function as an impartial fact-finding body. On the contrary he charges that the committee was handpicked by William J. Mitchell, its chairman, who presided at the meeting in which formation of the group was suggested. Mitchell is said to be an official of the company owning Mission Rock, which the State proposes to buy, and is said to have conducted the committee deliberations chiefly between himself and the committee's secretary and submitted reports at various times to other members, presumably as a summary of the committee's desires.

The Governor's announcement today, in view of the previously expressed opposition of so many agencies throughout the State, but principally in San Francisco, where the terminal is proposed for construction, is expected to bring forth a new avalanche of protests.

YOUNG ANNOUNCES PIER ICING PROJECT

SACRAMENTO, March 27. (AP)—Steps are planned for the immediate acquisition of Mission Rock in San Francisco harbor and extension of Pier 50 for construction of a fruit and vegetable cold-storage shipping terminal, Gov. Young announced tonight.

The announcement followed a conference between the Governor, Maj. C. L. Tilden, chairman of the Board of State Harbor Commissioners; Lyman King and A. R. Heron of the State Department of Finance. In his statement the Governor said:

"Recent tentative negotiations for the construction by private enterprise of terminal dock warehouse and cold-storage facilities at Mission Rock appear to be developing so slowly that I am advised by Maj. Tilden that we should not rely on this prospect.

SURVEY MADE

"At the direction of the Board of State Harbor Commissioners, an up-to-date survey has been made, dealing with the problem of extending Pier 50 to Mission Rock, and the construction on the rock of a large terminal with cold-storage facilities. The survey has included new soundings as to depths and foundations, together with careful estimates of construction costs. The harbor commissioners have been very diligent in this matter, and have done a great deal of work upon it.

"As a result of our conference, a program has been decided upon which will involve immediate steps for the acquisition of Mission Rock by the harbor commission at a reasonable price, by negotiation if possible or by condemnation if agreement is not possible. This will be followed by prompt prosecution of plans for the extension of Pier 50 to Mission Rock, and the construction upon the rock of the necessary dock and terminal facilities, including trackage, sheds, warehouses and a shipside cold-storage unit.

BENEFIT EXPECTED

"Representatives of agricultural interests believe that these facilities will prove of great value in the export marketing of fruits and vegetables, and the effort to provide the desired equipment is in line with my very earnest desire to encourage every proper service on the part of government which may tend to aid agriculture.

"Great importance is also attached to this development by shipping interests as by officers of the supply service of the United States Navy. We can therefore feel that we are launching upon an effort toward the benefit of the great public interests, California agriculture, California shipping and national defense."

FILMS PLAN FRENCH LEAVE

American Producers Consider Abandoning Field When Paris Imposes 3-to-1 Rule

PARIS, March 27. (AP)—Definite abandonment of the French market by American motion-picture companies and the consequent cessation of the distribution of French news reels by American producers were subjects seriously considered today at a meeting of representatives of American motion picture houses in Paris.

The meeting was called in consequence of confirmation by the French Cinematograph Syndicate of regulations requiring American firms to take one French picture for every three American films sold in France.

The American film representatives at today's meeting estimated that it would cost American producers $500,000 yearly to comply with the proposed new regulations.

An expected protest by exhibitors failed to materialize when the question came up yesterday before the Cinematograph Syndicate and it is feared that the new system will be approved by the government on a 3-to-1 basis.

The Americans agreed that if American films were forced out of France American news reel cameramen would have to go also.

The Americans probably will be heard by the government before action is taken as the Minister of Finance has promised the American Embassy to do nothing until he has heard the American side.

Girl Kidnaped to Shield Bank Bandit Escape

INDIANAPOLIS, March 27. (AP)—The East Side Bank was robbed of approximately $7000 by four men this afternoon. The bandits escaped in an automobile after taking Miss Dorothy Edwards, 23 years of age, a cashier in the bank, with them for half a block as a shield against possible firing at them by bank employees.

Loan Company Clients Losers

SAN FRANCISCO, March 27. (Exclusive)—Shortage of $60,000 in the books of the defunct Colonial Loan and Discount Company, asserted bucketshop operator, was charged today by Deputy Corporation Commissioner Ellis. Auditors, he said, have been unable to learn what became of the money and are continuing their search. It is virtually certain, however, Ellis said, that customers who deposited stock as pledges for loans will be the sufferers.

Irving W. Robinson and A. N. Jackson, partners in the company, under indictment here for grand theft and violation of the Corporate Securities Act, also are charged with grand theft in Stockton and today were made the targets of an involuntary bankruptcy petition filed on behalf of stock depositors.

Auto Theft Ring Suspects Held

SALT LAKE CITY, March 27. (AP) Arrest of four men here and a fifth in Los Angeles, asserted to be members of an automobile theft ring blamed by officers for the loss of more than 200 machines in Utah, Idaho, Nevada and California in the last two years, was revealed here today.

Apprehension of the men followed discovery here by M. L. Britt of San Francisco, special agent for the National Automobile Theft Bureau, of twelve stolen automobiles from other States.

Those under arrest are C. E. Barker, 22 years of age, alias Jack Stevens, arrested in Los Angeles, and Frank Everett, 44; Dave Hitesman, 29; Alex Cowan, 23, alias Ben Snyder, and Alex Clark, 24, in custody here.

Cook Tells of Inman Visitor

RENO, March 27. (AP)—"Bill" Hardy came to see Mrs. Helene Garnet Patton Clarke Inman while she was ill at her apartment, Mrs. Margaret Schmidt, the Inmans cook testified in the trial of the divorce suit today of Walker P. Inman, son of Mrs. James Z. Duke, against his wife.

At the time, Mrs. Schmidt said, Mrs. Inman was under the care of a physician and had two nurses looking after her, but she remembered that Hardy went to the apartment, stayed there with the patient for considerable time, "got drunk" as the witness expressed it, and then went to sleep on a couch in the guest room.

Debate in North Won by U.S.C.

(AP) University of Southern California men's debaters continued their winning streak to defeat Washington State College today on the question: "Resolved, that the plea of temporary insanity in defense of crime should be prohibited by law." The Californians argued the negative side of the question. The debate was broadcast over station KWSC.

Moved by a recent killing by prohibition enforcement officers and deaths from poison liquor, wet members made a bitter attack upon State and national prohibition laws.

COOLIDGE ASKS HEAVY DEFENSE

Former President Writes in National Magazine

Points to Nation's Need for Large Army and Navy

Cites Necessity of Police to Insure Safety

PHILADELPHIA, March 27. (AP)—Calvin Coolidge, writing in the April number of the Ladies' Home Journal on "promoting peace through preparation for defense," says the forces required for adequate national defense should "be large enough so that others would see that there would be a great deal of peril involved in attacking us."

"They should not be so large," the former President says, "that our country would feel that we would undergo no peril in attacking others."

The article is the first of three by Mr. Coolidge to appear in the Ladies' Home Journal on the subject of promoting peace.

"The duty of a government is order," continues Mr. Coolidge. "We are told that it is heaven's first law. In our day we have come to take order for granted as something almost self-existent but it is not. In fact, it is very difficult to maintain as we are constantly reminded by recurring waves of crime, and the outbreak of warfare. Order is of the first importance, because without it we could have no liberty and no progress. Property would be of little value, every home would be insecure and all life in danger.

PREPARING FOR PEACE

"When the test comes the people will give up almost any other human right to secure safety and protection. Whenever anarchy imperils a state a military dictator always appears, because the people prefer him to the lawlessness of the mob.

"One of the methods," Mr. Coolidge writes, "by which each government undertakes to preserve order so that it may protect its people from domestic violence and foreign hostilities is known as preparation for national defense. The great object that it all seeks to accomplish is peace, peace for the citizen at home and peace for the citizen abroad. Preparation runs all the way from the policeman on the corner, who is our first line of defense, to the army and navy, with their supporting fortifications and bases.

"We do not have these for the purpose of making war, but for the purpose of preserving peace.

"Our army can be small because we are peaceful at home and far removed from attack by land. Also an army can be assembled quickly. Our navy is more extensive because our shores, our great commerce, and our distant possessions must be protected, and it takes years to build a warship."

QUESTION OF HUMAN NATURE

Declaring "no sure way has ever been found to prevent war," Mr. Coolidge says that "opinions may differ as to whether nations with adequate military forces are more likely to enjoy peace than those which neglect their defenses. In the last analysis, this is a question of dealing with human nature. Every one knows that if there were no police our cities would be ransacked within twenty-four hours.

"I very strongly suspect that if there were but one nation in the world supplied with an army and a navy, and, to make the supposition as strong as possible, if that nation were our own, it would not be long before the other nations had been overrun. It seems to me that it is almost a moral certainty that we should find some excuse for taking that action. But when we know that other countries have a considerable ability to defend themselves, it is human nature for us to regard them with a more wholesome respect and be more careful about violating their rights. If we reverse this picture we can likewise conclude that if others know we are prepared to defend ourselves they will be less likely to commit offenses against us.

PURPOSE OF ARMY AND NAVY

"While I have discussed national defense very largely as a method of preventing war, it has another aspect, which is likewise of extreme importance. Perhaps peace is an ideal that can come only to future generations, which are more perfect than our own. Meantime, we should take every precaution to prevent war, of which adequate defense is one. But we should also take every precaution to protect ourselves to the fullest possible extent from its ravages, if it does come. The army and navy serve the double purpose of prevention and defense."

STATE COUNCIL PUT UNDER FIRE

Friends of Judicial Body Ward Off Attack

Assembly Halts Action on Proposal to Abolish

Chief Justice Among Many Defending System

BY C. A. JONES
"Times" Staff Representative

SACRAMENTO, March 27. (Exclusive)—The Judicial Council created by a vote of the people in 1926, came under the fire of the Legislature this afternoon in the Assembly, but friends of the Council program temporarily stopped a flood of threatened oral attacks upon it by delaying action on the Adams constitutional amendment seeking to abolish the Council.

The threats against the Judicial Council brought Chief Justice Waste of the Supreme Court, Superior Judge Johnson and other members of the Council here in a hurry and friends of the Council plan of handling the assignment of California judges and of court procedure gained a public hearing for the Council before any action will be taken by the Legislature upon the proposal to submit an amendment to the people abolishing the Council altogether.

"NOBLE EXPERIMENT"

Assemblyman Adams of Merced county, author of the amendment which seeks to abolish the Council, declared that the Council "is a noble experiment," but that it is proving to be "autocratic" and had caused dissatisfaction and turmoil among the lawyers and judges of the State.

Assemblyman Feigenbaum of San Francisco asked that the members of the Council be given an opportunity to be heard and sought to have the measure re-referred to the Judiciary Committee so that Chief Justice Waste and others might show what the Council had accomplished. After much parliamentary procedure, the Adams amendment was sent back to the Assembly committee on constitutional amendments and a hearing will be set for an early date.

Coincidental with the moves against the Council in the lower house, Chief Justice Waste gave out a statement showing what the Council is seeking to do toward improvement in the handling of litigation in this State. Chief Justice Waste, who is ex-officio chairman of the Council, pointed out that the "Supreme and Appellate courts are deciding several hundred more cases a year than prior to theadoption of the Judicial Council amendment," and that through the assignment of judges to Superior Court benches where the calendars are crowded, congestion there also is being relieved.

FLAYS OLD DELAYS

"The old method of letting things take care of themselves, with a constantly increasing congestion and consequent delay, is unworthy of consideration," Chief Justice Waste said.

On the Senate calendar is another proposal which provides for the abolition of the Council. Senator Swing of San Bernardino is the author of the measure. He wants power of assigning judges to lodge again in the Governor.

While the Assembly was sparring over the Judicial Council and listening to the field day of speeches on the Bishop bill to legalise high-school fraternities, the upper house members passed a number of bills this afternoon and a few constitutional amendments as well. One constitutional amendment proposed by Senator E. S. Hurley of Oakland, and which was passed by the upper house, seeks to add $200 a day to the sum the taxpayers must put up for the expenses of the Legislature.

SOME SENATORS BALK

Back in 1926 on the plea that the expenditures of the biennial sessions could be cut down through the elimination of waste and in cutting down the patronage list, the people of the State voted the legislators an increase in pay from $1000 to $2400. The allowance for the legislative attaches was reduced to $300 a day. This necessitated the cutting down of the patronage lists to such an extent that those taken on as attaches had to work instead of merely drawing their pay.

On the grounds that faith had been broken with the taxpayers of the State, a number of Senators declined to support the plan to add to the expense of conducting the Legislature. These included Senators Allen, Boggs, Cobb, Handy, Ray Jones, Nelson, Slater, Tubbs and Young.

NONFESTIVE HANGINGS WIN ASSEMBLY VOTE

SACRAMENTO, March 27. (AP)—The Assembly moved today to take the "Roman holiday" flavor out of executions.

The House passed, 66 to 8, a bill introduced by Assemblyman Deuel of Chico. The measure would limit the persons who may witness executions in State prisons to the warden and other prison officials and authorize the warden to invite not more than ten reputable citizens.

The present law sets no limit on the number of witnesses.

Deuel, speaking on the floor, declared that the execution of William Edward Hickman at San Quentin Penitentiary recently "was one Roman holiday." He maintained that lavish, ultra-colored newspaper accounts of executions tend to glorify condemned criminals. The ten witnesses permitted to enter the execution chamber should include representatives of press associations, Deuel said. He would eliminate special writers and "sob sisters."

QUOTA REVISION AWAITS HOOVER

Action on Origins Clause Depends on Signal

Fight Will be Launched if President Orders

Senator Johnson Outlines Views on Measure

WASHINGTON, March 27. (AP)—Consideration of repeal or postponement of the controversial national origins provision of the Immigration Act at the forthcoming extra session of Congress was said today by Chairman Johnson, of the Senate Immigration Committee, to depend on word from President Hoover.

An opponent of the clause himself, Senator Johnson declared that if Mr. Hoover gave the word a fight will be launched against it. He expressed doubt, however, that any action can be undertaken successfully at the extra session without a signal from the White House.

The President expressed his strong disapproval of the national origins provision last week when he issued the proclamation, in accordance with the law, ordering the new quota basis into effect on July 1. It was assumed that he intended to rest on that declaration, believing it to be the responsibility of Congress to undertake the steps necessary to bring about repeal or postponement.

The situation is similar to the present maneuvering between Congressional leaders and the President on farm relief. In the latter instance, Mr. Hoover is holding that it is up to Congress to start its own business and formulate the legislation.

Senator Johnson realizes there is much strength in the Senate for the national origins provision which rigidly revises the present quota basis for the various nations, giving Great Britain a large increase at the expense of Germany and the Scandinavian countries.

Woman Victimizes Police, Newspapers and Stores in Idaho Town

LEWISTON (Idaho) March 27. (AP)—Police are seeking a woman who placed scores of telephone calls with newspapers, city authorities and business men.

Texas Railroad Workers Vote to Go on Strike

DALLAS, March 27. (AP)—Four thousand train, engine and yard employees of the Texas and Pacific Railway have voted almost 100 per cent to go out on strike, according to an announcement made here today by Fred Barr, vice-president of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Engineers.

Barr is official spokesman for all of the brotherhoods involved. The strike vote was taken after mediation failed. Wages are not involved. Working conditions and the desire of the men for the road to assist them with property they were buying on the installment plan in towns from which they were transferred, caused the vote, Barr said.

The Texas and Pacific Railway has received no official notice of the vote, S. A. Somerville, vice-president of operations, said.

WOMAN'S BODY OFFERS MYSTERY IN OAKLAND

OAKLAND, March 27. (Exclusive) City and county officials faced a mystery today when the body of a woman, partly identified as Miss Rose Walker, 24 years of age, was recovered from the waters of the Oakland estuary. Miss Walker had been missing from her Oakland home since Monday, but examination of the body indicated she had been in the water only about four hours.

TROUT STREAM LURES HOOVER

President to Snatch Day's Fishing Next Week

To Test Recently Selected Virginia Preserve

Position on Southern Party Emphasized by Chief

WASHINGTON, March 27. (AP)—President Hoover is shaping his plans so that he can make his first visit to the recently selected trout-fishing grounds on the Rapidan River in the Virginia mountains of Madison county on Saturday, April 6. He will be accompanied by a small party of friends.

This probably will be the last opportunity for an absence from Washington for some time, as the new Congress will meet April 15 and the Chief Executive will remain in Washington almost continuously during the early stages of the session.

SOUTHERN AFFAIRS

The President gave further attention today to the patronage situation in the South, conferring at the executive offices with Oliver D. Street, National Committeeman for Alabama, and having as his luncheon guest at the White House C. Bascom Slemp, National Committeeman for Virginia.

Republican organizations of the South headed by these two men were given clean bills of health in the statement issued yesterday by Mr. Hoover in which he called for a housecleaning in the Republican organizations in South Carolina, Mississippi and Georgia.

The statement was made at the White House that the President personally dealt with the southern situation because the responsibility for the integrity of the public service rests solely with him. This was in reply to some suggestions that this matter should have been handled by the Republican National Committee instead of the Chief Executive.

MOVE WINS APPLAUSE

A large number of telegrams congratulating the President on his stand was received today at the White House.

The additional statement was made that party regularity would not be the sole test in appointments to the public service; that fitness for the job would come first and where investigation showed that

German General Has Setback as Court Sentences Him on Libel Charge

BERLIN, March 27. (AP)—Gen Erich Ludendorff, who has been spending his time fighting Freemasonry, Judaism and in the propagation of worship of the old German gods, has been sentenced by the Hamburg courts to a fine of 800 marks, or sixteen days' imprisonment, for libeling an army photographer.

The elderly general described the photographer as a "Frenchman" in an article entitled "Examples of the immortality of Freemasons."

those recommended by party leaders, including Senators and Representatives, failed to meet this test new recommendations would be called for.

BALL STARTS DAY

President Hoover had another busy day, which was started off as usual with medicine ball exercise within the White House grounds. Henry L. Stimson, who takes oath tomorrow as Secretary of State, was added to the medicine ball Cabinet by personal invitation of the Chief Executive, whose guest he is at the White House.

Chairman Winslow of the Railway Mediation Board was the first caller of the day. He was invited to the executive offices by the President, who asked him for a complete report on the activities of the board, including the number of wage cases now pending and the number that have been disposed of.

The President is taking a personal interest in the international conference to revise the treaty for safety of life at sea, which begins in London April 16.

Writing to Representative White of Maine, chairman of the American delegation, he said it was his desire "that the American delegation urge the international acceptance of the highest practicable standards in the various fields which affect the safety of lives of American citizens and of American vessels at sea."

"This is a matter of great importance to the shipping industry of this country," he continued, "and is a matter of even greater importance to American citizens who are engaging in ocean voyages in increasing numbers."

HYDE WILL GIVE FARM AID DATA

Secretary Willing to Appear Before House Committee

Leaders Hope He Brings Hoover's Plans

Others Voice Facts to Assist Program of Relief

WASHINGTON, March 27. (AP)—Secretary Hyde expressed a willingness today to appear before the House Agriculture Committee and lay before it any data in the possession of the Department of Agriculture.

His message resulted in an immediate invitation from the committee to appear at his convenience before April 3, at which time it expects to conclude its hearings. The Agriculture Secretary said he expected to be away from Washington until about April 1 on business.

The message was received at the end of the first day's hearing on the House side of the Capitol and renewed a hope on the part of some House members that a detailed administration plan might be laid before the committee.

The House committee at its opening session today received the views of the American Farm Bureau Federation. Chester A. Gray, the organization's legislative representative, urged that the new farm bill make the tariff more effective on farm products; that provision be made for control of crop surpluses, and that it avoid subsidizing the farmer.

In the Senate a half a dozen witnesses were heard. During the session Chairman McNary announced that he had added John D. Rockefeller, Jr., to the list of magnates who have been invited to appear before the committee. At the same time it also was announced that J. P. Morgan, who now is in Paris, and Paul M. Warburg, New York financier, will be unable to appear.

WOMAN'S PARTY BUYS NEW HEADQUARTERS

WASHINGTON, March 27. (Exclusive)—The National Woman's party announced today the purchase of the residence of Senator Dale as its new national headquarters to take the place of the historic "Old Brick Capitol," the present headquarters of the organization, which has been purchased by the government as the Supreme Court site. The party will take possession of its new headquarters early in May.

The property purchased is said to be the oldest house in Washington. It was built by Lord Baltimore for his daughter in 1772, twelve years before Washington was selected as the site for the national capital.

RADIO BUILDING SERVICE BANDS

United States May Yet Have Symphony Orchestra

Army, Navy, Marine Music Units in Great Demand

Broadcasts Have Stirred Up Interest of Nation

BY FREDERIC J. HASKIN

WASHINGTON, March 27. (Exclusive)—A national symphony orchestra, subsidized by the United States government—the long dream of music lovers of America—is being built up quite accidentally as a by-product of the radio. The government has long had the nucleus of such an organization in the form of its three great military bands: the Marine Band, the Navy Band, and the Army Band.

The radio produced a new set of circumstances. The fame of these musical organizations especially that of the Marine Band made them a feature attractive to the radio broadcasting companies. As a result, one or another of them is heard almost every day by millions of persons. The Navy Band and the Army Band, although notable organizations within their respective branches, were not so famous as the Marine Band before radio broadcasting became general but now have achieved an almost equal footing. Americans who never heard of either organization before now eagerly await their programs.

But the matter has gone still further. The Navy and the Army bands have been joined into the United Service Orchestra. The Marine Band has been invited to join the orchestra but so far has held aloof being loath to lend any of its prestige as the premier musical organization of the government. It is far older than either of the others.

MUSICIANS INTERESTED

What, in the eyes of music lovers of the country is more important, is that with this national audience every effort will be strained to improve these national performers. With the knowledge that a whole nation is listening in, leaders and men are interested in their art as never before. As a part of nearly every radio program there is a solo number and the enlisted musicians vie with one another for the honor of being announced to millions as a solo performer. Also composing by the men has been stimulated for if the work is good enough, the compositions of the bandsmen will be played.

There have been many proposals to have Congress foster music by establishing a national opera house, a national symphony concert, etc., but each has been turned down successively as not being a function of a democratic government. Insidiously, radio has brought about the ground work for a national musical structure which Congress has refused.

BANDS GO ON TOURS

Further, national interest in these bands has resulted in their going on tour and performing in important cities from whence their programs may be broadcast nationally as well as from Washington and at the same time giving persons in distant places opportunity actually to see the musicians playing in the brilliant uniforms of the Army, Navy, and Marine Corps. The fame which is now attaching to the organizations will make better and better musicians strive to become members and gradually the quality will be enhanced.

Perhaps the most interesting work the United Service Orchestra now is doing is in cementing the good will spread by President Hoover in his Pan-American tour by broadcasting programs to be heard in Central and South America.

USE AMERICAN COMPOSITIONS

There are many fascinating sidelights to the manner in which this is working. For example, many Central and South American performers go to Europe to complete their musical educations. Nearly always they travel by way of the United States. The Pan-American Union is advised of their presence in this country and they are invited to perform as soloists over the Pan-American radio hook-up, as a part of the United Service Orchestra program.

What might be termed a system of musical propaganda also is being prosecuted which will familiarize each nation with the music of the others. The Pan American Union has asked the Latin American republics to send to Washington scores of musical compositions composed by their citizens. The various governments are co-operating in this and also the most important bands and orchestras of the southern republics have forwarded scores of sheet music. As a result of this the Pan American Union already has some 8000 compositions in its library from which the United Service Orchestra makes selections for its broadcasts.

The United States government is sending the Army Band to represent American music at the Seville exposition being held at the ancient Spanish city this summer. It is understood that bands from various South American countries also will be there.

Epidemics Mid Immigrants Stir Federal Action

WASHINGTON, March 27. (Exclusive) — Surgeon-General Cumming today called a conference of public health officials for tomorrow to consider steps to be taken by the government in meeting the situation arising out of the arrival at San Francisco, Seattle and other Pacific Coast ports of vessels carrying Filipino steerage passengers suffering from pneumonia and meningitis.

According to a telegram to Senator Shortridge today from R. Stanley Dollar, San Francisco steamship operator, all passengers on boats where the sickness is found are being quarantined upon arrival with the result serious congestion is developing at American ports and at Victoria, B. C.

Senator Shortridge took the matter up with Surgeon-General Cumming.

HYDRAULIC MINING BILL REPORTED

Assembly Committee Gives Sanction to Measure to Revive Gold Placering

Members to Ponder Scheme Over Easter Recess

Details of Method Not Told But Pessimism Fades

SACRAMENTO, March 27. (AP)—The Seawell bill authorizing hydraulic mining in California was approved tonight by the Assembly Ways and Means Committee, 11 to 9.

A dramatic switch by Assemblyman Adams, Livingston, a staunch member of the "farm bloc," sent the bill to the Assembly floor.

The vote was 10 to 10, with Adams recorded as against the measure, when he suddenly announced he desired to change his vote to "aye."

The bill, by Assemblyman Seawell, Placer county, provides that the State and Federal governments buy storage space behind power company dams for storing debris washed down by the water.

It authorizes an appropriation of $200,000 for acquiring such property.

Farmers opposed the measure because they believed an expensive system of levees would be required to hold back the thousands of tons of mud and gravel which are dislodged by the hydraulic operations.

Backers of the bill said $600,000,000 of gold was available if anti-hydraulic legislation, on the statute books since 1894, was amended.

Another Story of Ape Woman Reaches Berlin

BERLIN, March 27. (AP)—A remarkable story of a native woman apparently reared among apes from childhood is told in the monthly report of the agent of the German concern of Kristeller, which has plantations in the Kameruns.

An elephant hunter saw a group of apes in some trees and shot one, the report said. He found to his astonishment that it was a negro woman completely nude, and without the customary tattoo marks.

The mystery was investigated by the authorities who concluded that the woman must have been brought up from childhood by apes and with the group as one of them."

Tarkington Will Re-enter Hospital

ATLANTIC CITY (N. J.) March 27. (AP)—Booth Tarkington, the author, who recently underwent an operation for his eyes at Johns-Hopkins Hospital, said tonight that he expected to re-enter the hospital in a few days for another slight operation on his eyes.

The author said he does not mind being blind because he can concentrate better. In fact, he said, he rather enjoyed the experience. He expects, however, to regain full use of his sight.

During the past year Mr. Tarkington has, he said, written a new novel, several short stories and essays.

Yuma Pioneer Sent to Jail

YUMA (Ariz.) March 27. (AP)—Felix Mayhew, Yuma county pioneer, today stood with bowed head in Superior Court as the judge sentenced him to pay a fine of $200 and spend thirty days in the County Jail. He had pleaded guilty to a charge of manufacturing intoxicating liquor. Mayhew was a much changed man from the dauntless appearing prospector who twenty-one years ago discovered the now famous North Star mine, which later sold for $350,000, netting Mayhew $175,000 of that sum. It was a gray-haired man in his seventies who was ushered to a cell in the Yuma County Jail.

Navy Dirigible Hunts Finucane

NEW YORK, March 27. (AP)—The navy dirigible Los Angeles joined tonight in the search for T. Raymond Finucane, wealthy Rochester, N. Y. sportsman, and three companions who disappeared while flying from Norfolk to New York last Friday.

Leaving its hangar with a crew of fifty men under command of Lieutenant-Commander Charles Rosendahl, the Los Angeles swung out over the coast to pursue a moonlight search for the missing plane throughout the night.

Uniform Dress Measure Voted

SACRAMENTO, March 27. (AP)—It took a call of the House to get Assemblyman Gilmore's uniform dress bill through the lower House today. It passed 40 to 30.

The measure provides that an employer requiring an employee to wear a certain uniform must stand the expense of the uniform unless the employee has been on the job more than six months and the cost of the outlay does not exceed the equivalent of the worker's wages for three days.

Governmental units and public-service corporations are exempt.

WAR PAYMENT SOLUTION NEAR

Reparations Delegates See Hope in New Plan

Details of Method Not Told But Pessimism Fades

PARIS, March 27. (AP)—Before members of the second Dawes Committee separate tomorrow for a week's holiday an important new step may be made toward settlement of the German reparations problem.

Actual figures will not be laid on the table, it is thought, but there is a strong hope that the general principles of the settlement will be approved, so that during Easter week the experts individually may consider the subject and compare figures when they meet again.

The next plenary session meets tomorrow morning and will adjourn, probably until April 3. The British delegates are leaving for home tomorrow afternoon.

J. P. Morgan will go away for Easter week on Saturday or Sunday, after the arrival of his daughter from New York.

Dr. Schacht, chief of the German delegation, and his family are spending their Easter holidays in France.

The general principles on which a settlement may be arrived at and which will be considered tomorrow are the result of real progress made in private conversations during the past few days. The pessimism which prevailed at the end of last week largely has disappeared and an atmosphere of hope surrounds the experts' deliberations.

RADIO STATION LEVY OPPOSED

Far Western Commissioner Fights Licensing

Says Cost Should be Paid by Government

Large Operators, However, in Favor of Fees

(Copyright, 1928, by North American Newspaper Alliance.)

WASHINGTON, March 27. (Exclusive)—Strong protest against any plan of levying the burden of proposed radio license fees upon broadcasting stations is voiced by H. A. LaFount, the far western member of the Federal Radio Commission. Mr. LaFount expressed his doubts whether any collection of revenue by the government from radio is desirable or necessary.

It costs the Federal government approximately 2 cents per listener per annum to regulate and supervise radio, according to Commissioner LaFount. He based this estimate upon the fact that about $800,000 is spent annually on the Federal Radio Commission and on the radio division of the Department of Commerce, and the general estimate of 40,000,000 persons in the radio audience.

The United States Senate has called upon the Federal Radio Commission to draw up a tentative schedule of license fees to be charged against stations to defray the expenses incurred by the government in radio administration, and possibly also to give the government a direct return from its "leases" of wave lengths to private interests.

WANTS EQUALIZATION

If license fees are to be imposed, Mr. LaFount would have them distributed equitably among various classes of radio stations. Why should broadcasters be charged more, he asks, when most of the time and attention of the Federal radio authorities is taken up with such matters as point-to-point, transoceanic, marine, aircraft, television, experimental and other radio services? Moreover, the radio commissioner indicates he is not favorably disposed toward taxing amateur radio operators, whose contributions to the development of radio have been recognized on all sides.

It would be possible to establish a graduated scale of taxes upon stations, dependent upon their size, power, wave length, etc., and it is apparent that this was in Senator Dill's mind when his resolution was passed during the recent Congress. Only nominal fees would be necessary if the 616 broadcasting stations were thus taxed in addition to the hundreds more that are in operation for radiotelegraph and other services, in order to repay the government what it expends on radio administration. Such a scale probably will be recommended to Congress, as directed by the Senate, for possible incorporation in later radio legislation.

LARGE STATIONS WELCOME

Speaking personally, Commissioner LaFount says that he believes broadcasting stations thoroughly are justifying their present non-taxed existence by virtue of the innumerable public welfare services they are rendering, aside from the sponsored entertainment programs from which they derive their sustaining revenues. A large tax upon broadcasting stations, he thinks, will inevitably be passed on to the people of the country in the form of curtailed services due to higher station operating expenses.

Among the broadcasters themselves little opposition to Federal license charges has been voiced since the subject first was broached at the recent Congressional committee hearings on radio. The smaller stations probably would object strenuously, especially if the fee were substantial. It is noteworthy that at the meeting of the National Association of Broadcasters in Chicago this week the sentiment was expressed that the large stations would welcome a scale of license fees, providing the government would help stabilize broadcasting by grants of one-year licenses. At present licenses are granted for only three-month periods by the Federal Radio Commission. This is required by the Radio Act.

EARLY-HOUR RAMBLER BORROWS STREET CAR

ST LOUIS, March 27. (AP)—Stuart Overlin, 20 years of age, decided to "take a street car home," early this morning.

Accordingly, he walked over to the public service company barns, boarded a deserted car, rang the bell and started westward, where he rooms.

He had rumbled along for about two miles when he was overtaken in an automobile by four patrolmen, who had been notified that a street car had been stolen. They stopped the car by pulling the trolley off the wire.

"I had a few bottles of home brew and I guess the stuff went to my head," Overlin explained when he was taken to a hospital for examination. "I got tired of waiting for an owl car, so I reckoned I'd just borrow a trolley car."

He was locked up on a tentative charge of "taking a motor vehicle without the owner's consent."

GEORGE EHRET, JR., DIES

NEW YORK March 27. (AP)—George Ehret, Jr., 58 years of age, son of the late millionaire brewer and art patron and heir to a part of the $25,000,000 estate of his father, who died two years ago, is dead here.

Supreme Court to Decide on I.C.C. Authority

Los Angeles Wants Federal Body to Order Depot

Railroads Say They Can't be Forced to Build

WASHINGTON, March 27. (AP)—The Supreme Court was asked today by the Interstate Commerce Commission to decide whether it has authority to compel railroads to construct union stations. The controversy arose out of protracted litigation incident to the effort of the city of Los Angeles to provide a new union passenger station.

When the California Railroad Commission ordered the Santa Fe, Southern Pacific and Los Angeles and Salt Lake Railroads to construct a new union station at Los Angeles the controversy was carried to the United States Supreme Court, which held that the Interstate Commerce Commission has exclusive jurisdiction over all trackage changes and that the State commission can not enforce its order without permission having been granted by the Federal commission to make the necessary changes of tracks.

The Federal commission readily granted the permission, but took the position that it has no authority to compel the railroads to construct the union station. Los Angeles and the State commission appealed to the courts of the District of Columbia asking that the commission be required to order the union station.

The trial court sustained the Federal commission but the Court of Appeals held that it has authority to require the carriers to construct the union station.

A Special Spring Offering of Used Cars Never Equalled For Quality, Condition, Variety and Dollar Value—Seven Days of Genuine Buying Opportunity

During the next seven days every Cadillac-La Salle dealer in the United States will participate in a National Used Car Week.

March 29th to April 6th is the time chosen for this special offering because Cadillac anticipates the biggest Spring new car business in its history.

For this reason Cadillac-La Salle dealers are eager to clear their decks for action and have made special preparations to that end.

All Used Car stocks have been conditioned with unusual care and will be offered under the most pleasing circumstances and on the most inviting terms.

Cadillac-La Salle dealers are in an especially advantageous position to make this an event of genuine importance to the Used Car buyer.

They are the type of men who can be relied upon for fair dealing. Their policy is to satisfy the buyer so that good will can be created.

The high quality of their new car business provides them with Used Cars that are exceptionally fresh and in remarkably good condition. They are good for thousands of continuously satisfying miles.

These cars are of various makes, in addition to Cadillacs and La Salles, and the dealers who offer them are in a position to make attractive prices because they are never obliged to make over-allowances for trade-ins in order to stimulate new car sales.

No one contemplating the purchase of a Used Car can afford to ignore the Cadillac-La Salle National Used Car Week. You may take advantage of the same banking service offered new car buyers, use the General Motors Deferred Payment Plan, and pay for a used car out of your monthly income. All showrooms will be open evenings during this period.

Verdadero Inglés para las Películas Habladas

NUEVA YORK, 27 de Marzo.—El idioma inglés se va a convertir en universal, al decir de Juan Maxwell, presidente de la Compañía Británica Internacional de Películas. De la misma opinión participa Colvin Brown, vicepresidente de la compañía Pathé. Ambos declararon lo anterior a su llegada aquí, ayer. Por supuesto que este inglés que se hable en las películas será "inglés inglés" y no "inglés americano", según opina Maxwell. En apoyo de su creencia citó el hecho de que existen numerosos actores de nacionalidad inglesa en Hollywood. Ya los ingleses han comenzado a criticar el idioma hablado en las últimas películas parlantes, y se presiente una serie de batallas entre el inglés de Nueva York y el de Londres.

Cualquier participación de norteamericanos en Méjico o mexicanos en esta república, en el movimiento rebelde es una violación de las leyes de neutralidad y el gobierno está alerta para prevenir cualquiera violación de tal suerte. Ha corrido el rumor de que un tal R. H. Polk está organizando una flotilla de aeroplanos en Chihuahua, con destino al ejército rebelde. La secretaría susodicha no tiene noticia oficial de ésto, ello no obstante empleados de la misma externaron su opinión de que el Polk y cualquier otro norteamericano que ejecute tales actos, deberá atenerse a las consecuencias lógicas.

Doctors Warn against undereating

Too little fat in the body makes us a prey to disease

EMINENT medical authorities are amazed and alarmed that so many girls and adults of both sexes are dieting themselves to a dangerous loss of weight.

A famous doctor says: "The most delicate parts of the body are always the ones to suffer first. A woman who is naturally sweet-tempered, good-natured, competent . . . becomes petulant, unreasonable, hard to get along with. A man who is thus starving himself becomes irritable and inefficient in the office and grouchy at home. . . . He begins to fall off in judgment and mental ability." This doctor goes on to show that nature stores up fat in the body as a reserve and that it is dangerous to destroy this reserve by dieting. Such an individual, he says, "becomes an easy prey for all manner of chronic ailments—kidney and liver diseases, and degeneration of the brain, spinal cord and nerves . . . typhoid fever, pneumonia, influenza and colds."

How much more intelligent it is to eat varied, nourishing foods, rather than eliminating the one ingredient that adds flavor and enjoyment to all other foods. Sweetness is the ideal flavor. What is so tasteful and refreshing as a salad of fresh grapefruit—sweetened with powdered sugar—and lettuce? Eat enough fruits and cereals. The best cooks are generous with sugar. INDIGNATION HIGH IN DRY RAID DEATH

Aurora Deputy Guarded in Hospital Pending Quiz on Fatal Occurence

AURORA (Ill.) March 27. (AP)—Friends of Joseph De King, whose wife was slain by dry raiders after he had been struck with a gun stock and received a fractured skull, demanded an investigation of Kane county prohibition enforcement methods today. A special grand jury and a special prosecutor will be petitioned, they said, if State's Attorney Carbary does not present the case before the grand jury.

The Coroner's inquest was continued until Roy Smith, who fired the shot that killed Mrs. Lillian De King, recovers sufficiently to testify.

In the meantime fearing violence against Smith, Deputy Sheriff Urch posted a guard over Smith's bed in the hospital. He is nursing a broken leg. He was shot by the 12-year-old son of Mrs. De King after she had been mortally wounded. Apprehension is felt over the possibility of an invasion of the hospital, so high has the indignation among Aurora citizens mounted.

State's Attorney Carbary said he will present the facts of his investigation before the grand jury without comment, and if Smith is indicted he will prosecute him.

"I took her to the hospital Sunday," he told Captain of Detectives Allen, "and she was to undergo the operation the next morning. When I called Monday she had disappeared."

Bond said a druggist near the hospital informed him Mrs. Bond had purchased a coca-cola and a magazine and said that she had got "cold feet."

TRIBUTE AT FOCH VAULT CONTINUES

Mourning Throngs File Past Last Resting Place; Many Veterans in Line

PARIS, March 27. (AP)—Mourning thousands continued today to file past the open vault under the altar of the chapel of St. Louis in the invalides to pay a last tribute to Marshal Ferdinand Foch. For the most part the lines were composed of the great commander's former soldiers, but when the file of these became thin, the public at large was admitted to the lines.

The widow, it is understood, will go to the country for a rest after she has recuperated from the long strain of the watch in the sickroom and the five days of funeral ceremonies. The government will allow her to retain the home which was placed at the marshal's disposal after the war and which is only a few steps from the crypt where he lies.

Provision is being made also for her financial welfare in the shape of a pension of approximately $4000 annually. Foch refused all gifts from the Allied nations after the war, lived simply on his French army pay and died a poor man. After Mme. Foch's death the pension is to be paid to her grandchildren until they attain their majorities.

She holds the world's altitude record for women, made with her Model A Hisso Travelair plane—"Miss Cycol."

On Sunday, March 17, Mrs. Thaden descended to Oakland airport after having been in the air 22 hours, 3 minutes and 12 seconds. Another record for women—this time for endurance!

In both of these flights, Mrs. Thaden used Associated Aviation Gasoline and Cycol Aero Oil. In both, she states—"my motor performed perfectly and Associated Sustained Quality products proved their superiority."

You too can enjoy the proven performance of Associated products. Drive your car in at any red, green and cream station and fill up with Associated Gasoline, Associated Ethyl Gasoline and Cycol motor oil.

Dear Mr. Brente:

You were right. Associated Aviation Gasoline and Cycol Aero Oil No. 4 performed in my endurance flight yesterday even better if possible than they did in my altitude hop last January.

I certainly needed "More miles to the gallon" and "Endurance beyond belief" - as you claim for those products - and I'm sure I never could have stayed up so long without them.

Thanks a lot for your interest in my flight and tell the men at the field that I certainly appreciated their courtesy and attention to the details in getting ready for the flight.

Sincerely,
(Signed) Louise M. Thaden

PREME COURT NDER BARRAGE

Justices Now Face Additional Charges

Must Stand Trial in State Senate Court

Opinion in Opinions of Specific Cases Cited

OKLAHOMA CITY, March 27. (AP) All of the nine justices of the Supreme Court, including the chief justice, tonight were under impeachment charges with the prospect of trial before the State Senate Court, after a day of voting in the House of Representatives. Articles of additional charges were voted against Chief Justice Mason, who already had been cited on one charge last night. All of eleven charges reported against Justice Clark were adopted by the House, and nine of the ten reported against Justice Riley were adopted. One article against Riley failed of adoption by a margin only thirty-three votes, with sixty opposed. Ten articles were reported against Riley before investigation committee.

SENATOR CENSURED

Hours aroused by publication last week of a letter by Senator Ed Rapp, charging attempted bribery in the impeachment trial of Henry S. Johnston, who resigned from the Governor's office, became a closed incident today when Rice was reprimanded before the Senate by Senator Hopkins, appointed for the task by other Senators. Rice was also shorn of his committee appointments.

Andrews told Rice that he had, without justification, set forces going against the reputation of the Senate and that his act was unpardonable.

RICE APOLOGIZES

"This is the highest price ever paid for any act in my life," Rice said, his face pale, after the reprimand. He repeated his declaration that he had meant to impute no wrongdoing to his colleagues, and again apologized to the Senate.

Several of the total of thirty-two charges against the three justices are overlapping. All three were charged with wrongful participation in the opinion which dispersed an attempted impeachment session of the Legislature in 1927, on the ground that they had a personal interest in the session and were disqualified. They likewise were charged with incompetency and willful neglect of duty and participating in "unethical, illegal, unlawful and terroristic acts of oppression."

Chief Justice Mason, in an article voted last Friday and readopted today, is charged with accepting unusually generous terms on a $4000 automobile as a bribe from an automobile dealer interested in litigation before the court.

Clark and Riley both were charged with wrongful participation in an opinion which was declared corruptly to have divested a widow of property of her deceased husband.

The greater part of the articles deal with specific instances of asserted corruption in court opinions.

RAILROAD WAR THREATENS

Western Pacific Granted Order Barring Espee Spur Across San Francisco Peninsula

SAN FRANCISCO, March 27. (AP)—With the granting of a temporary order to the Western Pacific Railroad Company in the Federal Court today, restraining the Southern Pacific Company from building additional spur tracks across the proposed route of the former on the San Francisco Peninsula, prospects of a railroad war, reminiscent of those of half a century ago, seemed imminent here.

The Western Pacific application for a permanent injunction against the rival road also asked the court to order the Southern Pacific to remove a mile of trackage laid across the right of way of the proposed Western Pacific road at San Mateo, last Sunday.

The construction of the spur was done, the Western Pacific declared in the complaint, "solely to harass the plaintiff in connection with the proposed line, application for which is pending the approval of the Interstate Commerce Commission." The complaining company also asserts the object of the spur is "to force" the plaintiff to be the "crossing railroad."

No industry or any other purpose is served by the recently constructed spur, the Western Pacific declared. They further asserted that the trackage was "poorly built, without ballast and simply to embarrass the plaintiff."

Judge Kerrigan set April 1 as the day for determining the issues.

The Western Pacific requested that the injunction be held in force until the Interstate Commerce Commission acts on the application for permission to construct a line down the peninsula to Redwood City.

VETERAN WINS SANITY FIGHT

Freedom Secured on Habeas Corpus Procedure

WASHINGTON, March 27. (AP)—An inmate for thirty-four years in the government hospital for the insane, William J. O'Brien, white-haired veteran of the Indian wars and the Geronimo campaign, is free today to begin a search for a wife and two children he has not seen for more than a quarter of a century.

The 68-year-old veteran was released yesterday by a jury in Circuit Court under habeas corpus proceedings after he had told coherently of his years of detention, many of which, he said, were spent in the "madhouse."

CHALLENGED OFFICER

While a young man O'Brien was serving in the Third Artillery at Key West, Fla., and became involved in a dispute with a lieutenant—now a brigadier-general in the Army. He challenged the officer to take off his shoulder straps and have his face slapped and for this breach was sent to a hospital instead of facing a court-martial. Later he was sent to the hospital here and a year afterward was dismissed from the Army. He then claimed that the government had no further juriadiction to hold him but he was not released.

In 1904, after years of detention, O'Brien was permitted to visit the War Department to see about some back pay he thought was due him, and while there he engaged in another altercation and threatened a shooting.

AGAIN COMMITTED

Again he was committed to the asylum and was detained continuously until the jury released him. Today, with only the quest for his wife and children around which to mould his remaining years, he is seeking entrance to another government institution—the Soldiers' Home.

Alienists told the jury that O'Brien was suffering from delusions of persecution by officers of the old Third Artillery and officials of the War Department.

FLUID OPENS NEW AIR PATHS

Ethylene Glycol Announced as Cooling Liquid Allowing Reduced Weight in Motors

WASHINGTON, March 27. (AP)—Ethylene glycol, common base for many antifreeze solutions, was announced today as the chemical developed by army engineers to replace water as an airplane engine-cooling fluid. Use of the chemical is foreseen as opening an unlimited field for future development of water-cooled engines.

The fluid which is clear, colorless and odorless, boils at 387 degrees Fahrenheit. It is the first and simplest of polyhydric alchols and its constituents can be obtained on the open market at reasonable prices.

TEST COVERS SIX YEARS

Although simple in its composition, the chemical was found to be the most satisfactory liquid for cooling airplane engines after six years of research by air corps engineers in the Wright Field laboratories near Dayton, O.

Use of the fluid, which is said to make possible a 75 per cent reduction of weight and air resistance offered by the present day water-filled radiator, is expected to solve a problem that has been perplexing aeronautical engineers since the Wright Brothers constructed their first plane.

The cumbersome, heavy radiator necessary for water-cooled engines can be cut to one-fourth its present size and weight by use of the chemical cooler. The result is an increase of speed, reported by army engineers to be eleven miles an hour on a standard pursuit plane, and a proportionate increase in payload.

OVERHEATING RARER

Because of its very high boiling point, 175 degrees above that of water, ethylene glycol, as a cooling fluid makes possible high speeds without overheating.

It is estimated that multi-engined planes used for transporting passengers on commercial airlines will be able to increase their speeds as much as 10 per cent and their payloads by several hundred pounds through use of the chemical fluid.

Only minor changes are required to make present water-cooled engines suitable for using the chemical fluid. Joints and packing glands must be made tighter and a closed cooling system used.

Fuel used in such engines will be treated with an extra amount of benzol of tetraethyl lead to offset any added tendency toward detonation.

Jones Thinks Law Dry Boon

BUFFALO, March 27. (AP)—United States Senator Jones of Washington here today expressed his belief that the law which bears his name and classes offenses against the Volstead Act as felonious will make prohibition a success without being made any more stringent.

"The real purpose of the law," he said, "is to catch those who commercialize the business, the professional bootleggers."

ASSEMBLY PASSES HIGHWAY MEASURE

SACRAMENTO, March 27. Dan Emmett of Santa Paula introduced the measure. Portions of the road are under construction by the counties through which it runs, Kern, San Luis Obispo, Santa Barbara and Ventura, and would not become a part of the State system until fully completed.

NATIONALISTS START DRIVE

Chiang Taking Command of Eastern Frontier

South China Leaders Called Traitors to Revolt

Three Accused Chiefs Ousted from Kuomintang

NANKING (China) March 27. (AP) The Nationalist government today began in earnest its military campaign against Kiangsi military leaders of the Kuomintang opposition party.

President Chiang Kai-Shek announced that he was proceeding immediately to Kiukiang to assume command of the Nationalist forces which are now deployed along the eastern frontier of Hupeh and the western frontier of Kiangsi.

The punitive mandate against the Kiangsi leaders and ordering a campaign against Wuhan cities was made public today. It branded the entire group of Wuhan and South China leaders as "traitors to China seeking to destroy the party and the government."

CLIQUE DENOUNCED

The mandate charged that these leaders were trying to nullify the revolution "by refusing to acknowledge the authority of the central government which had been the highest aim of the revolution," and ended by declaring that "despite efforts of the central government to avoid hostilities, the Kiangsi clique had refused to cease treacherous activities, therefore necessitating their subjugation, which the Nationalist government had decided to carry out."

Chiang Kai-shek tonight stirred the Kuomintang Congress, which is expected to close tomorrow, with a dramatic address in which he denounced the Kiangsi clique. He named Li Tsung-Jen, Pei Chung-Hsi and Li Chai-Sum as "arch enemies of Nationalist China and traitors to the party and the government."

Thereupon the congress resolved to expel the three generals from the Kuomintang. The delegates stood cheering Chiang Kai-Shek and shouting "down with the Kwangsi clique."

LI CHAI-SUM DETAINED

Detention of Li Chai-Sum was maintained, but reports of his execution were disproved.

Li Chai-Sum's arrest has caused a storm of resentment in South China. Many prominent leaders in the Nationalist government itself questioned the wisdom of the procedure in view of the fact that Li Chai-Sum came to Nanking on a guarantee of personal safety from five members of the Nationalist government.

This group is understood to condemn most severely Chiang Kai-Shek, who was held responsible for Li Chai-Sum's arrest. Well-established reports state that Chiang Kai-Shek planned to execute Li Chai-Sum, but refrained in the face of violent opposition from the guarantors of the latter's safety.

TROUBLE LAID TO REDS

Among the guarantors is Hu Han-Min, president of the Legislative Yuan, who is authoritatively reported to have informed Chiang Kai-Shek that in the event of Li Chai-Sum's execution he would commit suicide as it was impossible for him to face such "everlasting disgrace."

The congress today considered the Communist activities in China, declaring that this group was causing the party's internal troubles and adopted a program seeking their expulsion.

Information on the military situation is extremely scarce and the censorship continues.

Although numerous clashes have taken place in widely separated areas along the long front, a major engagement has not yet occurred.

BANK NOTES FALL AND BUSINESS STOPPED

CANTON, March 27. (AP)—Bank notes of the Nationalist government fell in value with a rush today and business in the city was paralysed.

Troop movements and anti-Nanking war preparations were in full blast.

Communist activities on a large scale were reported from the southern sections of the adjoining provinces of Hunan, Kiangsi and Fukien.

Duke of York in Church Post

LONDON, March 27. (AP) — The throne today, approved the appointment of the Duke of York, second son of King George, as Lord High Commissioner of the Church of Scotland in succession to Earl Stair.

This is the first time that this ancient office, dating from 1560, has been held by a member of the royal family. In 1924, when Ramsay MacDonald was head of the Labor government, the post was given to a working miner, James Brown, who was Laborite member of Parliament for South Ayrshire.

Son of Heflin Called Drinker

COLON, March 27. (Exclusive)—Protesting that his cabin mate J. T. Heflin, Jr., son of J. Thomas Heflin, United States Senator from Alabama, was drunk the entire voyage from New York, E. O. Leatherwood, Utah Congressman, requested the Panama Railroad Line to provide him with different accommodation on his return voyage on Sunday.

Heflin, Jr., who is 28 years of age, was admitted to the Samaritan Hospital upon his arrival here "suffering from acute indigestion."

Prince of Wales Gives Decoration

LONDON, March 27. (AP) — The Prince of Wales held his first investiture at St. James Palace today in behalf of King George, presenting decorations to a number of persons.

Tomorrow he will hold the second investiture.

ISLAND OFFICIALS IN BATTLE

Philippine Auditor's Effort to Bar Director of Posts from London Trip Fails on Boat

MANILA (P. I.) March 28 (Thursday.) (AP)—With Insular Auditor Ben F. Wright, who is sometimes called "the most hated man in the Philippines," as one of the contenders, a sensational battle between two high Philippine officials was staged aboard the around-the-world liner President Johnson today just before the vessel sailed.

The other contender was Jose Topacio, Director of Posts, who left to attend a postal convention at London. Wright endeavored to prevent Topacio's departure under a law providing that a bonded official must obtain a clearance from the auditor showing that the official has accounted for all the property entrusted to him.

Vice-Governor-General Gilmore ruled that since Topacio was going on official business a clearance was unnecessary. Wright, however, obtained a warrant from the Court of First Instance ordering Topacio's arrest and with a police sergeant and officers rushed to the vessel to serve it. Topacio was put off the ship by the captain.

Then the police sergeant decided to cancel the warrant because it did not bear the court's seal. Topacio rushed aboard over the steerage gangplank amid cheers of "Long live Topacio" from the Filipino crowd and threats against Auditor Wright.

Apparently, due to the threatening attitude of the crowd, Wright accompanied the ship to the breakwater and returned on the pilot boat. Wright said the case is not ended and he apparently intends to have Topacio removed at Singapore.

CHICAGO, March 27. (AP)—Nearly $3,000,000 was left to establish a home for elderly and indigent spinsters by Susan King Bruwaert, it was learned today when the inventory of her estate was filed for probate. The estate totaled $3,016,315.

Mrs. Bruwaert was the widow of Edmund Bruwaert, French counsel to several Latin-American countries.

MANN-ACT SUSPECT SEIZED AT SAN JOSE

SAN JOSE, March 27. (AP)—Said to have fled from Newark, N. J., last May with Mrs. Mary Sargant, 26 years of age, and her two children, John E. Tollis, 49, was arrested here today and is being held by Chief of Police Black at the request of the Department of Justice in San Francisco for possible Mann Act prosecution. The arrest was made by J. D. Blake, Glendale officer, and local police. Blake said Tollis was arrested in February at Glendale at the request of Newark (N. J.) police, but that delay in prosecution led to his release. When the husband, Samuel Sargant, Newark storekeeper, arrived at Glendale to press charges, the Glendale officer said, Tollis had disappeared.

PEACE ERA VIEWED BY HOUGHTON

Ambassador in Farewell Speech to British Tells of Growing Friendship

LONDON, March 27. (AP)—United States Ambassador Alanson B. Houghton, speaking tonight at a farewell dinner given him by the Pilgrim Society, reviewed the world trend toward peace and said he sees only friendship between Britain and the United States.

World events in recent years were described by him as a steady advance toward moredurable peace.

"Within the comparatively brief span of my own stay in Europe," said the Ambassador, "I have seen several momentous steps taken on the road to world understanding, culminating on the signing of the Briand-Kellogg pact."

Turning more particularly to Anglo-American relations, he said he is conscious that these are days of open diplomacy. "We are all diplomats, and we are all interested, and a common language has served to make discussion between us easy and general," he continued. "I think this discussion is of the highest value. Washing linen in public may not be an edifying spectacle, but at least it has the merit of leaving nothing hidden to be washed later, perhaps in blood."

Chicago Gunmen Wound Gangster

CHICAGO, March 27. (AP)—The South Side beer war flared again tonight, and James (Mushy) McCormick fell with a shotgun charge in his back and right arm. The wounded man was spirited away after the shooting.

McCormick, who figured in last fall's sensational shooting affray in the crowded Granada Cafe, was riding in a sedan in company with a man believed to be Michael Quinlan, reputed bootlegger. They were passing Fifty-sixth and Halsted streets when the occupants of another car opened fire and sped away.

DINNER PARTY BANDIT GUILTY OF MURDER

WEST PALM BEACH (Fla.) March 27. (AP)—A Palm Beach circuit court jury found T. Southworth, dinner party bandit, guilty in the first degree of the murder of Harry M. Wells, wealthy Southampton (L. I.) automobile dealer. The verdict did not recommend mercy, making the death penalty mandatory.

STATE FAVORS HELP FOR AGED

Assembly Committee Vises Fund of Million

Employees' and Dependents' Pensions Provided

Motor Vehicle Division May Have Own Building

SACRAMENTO, March 27. (AP)—Appropriations for the aid of California's aged dependents accounted for more than two-thirds of the $1,560,462 called for in sixteen bills which found their way past the Assembly Committee on Ways and Means tonight.

Heading these in size was the bill introduced by Assemblymen Bernard et al and sponsored by the State Civil Service Commission, which would legislate into existence an old-age pension plan for State employees. Originally calling for an appropriation of $1,466,295, the bill was amended to go into effect July 1, 1930, instead of September 1, 1929, and to carry an appropriation of $776,900.

Under the bill State employees will "buy" equities in retirement pensions, which will be computed on a basis of half of retirement salary for those having served thirty-five years. Minimum retirement age was fixed at 55, with retirement compulsory at 70.

Next in order of size was another old-age pension bill introduced by Assemblyman Wright of San Jose, appropriating $370,000 for the aid of dependents past 70 who have lived for more than twenty years in California.

Other measures to pass the committee were one sponsored by Assemblyman Leymel of Fresno, creating the California Fourth Appellate District, with court at Fresno; a bill introduced by Assemblyman Nielsen of Sacramento, calling for the appropriation of $80,000 from the transfer and operators' fund to the State Treasury for the purpose of constructing a building to house the Division of Motor Vehicles, and eleven measures calling for formal appropriations to make refunds, meet deficits and reauthorize expenditures.

Jealous Woman Serves Justice

DETROIT, March 27. (AP)—Because of a woman's jealousy a narcotic ring operating in Detroit and New York, which is said to have yielded a net profit to its leaders of $1000 a day over an eight-year period, was believed wrecked today with sentencing of four persons in Federal Court.

Harry Reiter, 34 years of age, leader of the group, was sentenced to ten years in the Federal penitentiary at Leavenworth, the first year to be spent in solitary confinement. With him were sentenced Edna King, with whom he lived in a luxurious apartment here; Reiter's lieutenant, Moe Raskin, and Raskin's wife, Irene.

Miss King tipped off Federal agents to the activities of the ring because of attentions Reiter paid other women.

DARROW MEETS HIS WATERLOO

Bitterest Attack of Career Heaped on Head

Fight on Proposed Bill to Curb Crime Stirs Row

Accused of Taking Stolen Bond as Law Fee

SPRINGFIELD (Ill.) March 27. (Exclusive)—Clarence S. Darrow, veteran of the Scopes trial, the Leopold-Loeb case and a score of other noted court battles, brought down on his head here today the bitterest attack directed upon him since he attained prominence.

Admittedly losing his temper because of the way Darrow treated him, State Senator Roy C. Woods interrupted Darrow's bitter arraignment of the courts with a question. It started a controversy that wound up by Woods telling Darrow that as an assistant State's Attorney he was the man who brought Darrow to the Criminal Courts Building at 3 o'clock one morning and forced the surrender of a stolen bond that, he said, Darrow had received from a thief in lieu of legal fee.

JUDGE DENOUNCES HIM

On top of this Judge Harry M. Fisher, of the Circuit Court of Cook county, scathingly denounced Darrow for the nature of the latter's opposition to the bills for court reform in criminal cases that are sponsored by the judicial advisory council of Cook county and the Chicago Bar Association. The judge implied plainly that Darrow had been brought here by union labor leaders who are fighting the bills.

It was to assail these measures that the veteran defender came to Springfield today. They had been set for joint hearing before the judiciary committees of the Senate and House primarily to hear from the sponsors. Judge Fisher, Judge Denis E. Sullivan of the Supreme Court, former State's Attorney John J. Healy and Amos C. Miller, former president of the Chicago Bar Association, had spoken from the secretaries' desk below the rostrum before Darrow was called upon.

ASSAULT TYPICAL

His assault was typical. He asserted that the reform program was the offspring of the special interests. He pleaded for the poor. He said that he distrusted all courts.

Then he reached the point that started Woods's outburst. He said that the courts would not allow sufficient time for the trial of ordinary cases because they had to hurry into the hearing of "$30,000,000 cases."

"But the courts allowed you enough time in the Franks boy case, didn't they?" asked Woods.

"The other fellow took all that," answered Darrow.

"But," persisted Woods, "they allowed you over thirty days, didn't they, to present a case on a plea of guilty?"

"You don't know anything about it," said Darrow, with what Woods took for a sneer.

TELLS WHAT HE KNOWS

"Oh, yes I do," retorted Woods. "I was in the next courtroom below you trying a case and I did know what was going on."

"You don't act as though you did."

"But you know me, don't you?" said Woods angrily. "I was the assistant State's Attorney who made you come down to the Criminal Courts Building at 3 o'clock one morning and I made you surrender a stolen bond that had been cashed to your partner's account."

Later Woods talked with newspaper men about the case he mentioned, saying that it occurred five or six years ago. He recited the details of the tracing of the bond in question with others that had been stolen and a final confession from the thief. But he said he preferred to save his complete allegations for a statement that he intends to demand be placed in the record of the Senate.

CONGRESSMAN'S LIQUOR MAKES CUSTOMS 'BLIND'

NEW YORK, March 27. (AP)—The Evening World said today it has learned from reliable sources that one member of a Congressional committee of fifteen arriving from Panama Monday admitted carrying liquor into the port with him and was allowed free entry.

The Panama Railroad Steamship Company's liner Cristobal brought back the Congressional party which has been studying Isthmian affairs. Out of the courtesy to them their baggage was under orders to be expedited and was entitled to free entry.

Through some error, however, the name of the Congressman was not included on the free list and he was asked the usual perfunctory question by a customs inspector whether he had any liquor in his baggage. The Congressman confessed he had four bottles.

Later, however, the chief inspector on the pier discovered that his name should have been on the free entry list and his baggage immediately was closed and he was allowed to proceed, presumably with his four bottles.

Duffy Theater in Portland to Close April 6

PORTLAND, March 27. (AP)—Henry Duffy, operator of a chain of stock-company theaters, announced here today that his Portland house, the Dufwin, will close April 6, next, marking the complete and definite retirement of the organization from the Pacific Northwest. During the past three years Duffy acquired, developed and operated stock theaters in Vancouver, B. C., Seattle and Portland. The theaters in the northern cities were closed some time ago.

Union labor conditions in the Northwest, in so far as they affect theater operation, were given by Duffy as the reason for his retirement from the field.

TARIFF RISE ASKED

Ex-Ambassador Gerard Seeks Duty Increase on Manganese Ore

WASHINGTON, March 27. (AP)—James W. Gerard, former Ambassador to Germany, has filed a petition with the House Ways and Means Committee asking for an increase of from one to one and one-half cents a pound in the tariff on manganese ore.

In a letter to Chairman Hawley of the committee, the former ambassador said the increased tariff would bring about a production of approximately 400,000 tons of manganese ore a year. About half of the domestic requirements. He added that the increase would raise the price in the cost of steel only eight cents a ton.

Mr. Gerard said he was interested in a company which proposes to establish the industry in Virginia.

KING GEORGE MEETS TWO NEW PRELATES

BOGNOR (Eng.) March 27. (AP)—For the first time since the beginning of his illness in November King George today performed an official ceremony at Craigwell House, where he is recuperating. The occasion was a reception to the new archbishops of Canterbury and York, who came to do homage to their sovereign and kiss his hand on their appointments.

CHICAGO BEGINS CELLAR SEARCH

Garages Visited Likewise in Hunt for Liquor

CHICAGO, March 27. (Exclusive) Approximately 1400 policemen are spending part of their time searching basements and private garages for evidences of prohibition law violations.

It is planned to search every basement and garage in the city. The hunt for stills, breweries and wine-making devices was ordered by Police Commissioner Russell, following the massacre of seven Moran gangsters in a North Side garage on February 14.

The policemen return written reports daily on their investigations. The search is not confined to the "pineapple" belt or other less wealthy areas, but is going on throughout all of Chicago's 210 square miles of territory.

Indignant householders are complaining to the newspapers.

LONG SKIRTS ON EASTER VOWED IN SICILIAN TOWN

[Copyright, 1929, by the Chicago Tribune.]

ROME, March 27. (Exclusive)—All the women of the diocese of Noto, a Sicilian town of 30,000 near Syracuse, today made a written promise to their bishop, Mgr. Joseph Vizzini, that they will wear Easter frocks with the skirts lengthened to a distance of the width of the palm of their hand from the ground.

They announced that they are taking this step as a means of cooperating with the bishop in his war against immodest dress.

The women of Noto also assured the bishop that they will constitute themselves as a watch to prevent, as far as possible, any of their sister Eves who may be incorrectly dressed from entering the churches Easter.

The decision of the women means that their skirts will be lengthened from somewhere around the knees to four inches from the ground. They further said that their move is to start a definite fashion in Italy, replacing short skirts with longer ones and to see that "Christian ladies repudiate the license of pagan immodestly in dress, and re-cultivate Christian decency."

SPURIOUS HEIR TO GET MILLION

Myron Boyer Widow Will Provide for "Son"

DETROIT, March 27. (Exclusive) Estimating her share of the estate of her late husband, Myron L. Boyer, son of Joseph Boyer, chairman of the board of directors of the Burroughs Adding Machine Company, as close to $1,000,000, Mrs. Laura M. Boyer today announced she will spend it for the benefit of Joseph, 5-year-old boy who was scorned and disowned by Boyer when he learned the child was an adopted waif whose mother was a servant in a Windsor, Ont., home.

Had not Mrs. Boyer's deception been discovered and the real mother found and confessed her part in the scheme, the boy would have benefited by a $6,500,000 trust fund established by Joseph Boyer.

Because she could not have a baby of her own, Mrs. Boyer bought one and pretended to Boyer that it was hers. Boyer and his wife separated. Through the courts he had fake birth certificates expunged from State records.

WHAT THEY MEAN IN TRUCK OPERATION

When you apply the word "modern" to a truck you're actually discussing something that started with the first use of Pontiac and Buick engines in commercial vehicles.

They did three big things in advancing Better Delivery (better truck transportation):

1 Their flexible speed cut down distances and time—increased work-capacity per day

2 Their smooth power definitely lengthened the standard of service-life per truck

3 Their modern efficiencies lowered both maintenance and operating costs (repairs, gas, tires, oil, etc.)

These results are available, these modern trucks are available in every range of Light-, Medium-, and Heavier-duty haulage.

And where giant power is needed for extreme heavy duty there is the BIG BRUTE-powered series—with equal efficiencies for that field.

Three safeguards work for every General Motors Truck buyer; 1) STRAIGHT RATING; 2) EXTRA VALUE instead of "EXCESS ALLOWANCES"; 3) A real WORK TEST.

It will pay any man, now, to see these trucks—to investigate these modern developments in truck buying.

CASTAIC PRISON SITE PROPOSED

Meek in Recommendation to Governor

Flood Control Feasibility Must Be Shown

Rochester Measure Awaits Committee Action

SACRAMENTO, March 27. (AP)—A site at Castaic, near Saugus, was recommended today to Gov. Young by B. B. Meek, State Director of Public Works, for the proposed Southern California State prison. Meek's recommendation carried the reservation that the feasibility of unquestionable control of flood water be first demonstrated.

Legislative authorization for construction of the prison is asked by Senator Rochester of Los Angeles. Rochester has contended that more than half of California's prison population comes from the south, although both institutions are in the north. The resultant savings in transportation and expenses, Rochester estimates, would justify the structure.

In nature, the institution is conceived to fit between reformatories and prisons, caring chiefly for first offenders, Rochester said. Provisions for a prison farm aimed to make the institution self-supporting are carried in the measure.

The bill has not emerged from the Senate Committee on Prisons and Reformatories.

'Trade at Home' Bill Advanced

SACRAMENTO, March 27. (AP)—Senator Hurley's State "trade at home" bill, providing a 5 per cent preferential on public contracts for California corporations was passed by the Senate today.

Construction materials and manufactured articles produced or manufactured in California will be given preference over other materials shipped into the State, though the bids of outside concerns might be lower by 5 per cent than that of California concerns.

Hurley pointed out that nearly every State neighboring California has such a law and declared that in many States the cost of production is lower than in this State.

Cities, counties and the State are permitted by provisions of the bill to encourage and support California industries in letting bids for public work.

Division of Proceeds With Riverside Proposed

Pending Measure Authorizes Regents to Sell

SACRAMENTO, March 27. (Exclusive)—A proposal whereby Riverside county will get $125,000 for its agricultural experimental station and the new University of California at Los Angeles will get $150,000 for the buildings and equipment of a subtropical horticultural plant, the money to come from the sale of the site of the university on Vermont avenue, is under consideration by the Southern California delegation today.

The bill of Senator Duval of Ventura, whereby the university Regents are granted authority to sell the Vermont-avenue site, now is on third reading file in the Assembly, having been enacted by the Senate, and is ready for final passage. Last night, however, at the weekly dinner of the Los Angeles county delegation, which now has grown to include most of the southern counties legislators, Senator Duval plumbed the sentiment of amending his bill so as to include the other appropriations.

SUGGESTION POPULAR

His suggestion met with hearty accord and a committee was appointed to investigate and report next Tuesday. The committee is composed of Assemblyman Sewell of Whittier, Senator Weller of Glendale, Assemblyman Keaton of Long Beach and Senator Edwards of Orange.

Several weeks ago Riverside county sent a committee to wait on Gov. Young, asking him to grant the Riverside Agricultural Experiment Station $150,000 for new buildings. This Gov. Young refused to do, allowing the station but $25,000 for an insectary. It is now planned by the Los Angeles legislators, if feasible, to offer Riverside the additional $125,000 from the money to be derived from the sale of the Vermont-avenue site.

"Riverside county is extremely anxious to obtain these new buildings," said Senator Edwards, who represents both Orange and Riverside counties, "and will be disappointed if no action is taken on the matter. I believe it is a move toward the consolidation of Southern California if Los Angeles county diverts this sum to Riverside county."

Senator Duval's bill quitclaims the right and title of the State in the Vermont-avenue site to the Board of University Regents, this being necessary as there is a reversionary clause transmitting the land and buildings to the State in the event the site is abandoned for school purposes. The aim of the Regents is to sell the property and apply the money derived therefrom to the upbuilding of the new plant at Westwood.

The bill provides that all money coming from the sale must be utilized in Los Angeles county and it is this feature that is proposed to be amended. The appraisal value of the land and buildings is $2,785,000 and the land alone, $1,813,000.

Senator Duval also has a bill appropriating $130,000 for the subtropical building at Westwood. In the event the site-sale bill is amended to provide for this building, the other bill will be dropped.

Golden Gate Bridge Passes

SACRAMENTO, March 27. (AP)—The California Legislature completed action today validating formation of the Golden Gate bridge and highway district and clearing away the last barrier in the way of construction of a bridge between Marin and San Francisco counties across the Golden Gate.

The Senate passed unanimously a bill by Assemblymen Reindollar, Scudder, Luttrell, McGuiness and Williamson that already has been enacted by the lower house.

The bridge proposed to be built, it is estimated, will cost approximately $40,000,000.

Bay City Bond Issue Favored

SACRAMENTO, March 27. (AP)—Legislation providing a $10,000,000 State bond issue for the improvement and extension of San Francisco Harbor was sent to the floor of the Senate today with a recommendation that it be enacted.

The measure, introduced by Senators Maloney, Inman and Boggs, met with no opposition in the Commerce and Navigation Committee, and was approved for passage by a unanimous vote. Provision for a refrigerator and precooling terminal was removed from the bill by committee amendment.

Senate Favors Allowance Rise

SACRAMENTO, March 27. (AP)—A constitutional amendment to propose to the people a measure increasing the expense allowance of both Houses of the Legislature was passed by the Senate today by a vote of 28 to 9.

The measure again would provide $500 daily for expenses of either House during legislative sessions. Two years ago Legislature reduced the expense allowance to $300 daily.

BAY CITY GIVEN MUNICIPAL COURT

SACRAMENTO, March 27. (AP)—Legislation enabling the establishment of municipal courts in San Francisco with twelve judges on the bench was finally enacted by the upper House of the Legislature today at the instigation of Senator McKinley. An amendment to the San Francisco charter must be passed before the Municipal Court system can be adopted.

DOUBLE-TICKET BAN PREVENTED

Assembly Defeats Change in State Primary Law

Candidates Still May Run Under Two Banners

Southern Californians Vote in Favor of Proposal

SACRAMENTO, March 27. (Exclusive)—The Assembly today indicated clearly that it is not inclined to differentiate too sharply in partisan politics by voting down, 47 to 27, the bill introduced by Assemblyman Stockwell of Los Angeles which would have prevented a candidate running on any ticket other than the party with which he is affiliated.

The twenty-seven votes given the bill represent almost entirely the Southern California delegation, which announced its belief a Republican should confine himself to the Republican column and a Democrat the same.

The bill, which provided that a candidate must confine himself to the party with which he is affiliated at least thirty-five days prior to the date of filing, was sponsored by Assemblyman Scudder of Sebastopol in company with Mr. Stockwell.

It is a common practice for politicians under the direct primary law, to gobble up both Republican and Democratic nominations, thus destroying the effect of partisan government. It is this inconsistency that Messrs. Stockwell and Scudder sought to correct but their pleas fell on deaf ears.

The Los Angeles delegation, which has had experience in such things, voted solidly for the bill with the exception of Miss Miller of Pasadena. The only other Southern Californians who went against the bill were Assemblymen Brock and Jones of San Bernardino, Craig of Orange and Eddy of San Diego.

Dam Inspection Bill Approved

SACRAMENTO, March 27. (AP)—State regulation and supervision of dams in California is provided in a bill by Senator Mueller of El Cajon that was recommended for passage today by the Governmental Efficiency Committee of the Senate.

Periodical inspection is provided by Mueller's bill excepting Federal dams. Efforts of T. P. Witchen, attorney for the East Bay Municipal Utilities District in Oakland, to have dams owned by cities or districts that are located on Federal land excepted from provisions of the act failed. Members of the committee pointed out that the St. Francis Dam, one of the type of projects that the State desires to supervise, would have been excepted under the proviso.

FIXTURE SALES SHOW INCREASE

Weber Showcase Reports Gain of 15 Per Cent

Demand for Soda Fountains Running Higher

Chain Stores Purchasing in Large Volume

Weber Showcase and Fixture Company yesterday announced that total sales to date this year were 15 per cent greater than for the same period last year. A. S. Boesmiller, vice-president of the company stated that the present outlook indicates this increase will be continued or exceeded throughout the year.

A new line of soda fountains will be placed on the market by May 1, next, and sales from this source are expected to add substantially to the gross volume of business, according to Mr. Boesmiller. The company has just completed the installation of new machinery necessary for the manufacture of the fountains, which will be covered in Bakelite and the metal parts chromium plated.

The company recently shipped three fountains to Calcutta, India, and the factory representative who installed them returned with the report that the natives of India were rapidly taking to the American drinks. Export shipments of recent date also includes showcases, refrigerator cases and soda fountains to the Philippines, China, Chile, Venezuela and New Zealand, Mr. Boesmiller said.

Since January 1, last, the company has supplied fixtures for twelve J. C. Penney stores in the Western States; for Sears, Roebuck & Co. stores in Portland, Houston, Salt Lake and Tacoma; for J. J. Newberry stores in Long Beach, Ontario and Ventura, and for Desmond's Wilshire store in Los Angeles. A $135,000 contract was obtained for the H. C. Chapwell department store in Oakland, and the company supplied the fixtures for the City Hall of Phoenix, Ariz.

The glass-grinder department of the company is steadily increasing its volume of sales, a $30,000 order having just been shipped to London. The grinders, the invention of Karl Weber, are being used by the leading automobile and body manufacturers. The Ford Motor Company has purchased forty grinders, and the Fisher Body Corporation about the same number, according to Mr. Boesmiller, who said the number of grinders, which are priced at $15,000 and $7500, sold to date is 230.

North American Shows Increase in Utility Profit

Consolidated net income of the North American Company and subsidiaries for 1928 reached a total of $34,402,753 after all charges including Federal income taxes, which is equivalent, after payment of $1,820,032 in preferred dividends, to $4.68 a share on the average amount of common stock outstanding during the year, the company reported yesterday. This compares with $4.06 a share in 1927 on the average then outstanding, the amount available for common stock dividends and surplus having advanced 29.53 per cent over 1927.

Gross earnings for the year increased 10.98 per cent to a total of $135,551,899 and through a decrease in operating expenses the net operating income showed an increase of 13.26 per cent and amounted to $64,309,252. Increased efficiency and favorable operating conditions made this gain possible, the report stated.

On December 31, last, reserves amounted to $108,353,508, an increase of $25,000,000. Undivided profits were increased $23,000,000 to $74,874,413 which, with capital surplus brings the surplus account to a total of $93,733,730. Dividends on common stock, were paid in common stock at the quarterly rate of 2½ per cent, a policy inaugurated six years ago. From April 1, 1923 to December 31, 1928, common stock issued has been increased 122.19 per cent while earnings available for common stock dividends have increased 294.20 per cent.

Details are being arranged while Dr. Watkins is on a tour of major stock exchanges in the United States and Europe.

In addition to its courses of instruction, the institute will operate several other departments yet to be announced. The first consists of a personnel or employment bureau which has just been opened for use of member-houses of the Los Angeles Stock Exchange. Trained brokerage help is available to members upon call, and untrained prospective clerks will be given assistance. This department is being operated by Elsa Jaehne, assistant to Dr. Watkins.

STOCK MART GIVES ANSWER

Ability to Come Back Reflects Healthy Basic Condition; Criticism of Bank Policy Appears

BY EARLE E. CROWE

After taking such a severe drubbing on Monday and Tuesday the recuperative powers displayed by the stock market yesterday must perplex the people who have been inveighing against inflationary prices, unsound credit conditions, and hysterical trading by the general public. For a sick man the market certainly put on an ambitious performance in the face of adverse conditions.

In the first two days of the week, however, a considerable amount of punishment was taken, and subsequent events may prove that the recovery was a little too vigorous under the circumstances. Nevertheless, a significant thought has been put over. The foundation under this bull market has been subjected to a test that few markets in history could have successfully withstood, and it has come through with flying colors so far.

MITCHELL'S STATEMENT

Two developments assisted in yesterday's rebound. The statement issued by Charles E. Mitchell, president of the National City Bank of New York relative to supplying money to the call market undoubtedly stimulated bullish operations, and the tentative program discussed at the initial meeting of the American Petroleum Institute directors also encouraged a renewal of buying activities.

Mr. Mitchell's statement inferentially seemed to criticise the Federal Reserve policy as responsible for the prohibitive rates to which call money has ascended. He stated that so far as his "institution is concerned we feel that we have an obligation which is paramount to any Federal Reserve warning or anything else to avert so far as lies within our power any dangerous crisis in the market. While we are adverse to resorting to rediscounting for the purpose of making a profit in the call market we certainly would not stand by and see a situation arise where money became impossible to secure at any price."

It was further reported that other New York banks were of the same mind, and were supplying large sums to alleviate the present stringency.

If the Mitchell statement is to be construed as hostile to the Federal Reserve policy of discouraging speculation by means of raising the cost of borrowed money, the chances are that dissension in banking quarters may spread to the point where a new policy of "hands off" will come about.

PROBLEM PUZZLES

Nobody will deny that speculation in the stock market has gone too far, but the difficulty is in hitting on the right corrective. Like the question of farm relief, the wise solution probably will be found in a decision to let the laws of economics work their will without any tinkering from well-meaning, but ill-advised, mechanics.

From the reports coming from the petroleum meeting in New York it appears that the spirit of co-operation is animating all of the representatives present, and that something tangible will come from the conference. The proposed program to reduce production to the average daily output of last year seems to have universal approval, and it is also significant that Sir Henri Deterding of the Royal Dutch-Shell has pledged co-operation abroad.

Much of the credit for the progress so far made is due to the untiring efforts of E. B. Reeser, president of the Barnsdall Corporation, who both before and since his election as president of the American Petroleum Institute has been untiring in his efforts to work out a conservation program.

New Financing Offered Today

New financing offered investors today includes a new issue of $30,000,000 International Hydro-Electric system convertible 6 per cent gold debentures which are priced at 100 and interest. It also was reported yesterday that the Pacific Finance Corporation shortly will announce some new financing.

The International Hydro-Electric debentures are being marketed by a banking group composed of the Chase Securities Corporation, Bankers Trust Company of New York; Harris Trust and Savings Bank; Lee, Higginson & Co.; Blair & Co.; Halsey, Stuart & Co., Inc.; E. H. Rollins & Sons and Redmond & Co. The hydro-electric concern will own directly over 82 per cent of the outstanding common stock of New England Power Association and the entire common and second preferred stocks of Canadian Hydro-Electric Corporation, Ltd.

OIL EARNINGS INCREASED

NEW YORK, March 27. (Exclusive)—Venezuelan Petroleum Company today reported profits of $153,734 for 1928 after depreciation, depletion and Federal tax, equal to 7 cents on 2,000,000 shares, as against $108,625 or 5 cents a share on the same number of shares in 1927.

STOCK MARKETS TO TAKE RECESS

Leading stock exchanges throughout the nation will close Good Friday and will remain closed Saturday of this week.

The action to close Saturday was taken by the New York Stock Exchange to allow brokers to catch up on the unprecedented volume of business. Other exchanges, including Los Angeles, San Francisco, and Chicago fell into line.

Rights Offer of Signal Oil Royalties Due

Offering of subscription rights to shareholders of the Signal Oil and Gas Company to purchase stock of the newly formed Signal Royalties Company was indicated yesterday with the announcement by the Corporation Commission that it has permitted the royalty company to issue 78,510 shares of no par value capital stock out of a total authorized issue of 100,000 shares.

Officials of the company stated that it has not yet been determined what privileges would be awarded Signal Oil stockholders and nothing was said of the price at which the stock would be issued. It is understood, however, that holders of ten shares of Class A or B stock of Signal Oil will be permitted to purchase one share of the new company.

The commission's report states that Signal Oil and Gas Company will purchase the voting stock of the new company at the same price nonvoting stock is offered to stockholders. Approximately $100,000 is reported to have been invested by the original company in royalties during the last few months. The company owns royalties at Santa Fe Springs Round Mountain, Maricopa and Long Beach.

Plan Afoot for New Far Flung Phone System

NEW YORK, March 27. (Exclusive)—An international telephone system is in the process of being launched by Swedish interests under the direction of Ivar Kreuger, match manufacturer and financier, current reports state.

Consummation of the plan will mean almost direct competition between the new company and the rapidly expanding International Telephone and Telegraph Company. Intense rivalry for telephone properties in various parts of the world might well result from such a clash.

The International has extensive properties in South America countries, Mexico and Spain and through its own company the International Standard Electric Corporation operates a chain of subsidiaries in Hungary, France, Japan and other countries.

The report has its foundation in the belief that Kreuger, through his firm of Kreuger and Toll, has acquired a large interest in the L. W. Ericsson Telephone Company, a well established manufacturing firm in Sweden.

Under such a combination it is assumed that Kreuger would follow the same methods used in the various match monopoly transactions.

Maddux Lines Traffic Gains

Maddux Air Lines Company yesterday reported that revenues from passenger traffic for March, as estimated by the concern's traffic department, will show an increase of 33 per cent or more over February, which showed a 20 per cent increase over January. The increased revenues represent actual growth in patronage over the established lines, as no service extensions were made during March.

The new Grand Central Airport and lower tariff rates stimulated passenger traffic, according to the Maddux officials, who anticipate increased public demand for air transportation with the coming of more favorable weather. The company will begin express nonstop service to and from San Francisco on April 1, leaving each city at 2:30 p.m. This will be in addition to the present service by way of Bakersfield and Fresno.

Banks, Huntley Men Promoted

All officers of Banks, Huntley & Co., investment house, were re-elected at the annual meeting held yesterday and a number of department managers who have been with the concern for a number of years, were advanced to vice-presidents. Among the latter were Willis H. Durst, former sales manager of the bond department; Frank Gardner, manager of the stock department; B. B. Robinson, syndicate manager; and B. P. Lester, formerly a partner with Knight, Stetson & Lester.

The company reported a larger and more profitable business for 1928 in both its bond and stock departments than in any previous year since it was incorporated in 1911.

KAYSER ELECTED TO DIRECTORATE OF BANK

Election of Frederick V. Kayser to the board of directors of the Western National Bank was announced yesterday by Wade H. Hampton, president. The new director, according to Mr. Hampton, has been secretary of his own company for more than twenty-five years, and has accumulated a large fund of experience in Southern California business affairs. The Western National Bank was formerly the National Bank for Savings.

REGIONAL BANK LOAN VOLUME UP

San Francisco Reserve Gain Attributed Mainly to Broker Demands

SAN FRANCISCO, March 27. (Exclusive)—The Federal Reserve Bank of San Francisco reports total loans of member banks increased from $1,293,000,000 on February 6 to $1,306,000,000 on the 20th inst., due entirely to increases in securities loans.

Securities loans on the 20th inst. were $773,000,000, or 21 per cent higher than on the corresponding date of 1928. Commercial loans decreased by $2,000,000, or 0.2 per cent during the same period. Total discounts at the Reserve Bank declined from $82,000,000 on February 6 to $72,000,000 on the 20th inst. This was still $9,000,000, or 14 per cent, higher than March, 1928.

During February and the first three weeks of March, the demand for credit was relatively heavy and interest rates ranged higher than at any time in recent years, the report states. Allowing for seasonal financial adjustments in connection with March tax assessments and payment dates, banking record still gives a good indication of the underlying credit trend.

During the period activity was well maintained in industry and trade and volume of business continued above that of a year ago. Preliminary March reports indicate beginning of spring activity. Expansion was especially notable during February in mining and petroleum refining industries. Copper mines are now generally operating on overtime schedules. Lumber output, which declined in February due to weather conditions, showed signs of increasing in early March.

Wholesale and retail trade in February showed increase over the previous February, but decline since January.

Huge Dividend Disbursements on April Slate

NEW YORK, March 27. (Exclusive)—April 1 dividends and interest disbursements are expected to register a new high record for the period as a result of initial and extra dividend announcements made by many companies. It is estimated that more than $200,000,000 will be paid out to investors over the end of the month, and that in the next four weeks a grand total of about $500,000,000 will be distributed among stock and bond holders.

The largest individual distribution will be the regular quarterly dividend payment of the United States Steel Corporation, amounting to approximately $12,500,000.

The Kennecott Copper Company, which recently split its stock two shares for one, will pay the initial dividend on the new stock. Other companies which will pay initial dividends are: Bancamerica Corporation, Canadian Canners, Chicago Pneumatic Tube, Engineers Public Service, East Massachusetts Street Railway, Houdaille, Hershey Hahn Department Stores, Fokker Aircraft, International Nickel of Canada on the new stock, Lehigh Valley Coal, Ludlum Steel, Massey-Harris, National Tea, Newton Steel, Reynolds Tobacco, new common, and United Corporation.

An almost equally long list of companies will pay extras.

Standard Oil Group Makes New Record

Dividend distributions by the various companies comprising the Standard Oil group aggregated $63,279,618 for the first quarter of 1929, a new high record for all time, notwithstanding the special and extra dividends made by some of the companies during recent years, according to a compilation issued yesterday by Carl H. Pforstheimer & Co.

This compares with $62,050,357 for the final quarter of 1928 and $48,927,670 in the same quarter last year and is unusual, the report states, because larger disbursements are usually made at the year's end. Extra dividends by Standard of Indiana and the Prairie Pipe Line Company helped swell the total.

The record of quarterly dividends during the past few years is as follows:

	First quarter
1928	48,927,670
1927	50,872,417
1926	40,580,317

Mills Alloy on Call List Today

Class "B" stock of the Mills Alloys, Inc., has been approved for listing and was called on the Los Angeles Curb Exchange yesterday. The Class "A" stock has already been listed and traded. There are 80,000 shares of "B" outstanding and 40,000 "A."

Net earnings for the last six months of 1928 were at the annual rate of about $300,000, equivalent to $2.75 a share on the "B" stock after payment of $2 a share on the "A" issue. Last year's net earnings totaled $163,555.66.

GERMAN CHRYSLER TO BOOST CAPITAL

BERLIN, March 27. (AP)—Announcement was made today that the capital of the German Chrysler Company will be doubled to $250,000 for the purpose of expanding its assembly plant and the entire German organization. A meeting of division heads and directors has been held to organize the expansion.

MARKET SHIFT SURPRISES

Brisk Recovery from Crash Reported Confusing to Old Wall Street Observers

BY JOHN F. SINCLAIR

[Copyright, 1929, by North American Newspaper Alliance.]

NEW YORK, March 27.—Tunney's comeback in Chicago, after his long vacation on the floor in the seventh round, was no more surprising than the comeback of the market after the sinking spell of Tuesday.

Old observers are confused. No one now has the heart to predict or prophesy the market's moods, and today the Federal Reserve Bank of New York meets. Will its rediscount rate be raised? The consensus is that it will not. Still, surprises are the order of the day.

H. Parker Willis, in the New York Journal of Commerce, discussing money rate anomalies, continues his criticism of national banking policy, declaring that "the situation gives cause for serious thought to those interested in sound banking development."

"Today we have an acceptance rate which is considerably higher than our discount rate, a local rate which is, generally speaking, higher than the rate at the interior banks, an investment rate which is much higher than that which exists in such countries as Japan and Italy (for the best concerns,) and a call rate which is the highest in the world, and, of course, is far higher than any other rate in this market," says the Journal of Commerce.

And then this: "Our present rate confusion grows out of the pegging of the fundamental rate of our central bank to that of a foreign institution."

Nevertheless, no nation, particularly the United States, can expect to expand its trade in the world unless it is willing to co-operate with other nations of the world, not only in industry, but in banking.

Harley Withers, long one of England's most important financial authorities, hopes that America will not increase Europe's difficulties by "upward twists of the monetary screw."

"An impoverished Old World, trying painfully to struggle on to its feet again after being tumbled upside down by war and bad governments . . . hopes America will keep within the realm of pure banking, by maintaining adequate resources and maintaining credit."

He does not wish the bankers to array themselves in surplices and preach to the public about the use that is to be made of credit. As long as producers and distributors of goods that are needed are amply supplied with credit, bankers should not trouble themselves about the extent of the speculative activities of the rest of us, Withers declares.

Then this statement: "If some speculators are paying too high prices for stocks on Wall street, they will burn their fingers, but their loss will be the gain of those who got out, and in the meantime enterprise is stimulated by the ease with which stocks can be marketed."

Mr. Withers believes that the gold standard is on trial in this struggle. If it is dickered with by those who know nothing about it, chaos is bound to ensue, but if the gold standard is worked rationally and sensibly by those who influence national policy, all will be well.

Dr. Stephen I. Miller, head of the Credit Men's National Association, says in a survey based on an analysis of more than 10,000 concerns, all of which have been creditors in proved cases of fraud, that the clothing industry—comprising men's, women's and children's apparel, hats, neckwear and knit goods—is more frequently defrauded by credit crooks than any other line. The textile industry is next. Why?

Too easy credit. "Conditions of credit granting in both these industries have been comparatively easy for home time past," says Dr. Miller. "Again, both clothing and textiles combine high value with small bulk, and are among the commodities most readily concealed or 'sold on the side' by dishonest persons contemplating bankruptcy."

Insurance and bonding companies have the honor of being the lowest on the list.

New York City's "Great White Way" has nearly 21,000 electric-light signs using about 1,310,000 light bulbs.

DROP IN STOCK VALUES HALTED

Strong Buying Rally Follows Sharp Recession

Previous Session's Losses Fully Recovered

Total Turnover Reaches 5,618,990 Shares

NEW YORK, March 27. (AP)—Strong hands took the helm in the stock market today, and a remarkable rally in values incurred by the heaviest the previous session was more than regained.

Call money renewed at 5 per cent for the first time since Jan. 7, 1920, but powerful banking forces, fearing a complete demoralization of the call-loan market which would cause a debacle in general values disastrous than yesterday's, stabilize the rate at that figure.

Although 15 per cent was paid in an extraordinarily brief period, relief of traders who had feared that might go even higher than yesterday's 20 per cent, soon was apparent that a bullish element was in control. Immediately held. Shares of leading issues were bid up 6 to 10 points and Adams Express was up 34 points.

TRADING HEAVY

Trading was resumed at a rapid pace, 5,618,990 shares changing hands, a large day's business though scarcely within the range of unprecedented $3,000,000-share days of yesterday. Commission houses have been swamped with work, and announcement that the Stock Exchange would close on Friday, following its regular holiday, Good Friday, was received with relief.

A continuation of the heavy buying that threw the market into confusion during the previous session was apparent at the opening, but the market turned extremely weak when call money renewed at 5 per cent and seemed points lower. Then the National City Bank announced that $38,000,000 to the loan fund

IRON AND STEEL RECORD SIGHTED

Output for First Quarter Points to New High

Backlogs Lengthen; Delivery Day Farther Ahead

Situation Promises to Hold Throughout Second

CLEVELAND, March 27. (Exclusive)—The Iron Trade Review says:

Never has so much pig iron and finished steel been made as in the quarter now ending, yet, far from exhausting the country's requirements, backlogs generally are longer and deliveries are more deferred than when the quarter opened.

Since January 1 the daily rate of pig-iron output has risen from 110,800 tons to about 116,500 tons, and of steel ingots from 166,000 tons to about 185,000 tons. Approximately 10,300,000 tons of pig iron and 13,600,000 tons of ingots—a quarterly record for both — has been produced.

With stocks, both of producers and consumers, lower than on January 1, it is assumed that his record-breaking volume of iron and steel has passed directly into consumption. Speculative buying appears negligible. Producers generally are confident that April activities will approach that of March. Chicago district steel makers, in fact, see every ton of ingots to be made to July 1 definitely earmarked.

CONTRACTING SHIFTS

The past week's contracting for second-quarter steel has been out of balance with current production, but this is ascribed to the turn of the quarter, advancing prices and the tight delivery situation. On sheets, strips, bars and plates, five to twelve weeks' delivery is being promised and consumers continue solicitious of places on mill books, to which their specifications attest.

Slight shifts among major outlets for steel seem scarcely to have affected the general level of business. Automotive output is more spotty; some makers have accumulated adequate stocks of cars for spring campaigns and are easing off, while others are stepping up rates. Freight-car buying is lighter, while more locomotives have been bought. Products are moving in stronger volume.

The iron and steel price situation is stronger. On steel bars, plates, etc., new business is predicated on 1.85 Pittsburgh base.

Pig-iron prices are advancing.

CHICAGO GAINS

Despite a shortage of semifinished steel, Chicago steel-making operations have gained several points and this week average 98 per cent. Only a lack of sheet bars and billets keeps Youngstown district mills under capacity. Steel Corporation subsidiaries are unchanged at 96 per cent.

Price strength has its taproot in Lake Superior iron ore, formally advanced 25 cents per ton, or about 6 per cent for the 1929 season. Sales exceeding 1,000,000 tons and affecting long-term contracts appear to have established the first increase in ore in five years. Inquiry is heavy and ore users generally covering promptly.

Reflecting in part this strength in ore, basic iron has advanced 50 cents per ton, to $18 valley, on a sale of 5000 tons to a Pittsburgh district steel works. Foundry iron has been put up 50 cents and malleable from $1 per ton at Detroit. The Buffalo market is up $1. Sales in all districts continue vigorous, though lack the volume of a buying movement.

Restricted credit seems not to have affected the structural market, and the eastern markets are unusually active for the season. Three office buildings in New York requiring 33,000 tons haye been awarded. A steel mill at Detroit requires 20,000 tons and one at Monroe, Mich, 3750 tons.

Gilmore-Miley Combine Plans Still on Card

Plans for the consolidation of the Gilmore Oil Company and the E. J. Miley Company yesterday were reported to be under way although officials of the Gilmore company declined to make any statement other than that "the bankers are still working."

The proposed merger was announced several weeks ago when an attempt was made to form the Gilmore Consolidated Oil Company by combining the Gilmore Oil Company, the E. J. Miley Company and the Bolsa Chica Oil Corporation. Irving Augur, president of the latter concern, later issued a statement that the merger deal had failed because the terms of sale of his interests had not been met.

Suit was filed against Mr. Augur as a result of the attempted merger and is now pending. It is understood that Bolsa Chica is definitely out of the Gilmore merger picture. There are reports that other companies may be included in the new deal.

Women Large Investors in Building Loan

Women constitute 45 per cent of the 381,328 estimated number of shareholders and borrowers in the 225 California building and loan associations, according to a survey completed yesterday by Edwin M. Einstein, president of the State League.

The total number of women investors and shareholders is 170,985, compared with 62,634 four years ago and 26,531 eight years ago. The number increased more than 60,000 in the past twelve months or 24 per cent.

With each building-loan investment averaging more than $800, the women of California control about $180,000,000 of the $400,000,000 resources of these institutions.

Exchange Lists Two New Issues

Common stock of the John Bean Manufacturing Company and an additional issue of the Citizens Trust and Savings Bank have been approved for trading on the Los Angeles Stock Exchange, Norman B. Courteney, secretary and manager of the exchange, announced yesterday. The John Bean stock will be called April 3, next.

The John Bean Company has an authorized issue of 300,000 shares of no par value common stock of which 123,712 shares are outstanding. There are 6500 shares of $100. par preferred shares also outstanding. The Citizens bank is listing 10,000 additional shares bringing the outstanding stock to a total of 40,000 shares. There are 50,000 shares authorized.

STEEL PLANTS REPORT ON WEEK'S OPERATION

CLEVELAND, March 27. (Exclusive)—Subsidiaries of the United States Steel Corporation are operating at 96 per cent capacity, unchanged from the previous week and up 5 points from a month ago, it was reported today. Operations in the Pittsburgh district are 95 per cent, up 5 points from last week and a month ago. Chicago steel-making plants are operating at 98 per cent, up 3 points from last week and a month ago.

NEW YORK CURB STOCKS

NEW YORK, March 27. (P)—A sweeping recovery in prices took place on the New York Curb Market today on indications that the peak of the credit crisis had passed. A moderate amount of selling came into the market during the morning when the 15 per cent renewal rate for call money was posted, and a few issues slipped to new low ground, but the general list met strong buying support and rallied in impressive fashion under leadership of the oil shares.

Ford Motor of Canada was the spectacular individual feature, soaring 139 points to 1010. Crocker Wheeler jumped 24½ points on a small turnover, and pronounced gains of 6 points or more were recorded by such other ordinarily inactive specialties as Bodd Manufacturing, Harbor-view Electric, Lazarus Company, Newton Steel, and Procter and Gamble.

Buying of the oils was influenced by expectations of favorable developments from the oil curtailment conference now in session here. Vacuum closed 7 points higher, and Humble, Indiana Pipe Line, Imperial and International Petroleum showed net gains of 5 to 6 points. Standard Oils of Indiana, Kentucky and Ohio, Missouri Kansas Pipe Line, and Continental, all closed 2 or more points above yesterday's final quotations.

Public utilities also staged a spirited recovery, American & Foreign Power warrants, American Super Power B, Electric Bond & Share, Investors, Northeastern Power and Light and Power B rallying 3 to 6 points, and Mohawk & Hudson Power rallied 8.

Aviation, merchandising, chain store, automobile and radio shares all snapped back briskly when selling pressure was lifted.

Trading showed a marked reduction in volume, indicating that many speculators either had been forced out of the market by the drastic decline earlier in the week or were not disposed to plunge heavily while the call money rate was still about three times the average yield on most stocks.

The closing price is omitted when same as the last, both low and close when same as the high.

Tone on Wheat Mart Stronger as Flurry Ends

CHICAGO, March 27. (Exclusive)—There was an absence of the semipanicky feeling so much in evidence in the grain markets on Tuesday and with short covering and foreign buying wheat futures advanced readily, and the finish was about the top with net gains of ¾@1¼c, March being 1.16⅝. May, 1.20⅝; July, 1.23⅞@1.24. Corn gained ¼@1c, with March finishing at 94⅞. May, 93¼@93⅝, while the active deliveries of oats were up ⅛@⅜, March being 45 at the last, and May 48⅛@46. Rye closed unchanged to ⅜@ higher with March and May 1.03¾.

Action of the stock and money markets had considerable influence on grains and the decline of around 15c in wheat futures from the recent high point was a factor in bringing in buying by Liverpool, with some improvement shown in the foreign demand for cash grain with sales of 600,000 to 700,000 bushels in all positions, including durums and Manitobas. A little hard winter was also sold and the price of the latter is now on a more favorable basis as compared with other countries than for some time past. Chicago May was 11c under Liverpool when the latter market closed, and 4¼c under Winnipeg at the last. The latter market was strong and gained 1⅛@1¼c for the day and further dry weather reports were received from the prairie provinces.

Houses with eastern connections and shorts were good buyers of wheat at times, while the selling was largely by local bears, and by commission houses on resting orders. Rains were reported at points in Kansas and Oklahoma, and will be very beneficial for the new crop. The forecast suggested further precipitation. Liverpool ignored the drastic decline in North American markets on Tuesday and closed only ⅛@1¼d lower with less pressure of Argentina grain a factor. All grain exchanges will be closed Good Friday, with Liverpool closed Monday as well, and Buenos Aires will be closed tomorrow and on Saturday.

Shipping demand for cash corn was active with sales of 504,000 bushels made by local handlers, and futures showed a firm undertone throughout the day with the finish about the top. Strength in wheat was also a factor. Local bulls and shorts were on the buying side, and found pressure lighter than of late, and a more friendly feeling toward the market was in evidence in some quarters. Country offerings to arrive were limited with purchases of 50,000 bushels, while deliveries on March contracts aggregated 200,000 bushels. Weather in Argentina is favorable for conditioning the new corn, and increased exports from that country are already in evidence.

Scattered liquidation was on in oats early but the market reversed its action later and the close was at the top. Cash interests bought September, while the country was a seller. Shipping sales aggregated 118,000 bushels and country offerings were limited. Weather was favorable for field work over the greater part of the belt. Trade in rye was light, and the market fluctuated in an erratic manner.

LOS ANGELES EXCHANGE

Sensational Rally Forces Oil Stock Prices Upward as Traders Turn Bullish

Headed by Standard of California, Rio Grande and Barnsdall oil stocks stage da fast recovery as a widespread bullish enthusiasm swept through the trading yesterday on the Los Angeles Stock Exchange and carried prices upward for net gains in excess of 3 points.

This restored confidence was attributed to the determined efforts of the American Petroleum Institute, in its meeting yesterday, to curtail production.

Rio Grande dominated the market activity and shot up 2 7-8 points to a high for the day at 41 5-8, where it held to the close. Standard of California, on an unusually rapid turnover, soared more than 4 points to a top at 78 1-4 and closed at 77 1-8 for a net advance of 3 1-4 points. Barnsdall jumped up 3 5-8 points to 44½; Richfield, 1 5-8 points to 43 5-8; Union of California, 1 3-8 points to 50 and Union Associates 1 point to the same close. Macmillan Petroleum advanced 7-8 to 37 7-8 and a number of lower-priced issues responded in a like manner.

Pacific Finance, on a smaller turnover than usual, featured the miscellaneous board by culminating a long series of successive advances with a jump of 5 points to a new all-time peak at 112. Subsequent selling brought a close at 109. International Reinsurance was another strong spot with an advance of 1½ points to 58½.

Transamerica Corporation held firm to 134 while Merchants National slumped 25 points to 205 following a 15-point drop in the previous session. Security-First National and Los Angeles-First National strengthened.

Emsco Derrick dominated the interest in the industrial list with a jump of 1½ points to 41½. Hydraulic Brake broke 2 3-4 points to 55 while Jenkins Television rallied 2 points to 13½.

WISELY LOCATED INCOME PROPERTIES DEVELOPED SUBSTANTIALLY, AND MADE AVAILABLE AT THE OPPORTUNE TIME, OFFER INVESTORS EXCEPTIONAL OPPORTUNITIES FOR PROFIT.

Conservative investors—banks, insurance companies and estates—look upon such properties with much favor. Individual investing in such properties may look for gratifying profit, both through enhancement and rental income. Realty Foundation is engaged in promoting the development of such properties.

Realty Foundation is amply financed. Securities of its affiliated, owning-operating companies will never be offered publicly, the shareholders being admitted by invitation only. These securities provide for 6% on the investment "right from the start," and the early return of the principal while retaining ownership of the property itself.

put out $5,000,000 each at 16, 17, 18, 19 and 20 per cent, and it was reported that other large banking interests were prepared to take similar action. J. P. Morgan and Company was reported to have supplied $10,000,000.

MONEY FIRM

Money, however, was firm all day. About $30,000,000 in loans was called, and was eventually replaced, but during much of the day the loan desk had no surplus of funds. With the heavy Easter currency demands and the quarterly interest dividend requirements of April 1 heavier than before, little hope of a rate lower than 15 per cent was held for the remainder of the stock market week, which ends tomorrow. The recent selling generally set minds at rest regarding the possibility of an increase in the Federal Reserve rediscount rate tomorrow, as a sharp reduction in brokers' loans is expected.

A particularly cheering development was a decline of 1 per cent in bankers' acceptance rates, which have been mounting steadily for for months. Time money, however, was practically unobtainable, although the quoted rate held at 8½ per cent. There was no change in the rates quoted for commercial paper, but it was said to be practically at a standstill.

NEWS BULLISH

Business news was generally favorable. Although a large increase in crude oil production was reported for last week, the general committee of the American Petroleum Institute meeting here to consider curtailment, was said to have made substantial progress, and Sir Henri Deterding of the Royal Dutch Shell said his interests would co-operate in a world wide curtailment plan. The steel trade reviews again described mill operations as nearing the seasonal peak. Advances in pig iron and iron ore attested a favorable price situation. Freight car loadings for the latest week showed a fair gain, and would have shown a better one, but for floods in the South.

The oil shares, spurred by curtailment developments, assumed market leadership. Standard of New Jersey mounted nearly 6 points to 58½, a new 1929 high, while Atlantic Refining, American Republics, Houston, Indian Refining, and Pan American B mounted from 5 to 10 points. Coppers were again well bought. Anaconda and Greene Cananea mounting 5 and 10 points.

International Telephone jumped more than 20 points to a new high price at 262¾, and Case Threshing, Commercial Solvents, Vanadium and Electric Auto Light mounted about 10 points and more. American Telephone and General Electric jumped about 7 points each. Radio sold up 7½ points to 100½, and closed at 97. General Motors and U. S. Steel closed more than a point higher. A number of investment rails mounted 2 to 4 points.

Among the few soft spots, Federal Mining and Smelting lost 35 points in a small turnover, and American Safety Razor, Motor Products and International Cement closed off 3 points or so.

Commodities generally rallied in sympathy with stocks, after nervousness early in the day, cotton closed 50 to 90 cents higher on higher Liverpool cables and rains in Texas, and grains turned firm.

The foreign exchanges eased in reflection of the high New York money rates, although sterling cables finished the day fairly steady.

A new type of insurance policy that has already been taken out by a number of firms and individuals in this country insures property against damage by passing airplanes.

Transcontinental Air

At the time we first advised the purchase of Fokker, that stock was selling at $19. Recently it has sold at $44.

We have urged the purchase of Transcontinental Air since it sold at $20. We believe that present buyers at today's prices will reap a splendid profit.

Principal stockholders in Transcontinental Air Transport, Inc. are said to be the Santa Fe and Pennsylvania Railroads and the Wright and Curtis Airplane Companies. The company's executive personnel includes the illustrious Col. Chas. A. Lindbergh.

It is said that some time between May 1st and May 15th this company will inaugurate, in combination with the Pennsylvania and Santa Fe Railroads, a forty-eight hour coast-to-coast service between New York, San Francisco and Los Angeles — saving two days in time and using rail freight and 14 passenger transport planes by day.

This opening will no doubt be given volumes of national publicity—which we believe should bring a strong advance in the price of this stock.

NEW YORK BOND PRICES

NEW YORK, March 27. (AP)—Despite the brief recovery in stock prices and the sharp advance in the call rate on the stock exchange, bond prices generally moved today in the face of moderately easier credit conditions. Call money ruled at 6 per cent at nearlight a high rate for the day, but time money and commercial paper rates held firm.

The action of the market was a surprise to many brokers who expected that the sharp break in stocks would result in the week, coupled with the forthcoming distribution of about $600,000,000 in dividend and interest payments, would bring a fresh volume of buying into the investment market. Dealers, however, are reported to be well allied due to the decrease in clientele of many of the recent new offerings.

Anaconda Copper 6s and International Telephone Convertible 4½s both in the so called speculative bond classification, the former rising a point to a new high at 123¼, and closing at 122¾, with $12,542,000 and the latter touching a new high at 123¼, and closing at 122¾, with $12,542,000 and the International issue gaining Losing $5,000,000 every month!

100,000 FAMILIES PAY $50.00 A MONTH . . in rentals that should go toward home-ownership . . in Los Angeles County alone . . according to latest statistical reports.

Flats, apartments and hotels have their tremendous part in taking care of transient, hesitant families. But Southern California will never be over-built UNTIL EVERY SUBSTANTIAL FAMILY, NOW PAYING A LAND-LORD'S PROFIT, IS HAPPY IN THEIR OWN HOME.

HOW MANY HUNDRED THOUSAND VACANT LOTS . . with tax and interest losses . . totaling more than the entire industrial pay-roll of Southern California . . all adding to rental losses that should be stopped!

These two problems are the duty and opportunity for service of such institutions as the MUTUAL Building and Loan Association of POMONA, which holds State records for building and loan associations. With $12,500,000 resources and $2,500,000 capital, surplus and reserve.

We have no side-line corporations, nor have we any patience for the 32 methods of shrinking the borrower's construction dollar. We want no clever profits. That, we believe, is WHY WE HOLD STATE RECORDS.

Your conservative loan application is more important to us than your 6% account of the same size. Through 36 years we have been looking for good loans, and getting them, rather than worrying about poor loans accompanied by momentary side-profits. WE HAVE HAD NO LOSSES.

Will HUNTINGTON BEACH be a REPETITION of Santa Fe Springs?

Apparently several of the Major Oil Companies feel confident that such will be the case, evidenced by the drilling campaign now in progress. It is reported several wells are already under way for the deeper oil sand, including one being drilled by the Richfield Oil Company.

Should they be successful in bringing in some good wells, it is possible the whole Field will again become active, bringing to life many of the issues which have been dormant for many months, including SUN OIL, RELIANCE, TEXCAL, etc. Numerous inquiries have been coming into our office during the last few days for the purchase of Huntington Beach stocks. We maintain an active market in all of these issues.

RUBBER MARKET

NEW YORK, March 27. (Exclusive)—Crude rubber prices on the local exchange opened firm and higher on a 1-4 pence advance at London. Later easiness at that center and a 1-8 pence drop, created an atmosphere of caution in the market here, which prompted profit-taking. From opening quotations unchanged to 30 points up prices dropped to close 20 to 50 points below Tuesday's finals. The market was comparatively quiet, trading extending to but five positions, and the turnover amounted to 842 lots, or 2,105 tons, as compared with the preceding day's turnover of 4875 tons.

The outside market was similarly affected and closing spot was 3-8 cent lower at 23 1-8 cents. London, after losing some of the early gains, rallied and wound up 1-4 pence higher at 11 1-4 pence. Singapore was steady 1 1-8 pence advance at 11 pence.

GAMBLING IN STOCKS HELD PERIL

Chicagoan Says Markets Hurt Investment Issues; Bond Sales Lagging

W. E. Stanley, senior partner of the firm of Mitchell-Hutchins Company of Chicago, an investment house, declared in an interview at the Biltmore yesterday that the investment business temporarily is spoiled by the stock market. "People will not buy bonds, the trend is toward stocks. Banks in our locality have gone out of the bond market entirely. I don't know where their money is going, but I believe it is being placed out on call."

Mr. Stanley was here on a flying business trip and left for Chicago last night. "I am not permitted to divulge, now, the nature of the errand that brought me to California," he said. My present trip has to do with the application of eastern money to one of your splendid industrial projects."

Mr. Stanley discussed financial conditions throughout the country and declared that the present prosperous outlook will last.

Christian Science services will be conducted with interment following in Forest Lawn Cemetery under the direction of the Reed Brothers Company.

The 21-year-old flyer was killed when an obsolete training plane which he was piloting fell 100 feet to the ground and burned near Telegraph Road and the Simons brick yard.

On May 29, young Brown, son of a prominent real estate broker, was to have married Miss Maude Rosalie Ryan.

Besides his parents, the flyer leaves a brother, Andrew Brown, and a sister, Miss Dorothy Brown.

BIBLE LEADERS DESTROY BOOK

Directorate of Institute Issues Statement

Work of Dr. MacInnis New Cause of Rift

Former Dean Scores Action in Open Letter

Destruction by the board of directors of the Bible Institute of Los Angeles of "all remaining copies in their possession, together with type-forms," of a book on Christian philosophy objected to by so-called fundamentalists, yesterday caused further widening of the rift in the ranks of the Bible Institute, which started last December.

The acts of the board of directors related in a statement contained in the April issue of the King's Business, official publication of the institute, were the target of denunciation by Dr. John Murdoch MacInnis, former dean of the institute and author of "Peter, the Fisherman Philosopher," copies of which were destroyed.

SCORES ACT

"This country has not seen an act of such religious intolerance in 200 years," declared Dr. MacInnis, as he prepared a written criticism of the board of directors.

Dr. MacInnis resigned as dean of the institute last December when certain directors declared that there was widespread criticism of the book. The dean's resignation was followed by eleven other members of the institute organization, and the controversy grew so that a special meeting of the presbytery of Los Angeles was called and a resolution passed expressing confidence in Dr. MacInnis.

Shortly after the board of directors issued a statement declaring that in accepting the dean's resignation they did not intend to cause any reflection upon his doctrinal soundness, but that his book had caused criticism to be directed at the institution that they felt would die out if he resigned.

MacINNIS RESIGNED

Dr. MacInnis's resignation went into effect and the matter apparently had quieted down, until the following, headed "Directors' Statement," appeared in the King's Business:

"After much prayer and serious reflection concerning the book, 'Peter, the Fisherman Philosopher,' written by Dr. J. M. MacInnis, former dean of the Bible Institute of Los Angeles, the board of directors desires to make the following statement:

"We reaffirm our belief in the great fundamental doctrines of Christianity as set forth in the Statement of Doctrine of the Bible Institute.

ERROR RECOGNIZED

"Because we recognized that we were in error in commending the book, 'Peter, the Fisherman Philosopher,' the board some time ago accepted the resignation of the author, and he now has absolutely no connection with the Institute; and being determined that our testimony to and teaching of the fundamental doctrines of Christianity as set forth in the institute's Statement of Doctrine shall be so clear as to be absolutely above all possibility of suspicion, we hereby express our disapproval of said book, and declare that its thought and teaching does not represent the thinking and teaching of the Bible Institute today; and further, as a first step in the execution of our determination to pursue a course which will put this institute's loyalty to the Bible beyond question, we already have discontinued the use, sale and circulation of the book, 'Peter, the Fisherman Philosopher,' in the Bible Institute or elsewhere, and all remaining copies, together with the type-forms, have been destroyed.

FUTURE POLICY

"In respect to the future policy of the institute, the board hereby declares its determination to adhere strictly to the purpose for which the Bible Institute of Los Angeles was founded, namely: The teaching of the Bible as the inspired and infallible Word of God in order to train men and women for the task of proclaiming the Gospel of salvation through the blood of Christ at home and abroad.

"The board also hereby declares that only such teachers will be elected to or retained on the faculty of the institute as do solemnly pledge

BOY SCOUTS TAKE TO HORSES

New Mounted Troop Now Drilling Here

Newton Haus Shows How to Handle 'Em

THE first mounted troop of Boy Scouts for the Los Angeles area began taking shape yesterday after preliminary practice at the Glendale Riding Academy. Forty-four boys from various Scout troops who have shown ability to ride in western Scout formation are drilling regularly for the first public appearance of the mounted unit. The mounted troop is being formed under the auspices of the State Bridle Path Association.

Drills are under the supervision of Frank E. Brown, Jr., honor medal commissioner of the Boy Scout organization. The first public parade is to be held within thirty days. Horses are provided for the troop by the State Bridle Path Association.

Some of the boys have demonstrated feats of horsemanship seldom seen outside of circus or rodeo arenas. Newton Haus has been perfecting his stunt of keeping his seat on a horse rearing on its hind legs in rodeo manner.

Care of horses is taught so that the mounts may be handled properly when the troop goes on a long saddle hike.

BOY SCOUT SHOW TO REMAIN EXTRA DAY

Announcement was made from Boy Scout headquarters yesterday afternoon that due to the unprecedented throngs which have packed the Chamber of Commerce for the past three afternoons and evenings during the second annual Scout Exposition, the show will remain open this afternoon and during the evening until 10 p.m. for an extra day.

E. B. DeGroot, chief Scout executive of the Los Angeles Council, said the call for additional adult leadership had met with gratifying results at the headquarters booth, where men who came to the exposition were able to learn at first hand of Scout work and how they themselves could participate in the program.

DISTRICT PARK BILL HELDOVER

Measure Sponsored Here Withdrawn from Present Session of Legislature

The Metropolitan Park District bill, pending in the Legislature, has been withdrawn from further consideration at this session, Hugh R. Pomeroy announced yesterday.

The bill was sponsored by the executive committee of the Citizens' Parks and Playgrounds Committee appointed some time ago by the Chamber of Commerce. Pomeroy is secretary of the committee.

"We felt that the time is so short between now and adjournment of the Legislature," Pomeroy said, "that proper consideration could not be given to the bill and its amendments so we have withdrawn it and will continue our work and be in better position to get such a law enacted at the next session. This was decided at a meeting of the committee."

It was proposed by the organization to make it lawful to create a district for park purposes and to have parks in the district under a commission.

Injured Woman Granted Damage

Disregarding all traffic rules, William Frye swarmed through a traffic zone and knocked down Miss Mary Teucher while she was attempting to board a street car, witnesses testified in Superior Judge Hahn's court yesterday.

Judge Hahn gave her a verdict of $2500 damages. The plaintiff said she had been incapacitated for six weeks. Frye filed an answer denying he was responsible for the accident, but did not appear in court.

INTIMIDATION CHARGES MADE

Jacobson Case Witnesses to be Guarded Closely

Inquiry Begun on Asserted Bribe Offer of Marco

Hot Clashes Occur During Councilman's Testimony

Investigation of an asserted $25,000 bribe offered Councilman Jacobson by Albert Marco, convicted vice ruler, was started by the District Attorney's office yesterday, while the Councilman on the witness stand at the so-called "frame-up" trial before Superior Judge Wood continued to face a gruelling fire of cross-examination.

With the asserted bribe investigation in the hands of Chief Investigator Wheeler, Dep. Dist.-Attys. Dennison and Bush, conducting the prosecution of Mrs. Callie Grimes, five police officers and others on a charge of conspiracy to arrest Jacobson in a morals raid, declared that many of their two-score witnesses have been intimidated.

At the same time Bush promised sensational developments in connection with the investigation of the flight of Mrs. Grimes to San Francisco, Phoenix and El Paso, Tex., where she was captured and returned.

ANOTHER CHARGE

During the cross-examination, Jacobson declared he had been approached by Marco in the presence of Alex Williams, a former grand jury member, and the vice ruler offered him $25,000 to desist from his antivice attacks in the City Council.

At the same time the witness caused another sensation in the courtroom, when he declared that he knew another city official who had been placed in a compromising position by the asserted machinations of the underworld and silenced in a campaign against vice.

As the investigation proceeded Williams was taken to the District Attorney's office and after a long conference with Wheeler, was placed under subpoena to appear at the trial.

According to the investigators the inquiry also has brought forth a "mystery woman," whose name is being withheld, who will be called at the trial in connection with a purported affidavit she is said to have made in which she detailed asserted underworld activities of Marco. She has revealed her entire story to the District Attorney's office, the prosecutors say.

NEW PRECAUTIONS

The asserted intimidation of witnesses, Bush says, has caused the prosecution to take extraordinary precautions with its list of proposed witnesses and has caused a shift in the order they will go to the witness stand.

Mrs. Jacobson and her daughter, Edna, a University of California student, were due to follow the Councilman to the stand, but the order has been changed by Bush and Dennison. Instead it is probable that Donald Crawford, a resident of the vicinity of Beagle street, will be the next called.

Although the prosecution is silent on the move, it is predicted in the courtroom that the State will attempt through Mrs. Jacobson to introduce an affidavit made by Mrs. Grimes in which she says Jacobson was "framed." Mrs. Jacobson is said to have talked with Mrs. Grimes at the time of the preparation of the affidavit. Mrs. Grimes since has renounced the State and is at trial.

Her co-defendants are Captains of Detectives Wallis and Williams, Detective Cox, her brother-in-law; former Police Officers Lucas and Raymond, Charles Crawford, Hollywood politician, and Marco.

MANY CLASHES

With frequent clashes of counsel the cross-examination of Jacobson proceeded. He was on the stand when court adjourned and perhaps will be there an hour today before he is released. During the procedure the defense succeeded in reading into the record a statement Jacobson made the night of his arrest after he was taken to the Police Intelligence Bureau.

Judge Wood severely rebuked Attorneys Cooper and Fainer, while the former was reading to the record a purported interview of Jacobson with a publication. In the process Cooper charged Dennison

ACTRESS PLANNING FOR FALL NUPTIALS

Joan Crawford

Date Set but Church Not Yet Selected

A definite date for the wedding of Joan Crawford and Douglas Fairbanks, Jr., was announced yesterday. They will be married at a Beverly Hills church on the afternoon of October 22, next, according to Miss Crawford's announcement.

An elaborate wedding is planned at which scores of prominent screen players will be in attendance. Miss Crawford asserted the church has not yet been decided upon. Following the ceremony the couple will depart for a three months' honeymoon in Europe.

"Now that my picture schedule is definite we are able to fix a date for the event," Miss Crawford said yesterday. "We had tentatively set several dates but picture work caused postponement. But this time it is for sure."

Miss Crawford already has chosen Dorothy Sebastian to serve her as maid of honor and Vilma Banky as her matron of honor. Young Fairbanks has not yet decided who will attend him.

The wedding is expected to be one of the important social events of the coming season and will culminate a romance which has been watched with deep interest by Hollywood.

Miss Crawford recently was elevated to stardom at Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer.

FLINT WILL GIVES HALF TO WIDOW

Late Senator Bequeaths Remainder of Estate to Children's Families

The will of former United States Senator Frank P. Flint, who died February 11 on board the steamship President Polk, was filed for probate yesterday.

It bequeathed half of the Senator's property to his widow, Mrs. Katherine B. Flint, and divided the remaining half between the families of his two children, William R. Flint and Mrs. Katherine MacKay, "share and share alike."

It was specified that no provision was made for his brother, Motley H. Flint, nor his mother, Mrs. Althea Hewes Danskin, because, he said his brother already is well provided for and he expected Mrs. Danskin to be cared for by her grandchildren if necessity arose.

Executors of the will, which was filed by Attorney Wesley L. Nutten, Jr., are Motley Flint, William R. Flint and Henry MacKay, Jr. It is directed that they serve without bond.

The will was executed January 29, last, when Senator Flint was 65 years of age.

NACO—Of all the people with whom the border officials have to deal, the Chinese are the most honorable. The immigration people give the right to come across the line to transact temporary business on the American side. It is unheard of for them to violate the terms of their permits.

ON THEIR WAY

Bisbee—like many of the old border towns—frowns on Chinese and Japs. It is an unwritten rule—never challenged—that they can never spend the night in town. They have to transact whatever business they have and travel on. Yet on these chilly terms there are several Chinese who have become prosperous doing business with this Arizona town.

BORDER VAMPS

The border vamps are a race of houris all to themselves. There are many who are known from one end of the line to another.

They all have a family resemblance—sloppy, down-at-the-heel, but with hot, burning eyes—ragtag Magdalens. They seem to have ouidistanced and outvamped the really lovely little senoritas who go to and fro across the line every day.

Their specialty is getting married. One recently eloped with a fat old Chinaman on the American side. Another has espoused a negro soldier.

The fact that they usually come out of these romantic adventures with numerous children as souvenirs seems in some mysterious way to enhance their fascination.

MEXICAN GENERALS

There was an embarrassing pause when the two Mexican generals at Naco—Olechea and Gonsales—borrowed two troop horses to make a ride of inspection through the trenches with Maj. Hazeltine and four officers of the Tenth Cavalry. The Mexicans could not ride saddles with the short stirrups now in vogue in our cavalry. Two negro orderlies had to correct the straps.

The Mexican cavalry rides in cowboy saddles with stirrups so long the toes just touch.

BUGLE CALLS

The bugle calls in the Mexican army have a wild, plaintive, quality that bespeaks real musicians. The mess call sounds like a wood nymph signaling to a wild swan. I have never heard a wood nymph and I am not sure there is such a thing as a wild swan. Anyhow, it sounds like something that ought to end in something more dramatic than a tortilla baked on a hot rock.

SUBLIMATED CANS

Bisbee is one place where the humble tin can is at a premium. The big copper mines treat waste tin with water that has been run through low-grade ore. It turns the tin into pure copper—that is, it seems to.

THE PIONEERS

In the copper country there are no loud cheers over the present high price of copper. When copper goes too high the result always is the use of copper substitutes.

This great copper camp is one of the few cities still left in the United States where the men who made the place with their hands are the magnates of the town. The great copper companies are,

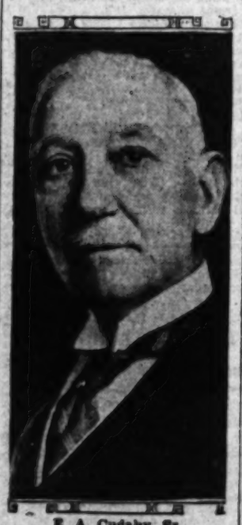
PACKER VISITS PLANT HERE

E. A. Cudahy, Sr., Finds Local Branch in Good Shape, But Not Large Enough for City

E. A. Cudahy, Sr., of Chicago, chairman of the board of the Cudahy Packing Company, which did a $251,000,000 business last year, looked over his company's plant at Macy street and Los Angeles River yesterday and pronounced it good, "except," he said, "it isn't big and good enough; this country is growing so fast."



E. A. Cudahy, Sr.

"We've spent about $1,500,000 making this plant grow in the last two or three years," the famous packer said, "but we're going to have to spend a lot more. And we are ready to. We'll have to if we keep up with this country around here."

PRICES A BIT HIGH

The Los Angeles plant is the first one the company established outside its principal plant at Omaha, Neb. It has been going for thirty-four years, and last year did between $20,000,000 and $30,000,000 of business. About 1000 lambs, 700 hogs and 250 cattle meet their doom in the plant every day, so the folks hereabout can get enough to eat.

"Meat prices are a little high," Mr. Cudahy said, "but the stock-raisers had a pretty hard time for a while back. They have to recoup their losses and it is right that their industry stand on a sound, profitable basis for all concerned. They must have good prices for some time yet.

"Ours is one business where the demand doesn't mean so much. It's the supply that rules. We can always sell all the meat we can buy. The antimeat diet had its day some time ago and the industry noticed it. But people are realizing that meals are among their best foods

BREAKWATER ENVOY NAMED

Edwards to Represent Harbor Board at Hearing in Washington on April 16

With the approval of the Harbor Commission, General Manager Edwards was delegated yesterday by President Allen to represent the commissioners at the hearing in Washington, D. C., April 16, by the Board of Engineers for Rivers and Harbors on the Los Angeles and Long Beach breakwater project.

The decision to send a representative was taken at the request of the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce, which stressed the importance of making every effort to save the project from being abandoned, as recommended by the board of survey, which turned in an adverse report some months ago, on the ground that Los Angeles and Long Beach have failed to form a joint port district, as desired by Congress.

CHAMBER LETTER

The letter to the harbor board from the secretary of the Los Angeles chamber follows:

"By direction of the board of directors of the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce I desire to call your attention to the hearing on our breakwater project, to be held by the Board of Engineers for Rivers and Harbors in Washington, D. C., April 16.

"You are, of course, thoroughly familiar with the subject, but our board desires to emphasize the necessity for representation by the Board of Harbor Commissioners, at this hearing and we urgently request that your board will send one or more representatives to Washington for this occasion.

"It is the belief of the board of directors of the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce that Los Angeles should urge the Board of Engineers for Rivers and Harbors to recommend that our breakwater project be maintained in its present status, at least for the time being—in other words, that the recommendation of the special board of survey be not adopted.

"You know, of course, that the board of survey has recommended that the breakwater project be abandoned, which would put us back to where we were five years ago. It should be pointed out that some of the conditions laid down by Con-

MYSTERY ADDED TO KIDNAP CASE

New Evidence Presented by Employer-Suspect

Investigating Officers Keep Details Under Cover

Girl Makes Statement But Complaint Withheld

Mysterious evidence and counter-charges submitted by Clayton C. Stafford, El Monte and Puente feed merchant, yesterday precipitated a new phase in the investigation being made by Deputy Sheriffs Hackett and Vejar into accusations of Stafford's 21-year-old book-keeper that her employer kidnaped and mistreated her a week ago.

Although Miss Ray Schade, asserted victim of the attack, appeared at Dep. Dist.-Atty. Russell's office with her father and a group of friends and made a statement, Russell declined to issue a complaint against Stafford until further investigation is made.

Stafford also appeared voluntarily before Dep. Dist.-Atty. Russell with his attorney, Charles Ostrom, and told a story which officers assert throws an entirely different light on the case. The nature of Stafford's statement, however, was kept secret. When questioned about his statement Stafford referred his questioners to his attorney and Ostrom declined to make any comment.

Miss Schade asserts the attack occurred last Saturday, but the matter was not reported to the Sheriff's office until Monday.

The girl charges that Stafford persuaded her to enter his automobile in El Monte Saturday under the pretext that he wanted her to balance the books in his Puente store that evening. He then kidnaped her and drove to an isolated cabin in Turnbull Canyon, Miss Schade asserts, where he choked and mistreated her repeatedly.

Holy Oils to Be Blessed by Bishop Today

One of the most impressive ceremonies of the Catholic liturgy during Holy Week will take place today in St. Vibiana's Cathedral, Second and Main streets, when Bishop Cantwell is to bless the oils that will be used during the coming ecclesiastical year.

Surrounded by nearly fifty prelates and priests attired in the vestments of mourning dictated for Holy Week, Bishop Cantwell will consecrate the oils to be used in the sacraments of baptism, confirmation, extreme unction and holy orders. The diocesan priests' choir, led by Father Edward Kirk, will chant the service.

ARMY BAND TO PLAY

Commandant Carroll of the Salvation Army yesterday issued an invitation to the public to attend a free concert by the Citadel Silver Band at the Salvation Army Auditorium, 125 East Fourth street, at 8 p.m. next Monday. Bandmaster Ernest Higgins will lead.

DIMPLED OR KNOCKED, KNEES MUST HIDE AGAIN

Knees are passe, taboo, demode. This edict has come out of Paris, according to Alfred M. Bedell, president of the twenty Bedell women's specialty shops throughout the United States.

He bases his assertions upon the findings of a comprehensive survey recently completed in Paris by his daughter, Miss Mildred Louise Bedell, who is with him in the capacity of stylist, exhibiting outstanding French models and lecturing on their features.

Dresses in all classes, that is, street, afternoon and evening, are longer, and it is absolutely essential that knees, dimpled, bowed, knocked or otherwise, should be covered from the public gaze.

To be really chic, Bedell said, one must sponsor the uneven hemline, for the regular line just isn't done any more. And as the hemlines show a tendency to drop steadily, the waistline seems to be under the influence of a bull market and is creeping up to par again. Or, in other words, it is about to assume a position which is bound to start an added frenzy of dieting. The princess mode will be very much in favor, Bedell said, and in order to be really abreast with the times, one must moth-proof the felt hats for the season and lay in a stock of straw ones.

Mr. Bedell, whose home is in New York City, says the west coast possesses the greatest possibilities for business development of any section of the country. He also observes that Los Angeles people are more liberal in their expenditures than easterners and he sees more smiling faces on our streets than he does at home.

SUING WIFE WONDERFUL, MATE SAYS

Real Estate Man in Court Withdraws Charges That Spouse Was Cruel

Although he appeared to contest a divorce action brought by his wife, Clifford A. Briggs, a real estate broker, from the witness stand yesterday characterized Mrs. Annabelle Briggs as a "wonderful little woman."

"I wish to withdraw the charges in my cross-complaint that my wife called me names," Briggs declared before Superior Judge Gould when questioned by his brother, Arthur Briggs, his attorney. "She is a wonderful little woman," he added.

Mrs. Briggs, represented by Attorney S. S. Hahn, filed a suit for divorce, asserting infidelity. She named Mae Wells, at one time a cook in the Briggs home, Briggs, in his cross-complaint, accused his wife of cruelty.

At the close of the hearing yesterday Mrs. Briggs was granted a decree, custody of a minor child and alimony of $300 a month. She was given the family residence and furnishings and a one-third interest in an apartment building.

The couple married on November 8, 1917, and separated on September 8, 1928, according to the complaint.

Alhambra Man Found Guilty of Manslaughter

H. J. Leutholz, Alhambra business man, faces a prison sentence of from three to twenty-five years as a result of his conviction yesterday of manslaughter, driving while intoxicated and failure to stop and render aid in connection with an automobile accident which proved fatal to L. J. Drake, a pedestrian.

Testimony showed Leutholz's car ran down and killed Drake last October. The defense made an effort to show that Leutholz was the victim of mistaken identity and that a car belonging to some other motorist had struck Drake. The jury deliberated four hours in reaching a verdict.

Utility Builds Pasadena Home

Construction work is under way on the Pasadena building of the Los Angeles Gas and Electric Corporation in the Civic Center of Pasadena, opposite the City Hall. The new structure will cost in the neighborhood of $200,000.

The growth of business in the Pasadena district has for some time made the present quarters of the corporation there inadequate.

JACOBSON CASE GROUP GUARDED

State Watches Witnesses to Balk "Intimidation"

Judge Rebukes Counsel of Defense for Remarks

had instructed the witness. A hot clash followed in which Dennison triumphed.

"I'll stipulate that nobody can tell Mr. Jacobson anything," interposed Fainer, and the stinging rebuke of the court descended vigorously and unhesitatingly on him.

"This is just a warning. You have made a very improper remark. This court will not permit unseemly conduct," said Judge Wood sternly.

"I apologize! I apologize!" cried Fainer.

MORE TROUBLE

Attorney Cooper got into difficulty with the court when he charged that Dennison "rudely" had interrupted his cross-examination of Jacobson.

"This is keeping up too long," Judge Wood said with renewed ire. "I appeal to you lawyers. I don't have to, but I am. Mr. Dennison asked a simple question and you accused him of rudeness. Let's have no more of that." Then Cooper apologized.

While counsel for Capt. Wallis was cross-examining the witness it was brought out that Jacobson first knew of Mrs. Grimes's family in Indio many years ago, while he was an engineer for the Southern Pacific, a position from which he said he resigned July 1, 1927. Mrs. Grimes's family name was Michael, he said, but he did not know of Mrs. Grimes at that time.

CARESSES DENIED

Counsel then produced a copy of the city's "resorting" ordinance, under which Jacobson was charged after he was arrested in the Beagle-street cottage with Mrs. Grimes. He succeeding in having it introduced in evidence. Then he asked:

"Were you married to Mrs. Grimes at the time you were arrested with her?"

"No, I was not," Jacobson emphatically declared.

The attorney then asked the Councilman if he had not told the woman he "was stuck on her," and caressed her.

"That is not a fact," he replied.

Then a signed statement the witness is asserted to have made at the Police Intelligence Bureau the night of the arrest was read into the record, after considerable quibbling and arguing among counsel.

Jacobson at that time said, according to the document, that he went to Mrs. Grimes's place to discuss street assessments. While there they went into the bedroom and talked awhile about real estate. She switched off the lights, the statement says, and asked him if he wanted a drink of whisky, which he refused. Then the raid came, and "I realized I had been led into a trap unawares."

NEW CHARGE MADE

During relentless cross-examination at the morning session Jacobson made the charge from the witness stand that another city official was glenced in an antivice campaign by surreptitious plots asserted to have been hatched in the underworld.

The intimation was made while Attorney White was examining the witness on the asserted $25,000 bribe Jacobson says Marco offered him in 1926. The official to whom the Councilman referred was not identified at once, although Jacobson declared he could produce proof to sustain his contention.

"Now, when Grand Jury Investigator Williams, as you say, brought Marco to your office and you were offered the bribe to stop your campaigns against vice, did you report it to any authorities," White asked.

"No, I did not." Jacobson replied, "because I didn't expect to get the money."

"Is that the reason you didn't take it?" White demanded.

"No."

"You know that offering a bribe to an official is a bribe, don't you? Did you mention the offer to any law-enforcing authority?"

"I don't recall that I did."

CHANGE IN NAME

On cross-examination by Attorney Ormsby it was established that Jacobson has made some alterations in his name, and instead of Carl I. Jacobson it originally was Karl Ingauld Jakobson, born March 12, 1877, at Lillistron, Norway. He was brought to New York on an unidentified vessel from Christiania, Norway, May, 1881.

According to the questioning, he since has resided in the United States, on May 12, 1912, declared intentions of naturalization in Los Angeles, and was granted citizenship with the oath of allegiance July 23, 1917, by United States District Judge Van Dyke.

On further cross-examination by Ormsby Jacobson said that he went to Mrs. Grimes's Beagle-street home to advise her on the disposal of her real estate in addition to discussing street assessments.

"As a matter of fact, your prime motive in going to her home was to help her sell her property and not to discuss assessments, was it not?" the attorney asked.

"Yes," Jacobson replied.

LOVE MAKING DENIED

"When Mrs. Grimes first called you on the telephone and asked you to come over to her house you demurred. What did she say that caused you to change your mind?"

"She wanted advice."

"Isn't it a fact that shortly after you went into the house you sat on a couch with Mrs. Grimes, hugging and kissing her, and that when she moved over to the piano stool you followed her and continued the love making?"

"No," said Jacobson, "I am not much of a love maker."

In his direct examination Jacobson testified that he saw two men in the hallway of the Grimes cottage when he was inspecting the house and about to step into the bedroom. Ormsby took him under severe cross-examination on that subject, causing Jacobson to change his language and say that instead of men he probably saw "shadows" moving there.

themselves without reservation that their teaching shall be in complete harmony with the doctrinal statement of the institute and with this declaration, and that they will carry out this declared policy of the board.

"Adopted at a special meeting of the board of directors held March 20, 1929.

[Signed]

"CHARLES E. FULLER,
"President, Board of Directors."

LETTER TO FULLER

Dr. MacInnis, who lives at 1112 North Garfield avenue, Alhambra, asserting that he had recourse to no publication such as used by the board of directors in which to defend himself, issued his answer in the form of an open letter to Mr. Fuller. It follows:

"My Dear Mr. Fuller:

"I have received 'Directors' Statement' regarding my book, signed by you in behalf of the board of directors of the Bible Institute. I have read and noted its contents with care and amazement. It professes to be the product of 'much prayer and serious reflection.' If your reflection had been 'serious' you would have remembered that my resignation was not accepted because the board recognized that we were in error in commending the book.'

"On the contrary, at the time the resignation was accepted the board took special pains to make it clear that they believed in me and in my doctrinal soundness. The very report that recommended the acceptance of the resignation flatly contradicts the present statement of the board (March 20, 1929.) In the light of this fact it is quite evident that it is not God who answered your prayers, for He is Truth.

SCRIPTURE CITED

"If you look up John viii, 44, you will discover who is the source of all misrepresentation. When it serves the interests of the board 'prayer and serious reflection' led them to say that the book did not contradict the institute's statement of doctrine. Now, when you think that it serves the interests of the board, 'prayer and serious reflection' had to say that the book does not represent the doctrinal position of the institute.

"The book has not changed. We are quite sure God has not changed. The source of the change of front must be sought elsewhere. Why degrade religion by the use of pious phrases when everybody knows perfectly well that the change has come because Dr. Charles G. Trumbull (Fundamentalist leader of Philadelphia) and others have demanded it as the price of recognition?

NO STATEMENT

"Why do you not have the courage to say so frankly? In other words, tell the people frankly that you have sold your convictions and Christian freedom for the favor of an extreme group whose favor is hardly worth thirty pieces of silver.

"This new declaration of degradation trails the colors of Christian freedom so low that it denies you teachers the right of an opinion about a book. In the light of these facts a Christian with a sense of honor cannot have anything but the utmost contempt for this or any other statement the board may be forced to make.

"For the institute I have nothing but sincere pity, for obviously all honor has forsaken its tattered banners and its house is left desolate, because it knew not the day of its visitation.

"Very sincerely yours,
"JOHN M. MacINNIS.

"P.S.: I note what you say about the destruction of the book. You had the copyright to publish and distribute it. You were given no right to destroy and repress it. That will be dealt with in another way.
"J. M. M."

Advised of the contents of Dr. MacInnis's statement, Fuller declared that "the matter was settled some time ago and we have no further comment to make on it."

DELEGATE WILL SEEK FOREIGN TRADE MEET

Efforts to obtain the 1930 national foreign trade convention for Los Angeles are to be made by Burt Edwards, general manager of the Harbor Department, who was delegated yesterday by the Harbor Commission to go to Washington for the breakwater hearing April 16. At the suggestion of the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce he was authorized as a delegate to the convention in Baltimore to be held April 17, 18 and 19.

TWO TAKEN DURING HUNT FOR WOMAN

Police Raid Flat in Quest for Young Wife Believed to Have Been Lured Away

Vice squad detectives last night broke into a flat at 1901 Franklin Circle, Hollywood, in search of Mrs. Agnes Ehrlich, whose husband, Sidney Ehrlich of 145 West Fourteenth street, reported had been lured from home. Ehrlich told Hollywood squad members that his missing wife had been seen at the Franklin Circle address. Detectives Everson, Bryn and Pilkington searched the apartment thoroughly without finding any trace of the missing wife, who is 18 years of age. They arrested Mary L. Culvert, 28, and Thelma Praylor, 34, a colored maid, the only persons in the flat.

Acting on Ehrlich's complaint, detectives had the place under surveillance all yesterday afternoon and evening. They reported that six men entered and left the place. The officers found two automatic pistols with identifying numbers filed off. The two women arrested denied any knowledge of Mrs. Ehrlich. The arrest followed sensational reports that a number of missing girls were held prisoners in a Hollywood mansion reputed to be a white slavers' headquarters.

Mrs. Ehrlich was a waitress. She quarreled with her husband who had been out of work. He complained to Georgia-street station that his wife had been lured away by a man acting for a woman of the underworld known to him as Madeleine. Ehrlich offered $300 reward for information leading to his wife's return. Police records show that she reported last December that a man tried to attack her in Echo Park.

"It is possible that at some future date modification in the project itself, or in some of the conditions laid down, may become desirable. We trust, therefore, that your honorable board take the necessary steps for representation at the hearing in Washington along the lines indicated."

POSTAL CHANGE SOUGHT

President Allen also directed that while in Washington Edwards should intercede with the postmaster general to have the postal stations now known as those of San Pedro, Wilmington, East San Pedro and Terminal Island changed to branches of the Los Angeles postoffice, since they all are in the city limits.

Allen also announced that the Long Beach Harbor Commission has accepted the recent invitation of the Los Angeles Harbor Commission to be present at its next meeting in San Pedro. The date had been set for April 3, but later was changed to April 10. Arrangements are being made to entertain the visitors following the meeting, with a boat ride around the two ports and luncheon at the California Yacht Club.

TANGLE AIRED ON PETITIONS

Planning Commission Sifts Quarry Protests

Circulators Deny Making False Representations

Further Quiz of Details Will be Dropped

The professional petition circulators employed by the Los Angeles Mountain Park Company combed the Beverly Hills district inducing persons to sign their names to petitions supporting the company's plan to operate a rock quarry in Bull Trees Canyon, yesterday was revealed before the City Planning Commission.

The commission had before it the protests of Thorwald Siegfried and others against the asserted tactics of the petition circulators. It had been charged that one person at least had represented to residents of the district that the petitions were being circulated by the commission and by the City Council in support of the project.

TELLS OF EMPLOYEES

E. S. Gilliland, purchasing agent of the company, went on the stand and told the commission that the company had obtained the petition circulators through a concern that conducted a business of circulating petitions. The circulators were furnished with the prepared petitions at the company's office, together with maps and photographs which were to be shown the residents approached. They received $7.50 per day for their work.

The report of the City Planning Commissioner's investigator was read, supporting the protest of residents.

Dr. H. B. Benjamin, one of the circulators, was called to the stand. He denied that she had represented to any of the householders that she was employed by the commission or the City Council. She said, however, she told the people visited that the petition was to go to those bodies. Commissioner Baker suggested that perhaps she may have said led one to believe she was working for the city bodies, and she said that if such had been the case she had not intended to give such impression.

CALLED POLICE

It also was brought out that after the petition circulators had been canvassing the district and had obtained some 4000 signatures the signers rose up in protest against the campaign and called the police. The petition circulators were instructed to cease operations, it was testified.

As to the charge that circulators forged the names of residents, Mrs. Siegfried said that in two cases she had done so, but only after the parties in question had told her she might sign for them.

On motion of Commissioner Holmes the commission voted to drop the matter, as any apparent irregularities had been fully explained and the commission was not concerned in the number of names attached to any petition in the case, but merely with the merits of the petition of applicants and protestants.

Forger Suspect Wanted Here

When San Francisco authorities are through prosecuting Clifton Herrold, arrested there Tuesday night and charged with passing fictitious checks totaling $17,500, his presence will be requested in Los Angeles. Police said yesterday that Herrold, who, according to dispatches had represented himself in San Bay City as a Standard Oil official, a Hollywood jeweler and a wealthy Southern California capitalist, is wanted here on a charge of forgery.

Herrold here under the name of Walter Jacobs, he is asserted to have victimized several jewelry and clothing dealers, by purchasing merchandise with forged checks and then returning the articles.

It also was stated by police that Herrold broke out of jail in El Paso on the 2nd inst. and is believed to have been in Los Angeles as recently as the 16th inst.

Federal authorities also would like to question Herrold, they said, in connection with the expert pickings of lonely mail boxes.

MEXICO TELEGRAPH SERVICE REVAMPED

The Western Union Telegraph Company, which recently acquired a controlling interest in the Mexican Telegraph Company, announced yesterday that it is revamping the entire system of that company between this country and Mexico at a cost of approximately $500,000. New cables of several cables are to be laid and the Morgan City (La.) to Vera Cruz cable is to be diverted to Galveston. Not only will the rearrangement reduce operating and maintenance costs, but it will speed up the service.

BOY MAY DIE FROM HURTS UNDER TRUCK

Injured seriously when he slid under the wheels of a heavy truck, Manuel Strand, 15 years of age, of 331 Aunt avenue, was not expected to recover last night by police surgeons who treated him at the Georgia Receiving Hospital. Young Strand and his playmate, Joseph Sandler, were on roller skates and grabbed the rear end of a passing truck driven by Howard Scott. As the truck made a turn Strand was thrown under the rear wheel. Scott was not arrested.

SUSPECT IN THEFT TELLS OF MURDER

Man Held for Burglaries Confesses Killing Pal in Bay City Quarrel

The signed confession of the murder of his asserted partner in crime as the climax of a series of daring burglaries and highway robberies in San Francisco was made yesterday by Francis E. Ward, alias Joe Williams, to Detective Sergeant Bohr of San Francisco, Detective Lieutenant Doyle of the police department and Capt. Bright of the Sheriff's office, it was announced last night.

Argument over the division of spoils from a delicatessen store robbery a few nights before ended in Ward beating his companion, John Starr, to death with a heavy chair in the bedroom of the latter's home, a cottage in the rear of 147 Julian street, San Francisco, on the night of January 4, last, Ward confessed, the officers said.

Ward was arrested here two months ago on a burglary charge after Doyle and Detective Lieutenant Brown of the Central Station burglary detail saw him leaving a drug store at 2300 Sunset Boulevard. After his arrest Ward said he had committed a "serious crime" in the Bay City. It was not until last night, however, that he openly confessed the murder, arresting officers stated.

The accused man, who is 26 years of age, admitted burglaries, subsequent arrests and many prison escapes throughout the State during the past nine years, officers said. He said he served sentences in San Quentin and Folsom, being sent to the latter prison after escaping from San Quentin road camp. He also escaped from Ione, his statement said. He asked to be given protection from publicity in exchange for his confession, officials stated.

Ward gave his home address as 583 The Embarcadero, San Francisco.

EDUCATION'S AIMS LISTED BY DR. SCOTT

Northwestern's President Tells Breakfast Club of War on Human Misery

How the metropolitan universities of the country are fighting the four great causes of human misery—poverty, disease, wrongdoing and ignorance—was touched on yesterday in an address to the Breakfast Club by Dr. Walter Dill Scott, president of Northwestern University.

"The great universities are organized to make more effective the work of the social service institutions, the hospitals, the courts, churches and the public schools," said Dr. Scott. "The metropolitan university is no glorified athletic club. Every well-planned course that it offers has some vocational utility that will increase the value of the student to the world.

"So it is that we have not alone the academic courses and the business courses, but we also have our research departments, our clinics and our courses in religion—for the religious education of the student is one of the greatest contributions to the world by the metropolitan university."

Dr. Scott is spending a brief vacation at Pasadena, having arrived from Chicago about a week ago. He will be the guest of honor at a dinner to be given tonight by Southern California alumni of Northwestern University at the Windsor Tea Room, at 6:30 o'clock. Reservations may be made by telephoning Metropolitan 3968. At yesterday's breakfast, the popularity of Southern California as a winter resort was indicated by the fact that six prominent Illinois business men, trustees of Northwestern University, attended with Dr. Scott.

Program Fixed for Dedication at Culver City

Details of the program for the dedication of Culver City's new City Hall on Saturday were announced yesterday by John F. Miller, chairman of the arrangements committee. The ceremonies will begin at noon, when the colors will be presented by members of Community Post, American Legion, the Women's Auxiliary and United Veterans of the Republic, and will conclude with a dance and entertainment in the Auditorium in the evening. Motion-picture players will contribute to the latter part of the program.

Principal speakers at the dedication will be Buron Fitts, District Attorney; Frank N. Belgrano, department commander, American Legion; Eugene W. Biscailuz, undersheriff, and Reve Houck, Mayor of Culver City. Gov. Young also may be able to attend and assist in the ceremonies.

ORDINANCE ADOPTED

An ordinance of intention for the widening and laying out of Sherman Way between Variel avenue and Topanga Canyon avenue was adopted by the City Council yesterday and May 3 was set as the date for hearing protests against it.

WILLARD KAYOED BY COURT

Jess Willard, former world fight champion, lost another fight yesterday. This time, however, Jess failed to go down for the count in a courtroom crowded by fight fans, but lost out in a court of equity, where a judgment for $2585.53 was returned against him and his wife, Hattie Willard, by Superior Judge Downs in favor of John A. McCabe.

Willard, tried several weeks ago in this action under submission to the judge. It arose over a promissory note for $2585 executed by the Willards November 3, 1925, in favor of Fred H. Luth, to run three years. Later the note was assigned to McCabe. The Willards defaulted in payment and property securing the paper was sold for $1000. After costs of the sale were subtracted the remainder was applied as a payment on the note. It is the contention of McCabe that $2232.10 with interest still is due.

Willard maintained that when the property held as security was sold it canceled his obligation on the note.

BEACHES BEGIN TO LOOK LIKE SPRING

Mercury Climbs and Balminess Will Continue Awhile

Now That the Sands at Ocean Park Have Grown Warm

WHILE Southern Californians scurried around under umbrellas dodging the rain a year ago, yesterday the peeled their coast under a sun which sent the thermometer to 78 deg. and many of their children initiated the spring bathing season at the beaches.

Fair and warm weather will prevail today with an outlook for continued warm weather during the next few days, meteorologists predicted last night.

Yesterday's top temperature was ten degrees above that registered on the same date last year, when .21 of an inch of rain fell here, according to the records of the United States Weather Bureau.

Several hundred children took advantage of the warm sands and water at Ocean Park while bathing suits were the mode instead of topcoats along Southern California's coast.

Colden Scores Use of Aliases in Julian Case

Charges that the names of city officials were protected in drawing 143 Julian Petroleum usury complaints which have been lying dormant in the City Prosecutor's office were made yesterday on the floor of the Council by Councilman Colden. He pointed out that the defendants in all the complaints are merely named as "John Doe."

Councilman Colden's remarks were made during the discussion of a finance committee report on his resolution asking City Prosecutor Nix to account for the $10,000 appropriated by the Council to prosecute the usury complaints. His resolution was introduced when Nix requested an additional $25,000 appropriation to hire special counsel.

The City Prosecutor has already given the Council a list of the disbursements out of the $10,000 appropriation but it did not contain the names of the persons who received the money nor any explanation of the purpose for which it was paid out. The committee report asked that the prosecutor be requested to furnish this information and also asked that he be directed to have the deputy of his office who had charge of the drafting of the complaints appear before the committee to explain the present status of the cases.

Keeper Freed for Sake of Chimpanzees

The fate of three chimpanzees, which have only two bronchial tubes each and need their chests rubbed with lard nightly to withstand the rigors of Southern California winters, hung in the balance yesterday for a moment when Charles Lewis, their trainer, appeard before Superior Judge Shaw on a charge of driving while intoxicated.

Lewis told the judge all about the chimpanzees when he appeared in court, stating that he cared not what penalty was imposed so long as he would be permitted to care for the animals under his charge.

"They have only two bronchial tubes each," Lewis said, "while human beings have four. For that reason they are very susceptible to colds and I have to rub their chests with lard every night. I am willing to pay any reasonable penalty for my act, but do not want to be taken away from my charges, for it may cost their lives."

After hearing this plea, Judge Shaw refused to invoke the death penalty upon the chimpanzees and fined Lewis $300 and suspended his driver's license for one year.

Author Works On Diction of Radio Talkers

Hamlin Garland, one of America's foremost novelists, has returned to New York after a long sojourn in Los Angeles. He recently wrote a friend here that he was so delighted with the climate and social features of this city that he and Mrs. Garland will make their home here each winter.

While visiting at the house of his daughter, Mrs. Constance Hopper of East Live Oak Drive, Hollywood, last winter and during early spring Mr. Garland wrote several chapters of a new book of biography and reminiscence. As chairman of a committee of the American Academy of Arts and Letters, appointed for the purpose of finding a way to improve the diction of radio announcers, and to award a gold medal each year to the best announcer, Mr. Garland interested several prominent local men and women in this work, and it will be carried on from month to month during his absence from the city. He expects to return here in December.

Reiling and his wife were arrested by Inspectors Welliver and Monroy on a charge of selling seven ounces of morphine to a Federal agent for $500, at wholesale prices, the retail price being reported as $3100.

Reiling and his wife are scheduled to appear for hearing before United States Commissioner Head on Monday.

POLICE PAY TRIBUTE TO SERGT. BAAB

Officer Slain Sunday at Anniversary Celebration Buried at Rosedale

Clothed in the uniform which he had worn in years of service to his city, Police Sergeant E. C. Baab went to his last resting place yesterday.

The popular officer who was shot to death by George S. Arnold, the wartime comrade he had befriended for seven years, at the end of a combined birthday and wedding anniversary celebration in his home at 700 Lucille avenue early last Sunday morning, was buried in the family plot at Rosedale Cemetery.

A police escort accompanied the cortege to the grave. It was headed by Lieut. F. A. Therkorn and included four sergeants, sixteen patrolmen and eight motorcycle officers, all of them drawn from the personnel of the Georgia-street Station, where Baab had served in charge of the vice squad. The interment followed last rites in the chapel of Brown Brothers, 935 West Washington street, at which Rev. E. P. Ryland officiated.

In addition to his widow and 5-year-old daughter, Rosemary, the deceased leaves a mother and brother, both of Los Angeles.

The next chapter in the tragedy will be written in Division 3 of the Municipal Court on April 3, when Arnold appears for preliminary hearing before Judge Ambrose on a charge of murder.

SUIT SAYS NEIGHBORHOOD JUST GOING TO THE DOGS

Arp, arp! Yipe, yipe! And likewise woof, woof!

From the doggery of Howard and Esther Wilkins at No. 184 on the not unmusically named street, Wapello Road, in Altadena, arose a continuous chorus of canine cacophony, according to Mrs. Clara M. Weber, plaintiff in an injunction suit against the Wilkinses.

Mrs. Weber, in addition to asking for an injunction, seeks $20,000 damages, declaring injury was done to her property has depreciated.

More than twenty-five neighbods made affidavit to their belief that the Wilkins doggery is a nuisance, and several of them testified before Superior Judge Willis to that effect. Mrs. Weber said she had to move on account of the dogs, but moved back when Superior Judge Oates granted a temporary injunction against the maintenance of inhabited kennels at the Wilkins home.

Judge Willis took the case under advisement.

The specimens will be on exhibit for several days at the R. H. Stone studio, 2672 East Hope street, Huntington Park. Mr Johnson said that while the history and culture of the Southwest tribes have been thoroughly studied, a wealth of fascinating material still awaits the student who will investigate the past and present of the northern tribes which include the Klamaths, Smith River tribe, Lagoons, Eel River tribe and the Hupas of Trinity River.

Today's Bible Text

Sing unto the Lord; for He hath done excellent things: this is known in all the earth. Isa. xii, 5.

A JAR OF JAM

Sure enough the man who looks for a traffic jam is certain to get a jar. Any cop could tell him that.

ALWAYS READY

At this moment it is said that the Red Cross has its relief agencies at work in no less than seventeen States of the Union. Whether it be flood, fire or famine the society will be found on the danger line applying such assistance as seems most imperative at the time. We have a huge country and there are always several afflicted sections. The Red Cross is the one agency that covers the field.

MAN OF THE HOUR

Secretary Mellon has been buffeted by numerous politicians of both parties, but the fact remains that he has been in the Cabinets of three different Presidents and is now in his ninth year as the lord of the treasury. Let anyone match it who can. He has saved his country more in one term than all his predecessors combined. When it comes to records of merit he has won them all.

THE PRIVATE LIFE

Calvin Coolidge told the New York reporters that he was trying to get back into private life and he asked them to help him do so. Mr. Coolidge feels that he is entitled to privacy, but the gentlemen of the press will not let him have it until he ceases to be news. Some day a New York paper may say: "Calvin Coolidge, a lawyer of Northampton, is in the city on a short business and shopping visit. Come again, Cal." And that day Mr. Coolidge will be happy.

FARM RELIEF

Farmers in Minnesota are installing metal tanks or receptacles on their lands. Each tank holds about 1500 bushels of grain and when one is filled it is inspected and sealed by some official and a certificate made out. At the banks these certificates are supposed to be good for loans up to 70 per cent of the market value. This method takes care of the warehousing problems and also aids the farmer in marketing the crop to best advantage. It is merely another illustration of the means the farmer may take to get the best results and help himself—with a little friendly boosting on the side.

LET THE NAME ALONE

That street names should not be changed without excellent reasons ought to be Maxim No. 1 in any book for the guidance of City Councilmen. No particular reasons, except those of certain really interests, have been urged for the proposed change on the name of Sunset Boulevard to Hollywood Boulevard; therefore, the Council should let the name alone. Desire of some of the property owners along the street in question is not a reason for the change; street names do not belong to the street alone, but to the whole city.

In this case there is a good reason for not making the change—the fact that it will make possible for a region which is not entitled to it, exploitation in the name of Hollywood. It is, in fact, almost a fraud.

Sunset Boulevard is an appropriate name for the street in question, used for years, familiar to the whole population of the city, cause of no confusion. The change would introduce confusion, cause expense, and produce no good results. The present proposal, to change a portion of the street, would leave Sunset Boulevard in two apparently disconnected parts one leading from the Plaza to Centennial street, one leading from the present juncture of Sunset and Hollywood Boulevards, westward through Beverly Hills. If any change is to be made, it obviously should be made all at once, and can wait until it is practicable to make it all at once. It is not a matter of life and death, and does not have to be made piecemeal.

The proponents of the piecemeal change presumably feel such action would put the city on record and commit it to change the name of the remainder when the present legal entanglements are out of the way. But such a tactical advantage is not sufficient excuse for creating this confusion.

HOOVER AND THE SOUTH

President Hoover is President of all the people, regardless of party. That he also is to be a real party leader, he made manifest in his declaration outlawing the present Republican organizations in Mississippi, Georgia and South Carolina, and putting those in Texas, Alabama and Florida on probation. In undertaking this party reorganization, the President is performing far more than a party service. The restoration of the two-party system in the South will remove an extremely unwholesome condition in national politics. If sectionalism and division on race lines can be eliminated, and parties that are actually built on principles instead of prejudices re-established, the party system of government will operate as it is supposed to and the whole nation will benefit.

It is to this end that the President is working. That he will be opposed by many old-line politicians, who know how to operate the present party machinery and do not wish to become familiar with something different, goes without question, and his effort may precipitate a bitter fight and even something of a split.

But the Republican party can better afford to lose the elements that will be disgruntled by Hoover's cleansing work than to continue to be represented, in some States, by corrupt organizations that are interested solely in patronage, and which have in some instances actually sold offices to the highest bidder. Recent Congressional investigations of the patronage situation in various Southern States have proved the need for a house-cleaning. The Republican party can make no headway under such conditions, and it is not surprising that it has made none. Where such organizations hold sway, it is actually to their advantage to muster a mere handful of votes on election day, to make no effort to send Republicans to Congress, to make only a bluff campaign for State offices and State control; it is more profitable to control Federal patronage which needs to be divided only among a few, and to control delegations to the national party convention which are frankly on the auction block.

Parties are not built up by the merely office-hungry; they are built up by public-spirited leadership, by men who put principle above temporary advantage. Under the patronage or spoils system, which President Hoover is making valiant efforts to end, politicians for revenue only reap most of the rewards of party success, but they are, in fact, merely the froth of party organization. The solid substance is less conspicuous, but it constitutes the real strength of the party. In Mississippi, in Alabama, in Georgia, the Republican party in the past has been all froth.

This has not been for lack of men in those States who believe in Republican principles, but because the nominal leadership was of such character that it neither wanted, nor could attract, followers, in fact, was better calculated to drive them away.

It will be said that the last election, in which Florida, Virginia and Texas joined in the Republican column, the States, formerly, like them, traditionally Democratic, has given President Hoover an unique opportunity for his reform. This is not quite the case. Republicanism in the South has been growing for years, along with industrial development which brought about a changed viewpoint. The impulses toward it have been, in fact, as vigorous in some of the States which still retain traditional voting habits as in the States which have begun to vote as they think. By insisting upon genuine and clean Republican party organizations in these States, President Hoover has cleared the way for a further abandonment of traditional voting, and will also compel the Democratic organizations in those States to shake off their lethargy and clean house.

It will be a good thing for the Democratic party as well as for the nation and the Republican party to have the "solid South" broken up, so that a real opposition party with nation-wide strength may be formed, with sectional and racial lines obliterated. Real opposition keeps the majority party healthy, forces it to justify its program to itself and the electorate, puts it on its good behavior.

The natural party divisions in any country are into conservative and liberal or radical camps, with a middle-of-the-road group holding the balance of power. It is the duty of the conservative group to do most of the governing, and so accept, make workable and put into practice such innovations as the liberal group may bring forward and as are judged to be of value. The United States has had no such natural party alignment for more than a generation and has suffered from it.

WHERE SCREEN STARS SHINE

Establishment of the motion-picture industry here has been a boon to Los Angeles and Southern California that every resident of the Southwest is glad to recognize. It has advertised us all over the civilized world. It has attracted to our city much of the best in art and literature, much of the beauty and talent of America and Europe and hosts of visitors and sightseers. It has given zest and color to our social activities. It has provided us with our second largest home industry.

These things are well known and of them reams have been written in every description of public print and by thousands of private correspondents. Yet perhaps the finest attribute of the screen stars is the unstinted generosity with which they have always given their valuable time and exceptional talents for the good of any cause or charity that will benefit the community where they made their home. It is a feature of filmland our people should never lose sight of.

On April 1 Hollywood will again be on parade to further a constructive movement for adding to the cultural growth of Southern California. At the Shrine Auditorium on that evening the entire motion-picture industry will be on deck to stage a "Screen Stars Gambol" to help raise a fund of $300,000 to build an art school on the new campus of the Loyola University at Del Rey. As on all such occasions the screen stars and the motion-picture industry will give the very best they have to make the occasion both a spectacular and financial success.

The cause to which Hollywood has pledged its support commends itself to all who love their home land and are interested in its future. Loyola University is one of the group of scholastic establishments that promise to convert the region between Los Angeles and the ocean into one of the greatest cultural centers of America. The art building which the motion-picture people are contributing to the university is an earnest of their desire to raise the standards of art, not only among members of their own profession, but among all residents of the Southwest. It will be appropriately dedicated to "the glory of God and the youth of America by the motion-picture industry of the world."

COMMENDABLE ECONOMY

Because President Hoover does not believe that $300,000 a year should be expended by the government to keep the yacht Mayflower in commission for occasional Presidential excursions, he has ordered the luxurious yacht to be laid up at the Washington navy yard and her officers and crew disbanded. These include 148 enlisted men and petty officers as well as eight commissioned officers, all of whom are to be assigned to other stations.

President Hoover, as another minor personal economy, has also decommissioned the White House stable, turning the saddle horses over to the army quartermaster. In both these instances he has set a commendable example to the large number of public officials seeking to increase rather than to diminish their personal expense accounts.

The marine perquisite to the Presidency was added to the ornamental things of the chief magistrate's life during the Roosevelt regime, and has cost the nation about $6,000,000. In the view of some people the fact that a President with a salary of $75,000 a year should have at his command a yacht costing $300,000 a year has seemed inconsistent, but even if one lumps all the expenditure incidental to the high office it would not begin to compare with the cost of the British royal household, which ran as high as $11,000,000 a year during the reign of King Edward VII.

This is a wealthy nation, and our people never have begrudged their Presidents the comparatively small sums expended for their maintenance or their luxury. But if President Hoover has concluded that the Mayflower expense is not a wise or necessary one that is his affair, and nobody need feel called upon to object to it on the ground of parsimony or other grounds. To most people who approve of official economy the lopping off of $300,000 a year for a luxury for which Mr. Hoover evidently cares but little will seem a highly commendable act.

A HORSE APIECE

Somebody holds that while the father is the legal head of the family the mother is the boss. That seems to be a pretty fair way to leave the argument—if any.

The LEE SIDE O' L.A.

By Lee Shippey

EVERY now and then some superfundamentalist or other unthinking person blames the motion pictures for all the sins of the rising generation. As the father of quite a large section of young America, we feel we have a good deal of inside info on this subject and can qualify as an expert witness.

The fault, dear Brutus, is not in our motion-picture stars, but in ourselves if our children are moral underlings.

We must frankly admit that if it weren't for the neighborhood theater our children would be even worse than they are.

Two-Gun Uplift

We believe our twenty-mule-team quartet, Henry, Charles, John and Frank, are typical American kids. And can you get them to be perfectly good and virtuous by telling them that all really nice little boys do thus and so? You cannot. But if one begins to act babyish just say, "Now, now, Tom Mix!" and he'll square up to a manly pose in a minute. "Look here, young fellow, you can't be Ken Maynard this week if you pick on boys smaller than yourself" invariably has an inspiring effect. "Remember, Jack Holt is a man of his word, boys," will make them snap out of an inclination to deceive far better than the outworn Washington legend will—they've "seen" Jack Holt. And so it goes.

And they'll try to be good all week in order to go to the show on Saturday afternoon.

In other words, the "blood-and-thunder westerns" many people criticise are, to our notion, doing more to inspire the youngsters of this country to manliness, courage, honor and truth than the Sunday-school teachers are. Not that the latter don't strive nobly, but their lessons bore, while Ken Maynard's fascinate.

No Miseress, Anyway

I walked into a pen shop
On Main street yesterday
And asked to try a fountain pen
Which on the counter lay.

I wrote "E Pluribus Unum"
(Of Latin all I know.)
In many styles I flourished it
With ink of purple hue.

"You use pens fine," the salesmaid said
(A blonde.) "So many rain 'em
By pressin' down too hard. But you
Write lovely, Mr. Unum."—T. Hee.

Well, the poor girl probably never gets to keep a dollar long enough to get familiar with what's on it.

Companionate Articles

On our front page other day the headline over the article in Column 7 and the cut illustrating the entirely different article in Column 8 came in juxtaposition, with a result which tickled one of our observant readers:

Confession

Well, when we were in Mexicali the other day we rather wanted to kill one or two, but our wife was along and wouldn't let us.

Lee: On Sunset Boulevard the other morning a topless city touring car with the city coat-of-arms on its sides was towing a two-wheeled crated trailer containing two jackasses. Can you explain to me the comment of a man who is a drawing poker addict, to the effect that they were drawing a pair of jacks to a full house?—Walter Sinclair.

Well, city cars have carried more than one pair of jacks to the City Hall.

There May Be Some Connection

Somehow this recalls that little poem about the smiling pansies around the City Hall. When it was read aloud to our friend, E. M., who is slightly hard of hearing, he misunderstood. He thought it was about pantsies.

He couldn't understand it, because he said that there were two or three pantsies around the City Hall which were going to get kicked this spring.

TENDER-HEARTED

Although Norway is a land of fisheries and fishermen a Norwegian court has just ruled that it is both cruel and illegal to use live bait. Fishermen have always argued that it didn't hurt a minnow much to run a barbed skewer through his innards. Of course it wasn't exactly entertainment for him, but being impassionate and rather bloodless it was held that there was no great sensation of pain. But this Norgewian judge is contra-minded and if he had his way the Norse fishermen would be using rubber bugs or chunks of liver for bait. On the other hand there is a suspicion that the larger fish when taking the bait are not accorded any more tender consideration. This has to be a cruel world and to a considerable extent the natural law of the survival of the fittest still prevails.

SEEING THE WORLD

California contributed nearly 700 passengers to one vessel making the journey to Atlantic ports by way of the Panama Canal. Presumably they had seen California first and were not averse to beholding what others had to offer. At that they may be glad to get back home.

NOW WE DON'T WANT IT

By James J. Montague
(Apologies to John Colden)

Years back, when I went to the movies,
Extremely annoying I found
The lively grimace of a hard-working face
Which functioned without any sound.
I could not get used to the silence,
I chafed when a longshoreman's riot
Or a brewer's parade must perforce be portrayed
In absolute quiet.

To transfer the lines to the titles
To me seemed extremely absurd.
No scene could instill any sort of a thrill
When never a voice could be heard.
A hero whose lips uttered nothing
Appeared to me futile and weak.
"Perhaps he'd get by as an actor," said I,
"If he only could speak."

Today when I go to the movies
And hark while the actors go through
The lines of the play in the uncanny way
Which you and I know that they do,
And listen to fire truck sirens
And baseball fans' riotous cheers,
And the rackets and roars of the great out of doors,
I stop up my ears.

The screen, without doubt has a future.
It plays a remarkable part
When it has a real chance to promote the advance
Of the glorious Thespian art.
Even now quite a few of the players
Could give me an old-fashioned thrill
If the misguided souls while enacting their roles,
Would only keep still!

Direct Primary Ills

LOS ANGELES, March 21.—[To the Editor of The Times:] With the essential points of your editorial, "The Free-for-All," I am in full agreement. Though I have always been a champion of the direct primary, as preferable to the old party system, I have not been blind to its short-comings. The remedy is to correct its weaknesses, not to return to the old methods.

You are correct in showing the absurdity of asking the voters to choose the best among a large group. It is impossible. Frequently the political charlatan drafts pliable candidates, not with any thought of nominating them, but for the sole purpose of splitting the vote that might go to an opponent of his pet candidate.

Coupled with all this chicanery is the other stupid notion that democracy implies the idea that more and more offices should be elective, instead of appointive. The essence of democracy implies the importance of making public office easily controlled by the people. This cannot be done by lengthening the ballot with a multiplicity of names.

I would suggest this remedy for some of the ills of the direct primary, in addition to reducing the number of elective officers: Every candidate should pay a filing fee. He should be obliged to furnish with his application an outline of his career and experience (together with a statement of his reasons for seeking the office) and his picture. He should then be allowed a specified space in a pamphlet to be issued and mailed to every voter. His fee should be sufficient to pay the cost of this pamphlet. That is, the cost would come from the total fees paid and all these statements should be in one pamphlet. Then there should follow a heavy penalty against the expenditure of any other campaign funds, either directly or indirectly in his behalf. Either that or a strict limitation upon such expenditures.

If We Break Faith

LOS ANGELES, March 22.—[To the Editor of The Times:] When viewing Santa Monica Bay recently, and particularly the section which it is proposed to inclose in a yacht harbor, I was greatly impressed with the beauty of the scene—a view which is unsurpassed on the Pacific Coast in my opinion, and we have recently returned from a round trip to Seattle by auto via the coast route. This magnificent view determined us to build and live in this district since coming to California over six years ago. It seems strange that anyone should want to see this beautiful vista marred by unsightly scows and tugs, the air polluted by smoke and cinders, and no doubt the water contaminated by limestone and other refuse. All this aside from the very objectionable features of the quarry itself, with its blasting and pollution of the air with dust, and perhaps smoke, to be carried by the prevailing winds into the residential district.

While the applicant, for the permit are hiring engineers to go about seeking testimonials in their favor, and spending large sums of money for advertising in the smaller papers throughout this part of the State, to secure their assistance, the residents can merely sign petitions, and pray that the permit will be refused.

It is merely an effort to make more millions by exploiting this property at the expense of the residents and property owners of the district, and by those who are not at all in need, and who would in the long run make more money and friends by abandoning the project.

Street-Car Service

LOS ANGELES, March 22.—[To the Editor of The Times:] We are pleased to note that an improvement has been made on the W car line of the Los Angeles railway, having added more cars, reducing the time to four minutes during the rush hours.

We suppose a 7-cent fare would be equal to 10-cent in our eastern cities where their investments are greater and the upkeep higher, requiring more expensive heated cars, also their equipment for clearing the tracks of snow.

The Pacific Electric Company furnish larger up-to-date heated cars, and only a slight difference in fare if any, as they charge a 5-cent fare for short haul, and a 10-cent fare which covers a greater part of the city, the average may be about the same.

Let us hope for more improvements in the yellow car service.

AMBASSADOR DAWES

BY SCOTT C. BONE
Former Governor of Alaska

The prospective appointment of Gen. Charles G. Dawes as ambassador to the Court of St. James is eminently fitting. He is a great American. For three decades he has been prominent in national and international affairs. He was chief lieutenant to Marcus A. Hanna in the movement to nominate William McKinley for President in 1896, and rendered great service when the electorate was off at a tangent in that tense period for free silver. President McKinley appointed him Comptroller of the Currency and he filled that position, although then a young man, with rare efficiency and distinction. His later career is fresh in mind. Upon America's entrance into the World War, he gave up his business and tendered his services to his country. He was the right-hand man of Gen. Pershing in France and rose from the rank of colonel to that of brigadier-general. Congress awarded him th Medal of Honor for his war service and his subsequent reparations work.

Returning from overseas, he succeeded in establishing the budget system at Washington, and thus saved the nation many millions in public expenditures. Statesmen had long advocated the system, but it remain for it to be accomplished at his aggressive hands.

Great Britain will take it as a high compliment that President Hoover should send the late Vice-President to St. James as his personal representative.

John Adams, America's first envoy extraordinary and minister plenipotentiary to London, after serving in like capacity at Paris, was once asked by King George how he liked France and England. His response was characteristically American. He said: "I avow to your Majesty that I have no affection save for my own country."

This will be the spirit in which Ambassador Dawes will enter upon his duties. Always he will be an American. But, a man of the world, he will attune himself to diplomatic life and be at home at court. He is a cultured gentleman. His impetuosity in recent years, to gain his points, is not a true index to his character. His "Hell and Maria" and his upside-down pipe do not accurately portray his personality. He is reserved and lovable, and tactful, ordinarily, in a rare degree. He has been an outstanding citizen of Chicago, helpful in every good cause and more than generous in civic ambitions.

WHERE CAN I LEARN

Journalism?

BY LOUISE L. TEMPLE

[Prepared in co-operation with the Los Angeles evening high schools. Questions concerning free evening classes will be answered if stamped addressed envelope is inclosed. Address: Louise L. Temple care of The Times. All public school classes are suspended for the week of March 25-29, for the Easter vacation, reopening April 1.]

Excellent newspaper make-up is a matter of habit with the Metropolitan Mirror, published by the journalism class of the Metropolitan Part-Time High School, Venice Boulevard between Hill and Grand. Two different groups of students attend this school, including the evening groups.

Frances Hov is the instructor in journalism; and, in addition to holding the paper to high artistic standards of appearance, she secures lecturers to address the class on such subjects as "The Psychology of Newspaper Work" and "The Laws of Libel."

Those desiring to prepare for journalism can secure a sound foundation in this class. There is practice in every phase of newspaper business, from editorial writing to proof-reading and advertisement gathering.

The evening class meets on Tuesday and Thursday, from 7 to 9 p.m. There is no tuition or other expense to the student, unless he should care to join one of the twenty clubs which meet in the evening. Even these do not have dues above a dollar or two for a year.

IS FAITH RATIONAL?

By the Church Editor

Now that we are approaching another anniversary of the Resurrection, the church editor of The Times is receiving from persons (whose motives we charitably refuse to analyse too closely) letters which characterise Christians as dupes and dunces, mad idealists and victims of superstition.

We are not trying to "answer" these letter writers. Perhaps no answer would change them or satisfy them. There is such a thing as a will to doubt as well as a "will to believe." He who is determined to disbelieve in all that is good or beautiful will swear that all evidence is illusion and all demonstrations but tricks.

Yet when man looks about him he sees the eternal insistence of life in myriad forms. He sees regeneration, resurrection everywhere. No human being ever has proved or demonstrated death. He has proved only life. He has proved only that life, according to a certain definite manifestation, has abandoned one form to remanifest itself in another form, but he never has proved the cessation of life itself, nor the annihilation of consciousness.

Duellers Are Debarred From Office

Officeholders taking their official positions in Texas must swear among other things that they have never engaged in duelling. This is a State law, and while it seems to be totally unnecessary in this age, the formalities of the old law are complied with rather than to go to the expense of changing it, which must be done by an expensive referendum.

MICKEY SEEKS ANOTHER TITLE

Lightweight Champion Faces Toy Bulldog

Welterweight King to Fight for Third Crown

Club Tonight Christens New Chicago Stadium

BY CHARLES W. DUNKLEY
Associated Press Sports Writer

CHICAGO, March 27. (AP)—Mickey Walker, famed toy bulldog of the ring, fights for his third world's boxing title tomorrow night by attempting to wrest the light-heavyweight championship from Tommy Loughran in a ten-round battle opening Paddy Harmon's $7,000,000 Chicago Stadium.

Walker, once ruler of the welterweights, and present standard bearer of the middleweight class, will thatch his spotless and terrible hitting form against one of the world's cleverest men in endeavoring to achieve the position of winning his third championship, a distinction held by no other fighter—Bob Fitzsimmons.

OPENS NEW ARENA

The match will be fought in the world's largest indoor sports arena, with indications that a new record for indoor attendance and receipts may be established. The arena has a seating capacity of 25,000. If it is filled the gate receipts may reach $500,000.

The advance sale is heavy, but Promoter Harmon does not expect a capacity attendance, unless it come at the last minute. His best

NEW YORK, March 27.—Ebbetts Field, Brooklyn, is to be the scene of all the boxing bouts that Humbert Fugazy's promotion organization, which includes Jack Dempsey and Edwin J. Cole, plans for the outdoor season this year.

Fugazy's office announced that a lease had been signed today by Stephen McKeever of the Brooklyn baseball club.

STARS BOW TO SACS AGAIN

Doc Crandall Stops Hollywood Rally in Ninth and Hurls Sacramento to 5-to-4 Victory

SACRAMENTO, March 27.—A ninth-inning rally by Hollywood fell one run short of a tie score today and Sacramento defeated Oscar Vitt's Sheiks for a second successive hair-edge victory, 5 to 4.

The Stars went into the final inning three down to the Senators. Walter Rehg batted for Hulvey and doubled off the left-field fence. Rehg also served as a pinch hitter yesterday and swatted out a double. Lee drew a pass behind Rehg. Maloney flied out to Burke to advance Rehg to third base, from which station Rehg scored on Rumler's infield out. Bonowitz's double, scoring Lee, put the Stars in a menacing position, but Carlyle grounded out to end the game.

Manager Buddy Ryan let the Stars look at another spitball hurler today in "Doc" Crandall, while Vitt selected Hensel Hulvey. The honors were as even as the run totals.

Hollywood scored with two out in the third when Albert, Bonowitz and Carlyle slugged successive singles. Incidentally, this chap Albert has been doing some hefty hitting for the Vitt Sheiks.

This lead was good for an inning

Stanford Faces Washington on Indoor Track

BY BUD SPENCER
Holder of world's 400-meter record and former Stanford track captain.

SEATTLE, March 27.—The stage is all set for Seattle's big one-ring track circus tomorrow evening at 8 o'clock. The Stanford team, twenty-five first-class performers, generally rated as a safe bet to retain its national collegiate honors this spring, will provide half of the entertainment. Washington University, supposedly supporting the best track squad ever collected in the Northwest, will furnish the other part of the evening's fun.

The 220-yard oval, in a pavilion seating close to 10,000 spectators, surrounds the runways, circles and pits needed for the field events and, while not as elaborate as some of giant field houses in the Middle West, it will serve as a cozy place for one of the greatest track entertainments ever staged in this vicinity. There have been three days of rain in this northern populace, and, as some of the Stanford boys remarked last night, it is a good thing

BEAR HURDLER OUT OF MEET

Borah Finishes Second in Practice Quarter

Wehner Big Surprise With Brilliant Effort

BY RALPH HUSTON

California will be without the services of Al Pogolotti, star hurdler, when the Bears and Trojans meet in a conference dual meet in the Coliseum Saturday afternoon. The official entry list of the Berkeley squad was received yesterday by the Trojans, and the four hurdlers named did not include the Sophomore sensation.

However, Coach Christie still has a speedy stick artist in Watkins, also a sophomore, whose sole claim to fame is that he was leading by something like a hurdle and a half in the freshman meet with Stanford last year when he fell down. Watkins, Catrow and Ulah are named for the lows, and this same trio, plus Werdell, for the highs.

The complete Bear entry list is as follows:

100—Giguere, Bisby.
220—Giguere, Bisby, Sparks.
440—Johnson, Clark, Sparks.
880—Chase, Rust, Clark.
Mile—Carter, Cherry, Henderson.
Two mile—Mausman, Jackson.
Low hurdles—Catrow, Watkins, Ulah.
High hurdles — Castrow, Watkins, Ulah, Werdel.

KENNEDY MAY REFEREE BOUT

Lieut. Jack Rumored as Third Man in Ring With Morgan and Zorilla, Tuesday at the Olympic; Abe Roth and Harry Gilmore Also Mentioned

Lieut. Jack Kennedy was being prominently mentioned yesterday as the third man in the ring for next Tuesday night's world's junior lightweight title bout between Tod Morgan and Santiago Zorilla.

The two alternates were Abe Roth and Harry Gilmore. The fact that Harry Lee worked last Tuesday at the Olympic indicates he will not work next week.

Kennedy's work has been well liked by the boxing commission. He seems to "hit" all the way around. The fans like him as well as the fighters and the fighters' manager, the latter being often the hardest group to suit.

There was a report current yesterday that Lieutenant Kennedy would work both the Morgan-Zorilla title shot and the Ace Hudkins-Armand Emanuel Wrigley Field bout, which comes two weeks afterwards.

Kennedy is the referee, who when not working with judges, sometimes points to the corner after each round indicating which fighter took the heat.

There is a chance for wide controversy over this system and Kennedy might not follow it for a bout so important as the Morgan-Zorilla feud which carries the title with the winner.

Kennedy is suitable to both Frank Churchill and Wirt Ross, it is said. He has worked bouts for Zorilla before and he has officiated for

TROJANS TIE BEARS; CARDS DEFEAT BRUINS

Stanford's powerful tennis team hurdled its greatest obstacle in its path toward the Coast Conference college championship yesterday by defeating the University of California at Los Angeles netters by a 4-3 score. The matches were held at the Palomar Tennis Club at Cheviot Hills.

While the Bruins and Redshirts battled, the Bears of Berkeley and the U.S.C. Trojans broke even in their six-tilt series, each taking three wins. The Bears took three of the four singles, but lost both doubles contests. Harold Barr of the Trojans was the sole singles winner for his team.

The Stanford team meets the Los Angeles Tennis Club on the latter's courts this afternoon, while the U.C. at Berkeley team enjoys a day of rest, facing Occidental tomorrow at Eagle Rock in a return engagement.

Capt. Bob Laird scored an upset in the Stanford meet by downing Capt. John Wheatley in two sets of 6-4, 6-4, while Leonard Dworkin, another Bruin, also surprised the collegians present with a victory over George Hall of the Red team, 4-6,

THOMPSON WINS MEDAL

Oakmont Golfer's 71 Tops Pasadena Invitation Qualifiers; Match Play Starts Today

BY EDWARD LAWRENCE

Russell (Buddy) Thompson of the Oakmont Country Club, Southern California intercollegiate champion, yesterday won medal honors in the Pasadena invitation tournament with a 34-37—71.

The youngsters made a clean sweep in the qualifying round, Eugene Brown of the California Country Club having low net with 72-6—66. George Lance of Rancho shot a 73, and "Gilly" Eckles of Oakmont a 74.

Thompson, who was even with par going to the seventeenth, missed a golden opportunity of breaking par when he took a 6 on the par-4 hole. He came back with a birdie 4 on the 518-yard, par-5 eighteenth hole, however, for his 71, one over par figures.

Lance, who was out in 37 and back in 36, played fine golf, but the greens tripped him up.

Here are the cards of the three leaders:

Par (Out)	445	434	344	—35
Thompson	345	433	354	—34
Brown	545	435	236	—37
Lance	455	535	334	—37
Par (In)	434	434	445	—35—70
Thompson	445	433	464	—37—71
Brown	435	434	355	—35—72
Lance	434	444	445	—36—73

The first eighteen holes of match play are scheduled for this morning in nine flights. Low thirty-two make up the championship flight, and the defeated eighteen of that flight will be the second flight.

TROJANS TRAMPLE STANFORD

Rally in Ninth to Wallop Cards, 5-4; Dihel, Stanier Are Heroes

The Trojans made it two straight from Stanford yesterday when a two-run rally in the ninth inning gave them a 5-4 victory over the Cards. One hit and two errors gave them the necessary markers.

Larry Dihel, the hard-luck southpaw, turned in another nobby twirling exhibition, and deserved to win. Simpkins lasted until the ninth for the visitors, when he was yanked, and Lewis was charged with the defeat.

A walk to Caballero, a double by Boswell and a single by Stanier gave the locals two runs in the first frame. Stanford picked up a run in the

NORTH AND SOUTH OPEN TITLE FALLS TO SMITH

PINEHURST (N. C.) March 27. (AP)—Another golf title dangled tonight from the bulging belt of Horton Smith, brilliant young Joplin (Mo.) sharpshooter. Climaxing a sensational winter campaign, Smith today added the historic north-and-south open, rich in tradition if not in cash value, to the long list of important tournaments he has bagged since hopping into the spotlight six months ago.

Smith's score of 287 for the seventy-two-hole stretch was two strokes better than the 289 Tommy Armour of the Tam O'Shanter Club, Detroit, used to repeat his performance of last year, and finished in second place.

Roland Hancock, young Lynchburg (Va.) pro, who muffed a golden opportunity to win the national open at Chicago last summer, shot the best two rounds of the day to win third money with a 291. Hancock polled morning and afternoon rounds today that were

Hurler Graham Routed as Support Deserts Him

Seraphs Score All of Runs After Fourth Inning

Butler, Tolson, Warren Lead Attack of Krug Crew

BY BOB RAY

Aided and abetted by some terrible center-fielding on the part of Oscar Eckhardt, Marty Krug's Angels made it two straight over Seattle by winning yesterday's struggle at Wrigley Field, 13 to 3.

The score would make it appear as though the Seraphs had a comfortable time winning, but, as a matter of fact, they were considerably annoyed by the offerings of Kyle Graham until Eckhardt began letting fly balls drop all around him for base hits in the sixth and seventh innings. The Angels took advantage of Eckhardt's lax fielding to score no less than nine very welcome runs in those two big innings.

Graham really pitched a good brand of ball, but he couldn't continue his work without a little help from his team-mates. When Ernie Johnson sent the discouraged hurler to the showers in the seventh right after Dal Warren had socked a homer with two on, the cash customers gave Graham a big ovation. They appreciated Graham's efforts and let him know that they didn't think the defeat was any fault of his.

FOUR HITS FOR BUTLER

Johnny Butler and Shag Tolson were the leading Angel attackers. Butler hammered out two doubles and two singles for a perfect day at the plate, while Tolson slapped out a double and two singles. Warren also aided the Cherub cause with a single and a long homer that landed high in the bleachers. The young Angel backstop looks like a great find and has poked out four hits in the season's first two games.

Carl Holling, the veteran right-hander whom the Cherubs bought from the Red Sox last fall, did a nice job of hurling for the Krugmen, letting the Tribe down with seven hits. One of the two runs scored off Holling came as a re-

LOUGHRAN AND WALKER CLASH

Light-heavyweight Champion Faces Toy Bulldog

Middleweight King to Fight for Third Crown guess tonight was the receipts would exceed $300,000.

Walker and Loughran will [illegible] at the light-heavyweight class of 175 pounds. Loughran, the holder, will scale just about Walker expects to hit the between 165 and 168, which says, is his best fighting They will weigh in at 2 o'clock tomorrow afternoon.

Loughran, carefully watching his weight, felt the need of ing through light exercises this afternoon, to keep his punch exactly on the dot. He did not box. He weighed in at 170 and said he was only a few ounces over 175. He figures his drying-out process will make easy for him to scale easily 175 tomorrow afternoon. Then he will have eight hours in which to eat and sleep and put on additional weight, thus making him into the ring around 8 o'clock p.m., with his full energy and fighting strength. Loughran may go into the ring at 178 pounds. If he does he will have about twelve pounds on the challenger, as Walker says he will not weigh over 166 pounds at ringside.

WALKER AT EASE

Walker did not train at all day. He took a long walk and some calisthenics. That was all has no weight worries. In the afternoon he attended a theatrical performance.

Both are confident of victory. Walker declaring he will knock out Loughran. The Philadelphian said he expected to win decisively, perhaps by a knockout. He said he was in the best of health since winning the 175-pound championship, and that he had a better chance to stop Walker than Walker has to stop him. Walker said Loughran's advantage in weight, height and reach would be no insurmountable handicap if he could fight his best style against bigger opponents. The betting odds vary, with most wagers being made at even money, although in some spots Loughran is quoted as a six-to-five favorite.

They figure Walker has an excellent chance to win by a knockout if he succeeds in crashing over a finishing blow within a few rounds. If Loughran gets by the early rounds they figure the latter will be returned the winner because of his exceptional boxing skill.

Paddy Harmon, a two-fisted gray-thatched Irishman, [illegible] meeting his first fistic vacation, has driven a sharp bargain in bringing Walker and the Philadelphia Adonis [illegible] Loughran is to receive 15 per cent of the gate receipts up to $300,000. If he beats his title is given Walker only $15,000. In addition Loughran has agreed to pay part of the purses for the supporting attractions, a ten-round battle between Tuffy Griffith, Sioux City (Iowa) boy, heavyweight and Leo Lomski, the Aberdeen (Wash.) "mauler."

No information was forthcoming from the State Athletic Commission today as to the referee and judges in the Walker-Loughran bout. They are keeping the names of the officials secret until the last minute. The question of a referee, however, is giving members of the commission deep concern. The word spread around that Fred Fulms, who refereed the Sharkey-Stribling-Rocky Kansas lightweight championship fight, will referee.

ckie Carr is Out to Defeat Mushy Callahan Again at Hollywood

THAT CALLAHAN CASE AGAIN

Here's Mushy Callahan, the junior welterweight king, who meets Jackie Carr at Hollywood tonight—one night ahead of the regular schedule. Carr, a southpaw, beat Mushy in a nontitle fight last year, and Mushy yearns to avenge the defeat. He must if he hopes to defend his title soon in a championship battle.

BEAR HURDLERS OUT

meet might depend on the relay. Coach Dean Cromwell sent a flock of quarter-milers and sprinters over a fast 440 yesterday morning. Vic Williams negotiated the distance in 49.8s. without pulling too hard, with Capt. Charley Borah, the well-known dash king, a scant yard away and running easily.

WEHNER STARS

Lee Bastajian finished third, just nosing out Dick Wehner, the sandy-haired sprinter, who negotiated the quarter for the first time in his career, and was clocked in slightly under :51s. Jack MacFaden, another sophomore, finished fifth, beating Red Maxwell, last year's varsity runner, by agood three yards, and earning a place on the relay team which will face the Bears. Gerald Pearson, who will make up the quartet with Williams, Bastajian and McFadden, did not run.

Warren Woodruff, star two-miler who is running against Carter and Cherry, crack Bear milers, in the four-lap event Saturday, nosed out Ellsworth Patterson and Chris Daniels in a fast three-quarters in 3m. 19s. Bob Sweda, regular miler, who is being tried out in the longer event, recently raced Cliff Halstead, the frosh truck horse, in a six-lap try, in the exceptionally fast time of 7m. 17s.

Jimmy Payne worked out a full flight of low hurdles for the first time this year and finished third to Charley Webber and Duncan Powers in a 25.6s. race. Payne is far from his best form and needs plenty of work. He will not run the lows Saturday against the Bears.

Borah's close second to Williams in the practice quarter has sent Trojan hopes in the Stanford meet soaring again. Borah will need all his strength and ability when he faces Johnny Lauritzen and Hector Dyer in the two Card sprints, but if a few miracles should occur, and bring the meet decision down to the relay, Borah will be willing and ready to run a lap. With Williams, Pearson, Bastajian and Borah galloping the distance, the Cards could use Bud Spencer very handily. Borah looked very good yesterday, and did not tie up, as he has expected. However, he had not run he could go the full quarter so fast. He and Bastajian finished neck-and-neck, both shading 51s. Wehner, however, is needed in the sprints, while Williams, Bastajian and Pearson form a very creditable trio of quarter-milers, and as all are sophomores, with two more varsity years ahead, Wehner doubtless will be confined to the sprints exclusively.

STANIER HERO AS S.C. WINS

fourth on singles by Churchill and Hunken, and Cook's scratch fell, and iced the score in the sixth when Hunken's long drive went over Boswell's head, and rolled under the gate, out of the field, for a homer.

The Cards took the lead in the seventh, scoring two runs. McGrath got an infield hit when the ball took a bad bounce over Gorman's head. Johnson flew out, and Laird beat out a roller to Von Aspe. Simpkins and Wilkins singled in succession to push over two tallies. The Trojans came back for a run on Caballero's single, Boswell's Texas Leaguer and Johnson's error.

Caballero opened the ninth by working Simpkins for a walk. Taylor went in, and Boswell popped up to the new chucker. Kreiger was safe on Churchill's error. Stanier ripped a single to left, Caballero scoring with the tying run. Stanier raced around to third, while Hunken was throwing the ball home. Berg whipped the pellet back to third, but the throw was wild, and Stanier galloped home with the winning run.

Stanier, incidentally, clicked out four hits in five appearances at the plate. Caballero got two out of three, and was twice walked. In addition he played a rousing game at third, and kept the club on its toes throughout with his pepper. Joe Ward also got a couple of hingles.

Billy Laird again was Stanford's outstanding performer. He got three out of four for the second time in as many games, and turned in a snappy fielding game. Capt. Frankie Wilton handled five fly balls in center.

The Cards play the U.C.L.A. Bruins tomorrow afternoon and Saturday morning.

FORMER NAVY STAR PREPARING ESTUARY

BERKELEY, March 27. (Exclusive)—The worries attendant upon preparation for the California-Washington Pacific Coast championship crew regatta on the Oakland Estuary April 13 will fall upon the shoulders of Clyde King, noted Navy athlete, and captain of the Annapolis crew, which won the Olympic title in 1920.

King is distinguished as one of the few men to win a place on the Navy varsity in his sophomore year. He is now engaged in business in San Francisco. King is interested in all forms of boating, and is a member of the South End Boat Club of San Francisco. In his college days King also was a football player. He was a member of the San Francisco Olympic Club squad which defeated California in 1925, to suddenly put an end to a five-year football reign on the Pacific Coast, if not the nation.

SERAPHS WALLOP SIWASHES

Loose Fielding by Eckhardt Starts Downfall of Graham; Warren Pokes Out Long Homer

sult of an error by Johnny Butler in the sixth inning.

The Siwashes started out as though they intended making a real battle of it, getting off to a two-run lead off Holling with scores in the second and third innings. With Graham holding the Angel sluggers in check during the first four rounds it looked as though the Kragmen were going to suffer a setback, but Eckhardt and a couple of other Indians made it easy for the Home Guards in the sixth and seventh innings.

Seattle started the run-making in the second, which Dave Barbee opened with a single over second. Chile McDaniel smashed a safety to right and then Wally Hood, who is a notoriously poor bunter, made one of the best sacrifices of his career to put the runners in scoring position. Chick Ellsworth singled infield to Butler and Barbee scampered home. For some reason or another the Seattle board of strategy thought this would be a good spot for a squeeze play, so Borreani was ordered to bunt. Tolson came in fast to pick up the ball and threw to Warren in time to nail McDaniel at the plate. Webb gathered in Graham's fly to right for the third out.

ERNIE JOHNSON SCORES

Ernie Johnson scored in the third when he walked, stole second and came home on Eckhardt's double to left center.

The Angels got their first run off Graham in the fifth when Ray Jacobs singled to left and sprinted home on Butler's double down the left-field foul line. Butler died on the paths while Warren, Barfoot and Schulmerich went out.

Seattle regained its two-run margin in the sixth, when McDaniel singled to right, went to second when Butler muffed Hood's grounder, and scored on Ellsworth's double off the left center-field fence. Hood was thrown out at the plate on Chick's double. Berger to Butler to Warren. Borreani lofted to Berger for the third out and that was the last time the Siwashes even threatened to score off Holling.

The Angels' big parade began in the home half of the sixth after Jones had shied out to Hood. Webb drew a walk for a starter and went to third, when Barbee lost Tolson's line drive in the sun and it went for a double. Instead of walking Berger to get the stage set for a double play, Graham pitched to the Angel slugger, who promptly drove both runners home, when he singled to left center. Jacobs fouled to Muller, but Butler, Warren and Holling dropped singles into center and two more runs came across. At least two of these singles should have been caught, but Eckhardt hasn't learned the art of getting the jump on the ball so the Indians can expect to see plenty of baseballs drop out in center until Oscar either improves a lot or is replaced. Graham fanned Schulmerich to end the rally.

FIVE MORE MARKERS

Graham was the victim of some more unsteady support in the seventh and the Seraphs shoved across five more markers to sew up the contest. After Johnson had made a marvelous stop to rob Jones of a hit, Eckhardt misjudged Webb's high fly and then, when he did get back under the pellet, dropped the ball for a three-base error. Tolson scored Webb with a single to right. Ellsworth then booted Berger's grounder and soon after Warren shellacked one into about the third row from the top of the bleachers for a home run that scored Tolson and Berger ahead of him. Fred Pipgras, recently turned over to Seattle by Detroit, retired Holling to end the inning, but Barbee had to run clear back to the right-field screen to make the catch.

Walks to Schulmerich and Webb, singles by Jones and Tolson and errors by Hood and Borreani gave the Angels their last three runs in the eighth inning. Score:

Foul Tips

Mario Krug's Angels are still leading the league and it looks as though they'll stay there unless the Indians show a lot of improvement. The former have scored twenty-eight runs in two games, which certainly looks as though they have the edge on power.

Red Roberts, who was purchased on trial from Wichita, will get a chance to start against Seattle today. The big redhead has looked good in his few times out and Krug believes he'll be able to carry on where Barfoot and Holling left off.

We said that Jim Edwards, Seattle's big southpaw, would pitch for the Indians yesterday. That's our story and we'll stick to it today. It'll be interesting to see if the Angels can solve a good left-hander. They've shown what they can do to right-hand pitching.

Six young Angels leave today for Bisbee, where they have been farmed out for experience in the Arizona State League. The Angels who'll become Bisbee Pitchers are Curt Smith and Charley Sweeney. Catcher Otis Morton, infielder Leo Burns and Infielders Art Parker and Eddie Sogge. Jack Fleming, son of Angel hurler and son of Elmer Jacobs, may join the Bees later in the week.

Louis Almada may be seen out in center field for the Indians today. Almada, the former L. A. High baseball and grid star, has been a member of the squad but they say he can field much better than Eckhardt, who made such a mess of it in the middle garden yesterday. Johnson has to fill that centerfield hole some way if he expects his team to win any ball games.

Jigger Statz, who has been out with a pulled muscle in his side, may be back in the Angel line-up today. Manager Krug has filled in for Statz in center field despite the fact that he has been on the sitting list for the past few days. For a shit guy Schulmerich certainly clouted one over the fence pretty hard Tuesday.

Schulmerich and Berger each turned in good catches yesterday and both times Muller was the victim. Muller was robbed of a couple of hits in Tuesday's game, also.

It isn't often you see a pitcher get applauded by the fans for being knocked out of the box, but that happened to Kyle Graham in the seventh inning. Graham pitched great ball until his support went to pieces and the fans showed their appreciation when he left the diamond. The Angeles baseball fans are as fair as they'll find, any place. They'll give the visiting players just as much applause as they will the home talent.

Ernie Johnson made a great stop of Bobby Jones's hard-hit grounder in the seventh, the Tribe skipper leaping far to his left to scoop up the ball with his bare hand and rob Bobby of a hit. Freddie Muller also took a hit away from Berger on a sizzling drive, while Ray Jacobs made a nice play on Johnson's hard hopper over second in the seventh round.

Seal Pucks to Take on Oilers

Battling every inch of the way to make good their claim on second place, the San Francisco Seals will make their last scheduled appearance of the California Hockey League season tonight against one of their bitterest and most formidable rivals, the Los Angeles Richfields, at Winter Garden Ice Palace.

One point to the good of the fighting Hollywood Millionaires as a result of knocking the local clan into a tail spin in the North Monday night, 2 to 1, the Seals must make good their threat tonight against Richfield and hope that Oakland will take Hollywood for a cleaning in the North.

The Seals have their eyes on the play-off that will start just as soon as the schedule is completed Monday. Their feeling is that at no time this season have they played as fine a brand of hockey as at the present and they are convinced that in the play-off they can prove their right to a chance at the rewards that come to teams that play East-West series.

CARDS BATTLE HUSKY RUNNERS

that there's a shelter or the athletes would spend most of their time rowing.

HUSKIES REST

Coach Edmundson of the Huskies called for no turnout of his athletes yesterday, but Coach Templeton of the invading Stanford horde had his full squad unlocosening any kinks in the legs and at the same time getting used to the strange field of battle. The Washington team finished its training Tuesday, and had a day of rest before their test tomorrow night. Templeton wanted merely to acquaint his cohorts with the sharp turns and the artificial lighting and any other few details that have a chance of affecting the Cardinal performers.

The pole-vault duel between Ward Edmonds, Cardinal vaulter, and Fred Sturdy, Yale vaulter, imported to jump in this exhibition, will hold the center of interest in the middle of the oval. In fact the Yale alumni in this city have reserved a special section to cheer for their lone representative in the meet. Not to be outdone, the Stanford graduates are planning a rooting section of their own.

All in all, Seattle is not taking this track meet lightly, and the advance sale of tickets shows that the pavilion will probably be filled, and standing room sold to the late arrivals. The announcement that Bob King would jump an exhibition high jump added interest to the affair. Out of the fifteen events on the program, in more than half of them there will be champions of some form or the other. This is one of the greatest gatherings of track stars ever collected for a dual contest. Fans usually have to travel east to see galaxy of track events such as will be exhibited here tomorrow night.

Another feature event will be the high-hurdle duel with Capt. Jess Nichols and Ward Edmonds of Stanford pitted against Steve Anderson of Washington. This should result in one of the greatest races of the night with Anderson favored slightly over the Stanford stars because of his acquaintance with the artificial lights. Whether this will hinder the Stanford men will not be known until the race, but it should not.

KRENZ PERFORMS

The quarter-mile will bring together Morrison of Stanford against the sophomore sensation of the Husky team, Talbot Hartley. Although the Cardinal runner should rank as a heavy favorite, the fans in the city rate Hartley on an even basis. The fact that he has never been pressed, and that he will be used to the sharp curves accounts for this rating.

Eric Krenz will not be given a chance to show his wares in the discus throw to the spectators because it has been decided to hold the event in the afternoon. Krenz is in first-class shape, and should have a fair chance of throwing the platter close to his world's mark of 163ft. 8 3-4in. The lack of outdoor air currents may help the Stanford giant in a few of his heaves; at least it will not hinder him.

Harlow Rothert is expected to near the 51ft. mark in the shot put, and he will be closely pressed by his team-mate, Eric Krenz. Paul Jessup, football captain at Washington, will give Forster of Stanford close competition in this event, for the third place, but will not menace the tosses of Krenz and Rothert.

BRUIN FENCERS GO NORTH

The fencing team of the University of California at Los Angeles left here yesterday afternoon for Berkeley to engage in a series of matches in the San Francisco Bay district the last of this week and the first of next week. The Bruin fencing team was composed of four men, Jock Thompson, Elliot Sneider, Capt. Harold Corbin and Natias Yanoff, and was accompanied by its coach, Capt. John Duff.

Now You Can Have That Fresh Corn Flavor the Year 'Round

We bred a new variety of seed to give you this more delicious corn

DEL MAIZ
The New Sweet Corn

Each ear is carefully inspected

It was the only way to accomplish the desired result. Growing and packing methods of the old-established varieties of corn, had reached the limit. To get a better corn, we had to evolve a distinctly new breed. It took 12 years of intensive seed culturing before we obtained the perfect new corn we sought.

Now it is yours to enjoy, as you've never before enjoyed a canned corn. That tasty, fresh corn flavor that is so unique—the absence of cob and other tough particles—the tall DEL MAIZ kernels prevent that, as they permit a full, clean cut, and oh, what delicious morsels they are, embedded in the rich corn cream!

And every can of DEL MAIZ is identical. Our different system of growing and packing insures that. We alone own the seed. It is grown under the supervision of our own experts. Each ear is carefully inspected and washed in clear running water. Every batch tested in our laboratory and all packed in sanitary enamel-lined tins.

No wonder it is so delicious, and delights everyone as no canned corn ever did.

Leading grocers handle DEL MAIZ. Get your can today and a FREE booklet of a dozen delicious DEL MAIZ recipes.

BY JUANA NEAL LEVY

Wilshire Boulevard Congregational Church was the scene last evening of one of the loveliest of the spring weddings when Miss Martha Louise Locke, daughter of Mrs. Edmund Locke, became the bride of Theodore Kinne Shoenhair, the ceremony being read by Dr. James Hamilton Lash assisted by Dr. Harper in the presence of a host of relatives and friends. The church was lovely in its decorations of a profusion of white blossoms and ferns, clusters of fleur de lis attached to the pew posts by broad white satin ribbons.

Robinson Carr Locke gave his sister in marriage.

The bridal gown was of white satin with long sleeves and panniers, the veil of Brussels pointe lace being held in place by a pearl headdress. She carried white orchids and lilies of the valley.

Miss Maxine Shoenhair assisted as maid of honor in a gown of orange chiffon with tulle turban of the same shade, carrying an arm shower of flame-colored sweet peas.

The other attendants wore frocks of chartreuse chiffon, Mrs. Everett Morris (Patricia Carr,) cousin of the bride, in the deep green shade while Mrs. Edmund Locke, Jr., (Elizabeth Brown,) was in the chartreuse shade, Mrs. Robinson Carr Locke (Elena Vervena,) in a slightly deeper yellow shade of chiffon and Mrs. Ivan C. Tagert (Enid Wall,) matron of honor, was in the pure yellow chiffon, all wearing tulle turbans to match and carrying armfuls of spring blossoms, daffodils and purple iris predominating.

John Mothershead of Pasadena served Mr. Shoenhair as best man while Willard Mullen, Warner Henry, George Shoenhair, Edmund Locke, Jr., Albert Huneke and Robert Ackley ushered.

A reception at the home of the bride's mother in Beverly Hills followed the ceremony. Here a spring motif was charmingly carried out in the decorations, great baskets of blossoms and foliage being placed about the rooms, while in the drawing-room where congratulations were offered the bridal party stood before a mantel banked with roses and lilacs. The lining-room was alcoved in ferns and palms and the table was massed with white rosebuds and maidenhair ferns.

Mrs. Locke received her guests in an orchid beaded chiffon gown and at the church wore over it a deep purple velvet wrap.

Mrs. Shoenhair was graduated from Miss Orton's school here and later from Martha Washington Seminary in Washington, D. C., while Mr. Shoenhair is completing his course in law at Stanford and until his graduation they will make their home in the north Mr. Shoenhair, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Shoenhair of Kings Road, is a member of Delta Kappa Epsilon Fraternity.

Junior League Activities

The 13th inst., Los Angeles Junior League held a meeting and made its first arrangements for the Fifth Annual Flintridge Horse Show, the date being May 24 and 25. It will be held on the grounds of the Flintridge Riding Club as in previous years. The Junior League Gift Shop, 3111 West Sixth street, is to be headquarters for the show. Reginald Johnson is president of the Horse Show while I. Graham Pattinson is treasurer and the executive committee includes Wilbert Morgrage, Robert L. Leonard, Karl Von Blatten, Roy Downer Bayly and Robert Jackson. The executive committee of the Los Angeles Junior League includes Miss Mabel Seeley, Mrs. E. S. Dulin, Mrs. Charles Gardner Bullis and Miss Alice Hicks.

Children's Party

Mr. and Mrs. Louis Blake Hays of Pittsburgh entertained a group of children at the Hotel Maryland, where they are passing several months, Monday afternoon, the event being the joint celebration of the birthday anniversaries of their two children, Carol Adair Hays, 3 years of age, and Howard Hays, 1.

The party took place in the grill, where a magician entertained the children before supper. There also were motion-pictures. A huge Easter bunny carrying a pack filled with favors centered the blue-covered supper table. Easter favors in blue, pink and silver were arranged at each place and huge balloons in clusters were atched to near-by pillars.

Seated at the supper table were the little host and hostess, Howard and Carol Hays, LaRue and Dickey Mershon, Edith, Anne and Jean Stuart of Flintridge, Evelyn and Barbara Downing of Beverly Hills, Josephine and Eleanor Wyatt, also of Beverly Hills, Rosemary Marney, Betty Nickerson, King Pitcher and Joseph and Karl Eisinger of St. Paul. Mr. and Mrs. Hays had a group of friends at an adjoining table.

Betrothal Announced

A romance of the golf links was revealed at a colorful bridge luncheon given last Saturday afternoon at the California Country Club when announcement was made of the engagement of Miss Hazel Converse, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. F. W. Converse of Orange Drive, Hollywood, to F. M. Slade, son of Mr. and Mrs. S. E. Slade of Los Angeles.

Miss Converse and Mr. Slade are well known to golfers of Southern California, both being members of the women's and men's golf teams respectively of the California Country Club. The bride-elect attended the University of California at Los Angeles and is a member of the Kappa Alpha Theta Sorority, while Mr. Slade is an alumnus of Stanford, belonging to Beta Theta Pi Fraternity.

The luncheon Saturday was a charming affair to which sixteen close friends of Miss Converse were bidden. The motif of yellow, white and green was carried out in the menu as well as in the table decorations. A white organdie cloth, over yellow, was sprayed with orange blossoms and maidenhair ferns. Tall tapers of yellow in crystal holders wound with fragrant plum blossoms, adorned the table and illumined the miniature bridal party which paraded down the center. A herald, carrying a banner on which were the names of the bride-elect and her fiance, headed the procession followed by the miniature bridegroom and his bride, dressed in white lace and pearls. The maid of honor and four Dresden bridesmaids all were gowned in various shades of yellow taffeta hand-painted in modern flowers of deeper yellow tones. Bride and bridesmaids carried orange blossoms tied in yellow and white tulle, draped from one to another and forming a sort of chain. Place cards for the guests were especially painted bridesmaids, while the place of Miss Converse was marked by a card representing a beruffled bride. The wedding will take place in May.

Assisting Miss Converse receive were her mother, and her sister, Miss Eileen Converse. Guests included Mmes. S. E. Slade, G. W. Maxon, Joseph Horton, James Lloyd, Fred Jordon, Marie Espeset, and Misses Maxine Converse, Margaret Trimble, Dorothy Graines, Ann Fontron, Elizabeth Heineman, Ruth Collins and Marian Terrell.

GUIDING YOUR CHILD

STUDYING HIS FAULTS

By Mrs. Agnes Lyne

When her cake turns out badly the good housekeeper tries to find out whether she used too much flour or too little shortening, whether it was the mixing or the baking that caused the trouble. The next time she bakes a cake she will profit by the experience of her former failures.

Yet when a child is naughty, bad tempered or nervous, we are likely to apply a remedy without first trying to find the cause. We do not often bring to bear on the problem of our children's misbehavior half the thoughtful analysis which we focus on discovering the reason for an unsuccessful cake. We tend to use again and again a method which already has proven itself ineffective.

Nothing could be more silly than our almost universal use of the method, suggested by Gilbert and Sullivan in their merriest moments, of "making the punishment fit the crime."

Does Tommy lie? Then punishment is not the automatic answer. We must try to find out which one of the many brands of lying is Tommy's. Why does he do it? Is it to get something he wants, or are his lies of the fantastic, boastful variety? Does he lie to get out of punishment, or generally to avoid the unpleasant? With each child each one of these motives would call for different treatment. And so it goes with all the naughty, difficult, baffling things our children do.

It is worthwhile to study the faults of your particular child. Try always to see what satisfaction he is getting out of his naughtiness and then try to help him get that satisfaction in an acceptable way. The battle between parents and children used to be thought of as a battle of wills. Today it may be thought of as a battle of wits in which both parents and children may win, for insight makes it possible for children to be happy at the same time that they are learning to be good.

BRIDES-TO-BE GET COOKING POINTERS

With June, the month of brides, closely in the offing, the fifth annual food and household show to be given April 22 to 27 in the Ambassador Auditorium, yesterday was made to include a special department for the inexperienced cook. An engagement ring, according to the plan, will be the identification required of girls seeking to learn rudiments of home culinary work. E. G. De Stauts, secretary of the Southern California Retail Grocers' Association, said estimates are that more than 500 Southern California girls, engaged to be married and expecting soon to set up housekeeping, will avail themselves of the food show opportunity to learn to cook.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

Tuberculosis of Spine

Question: R. J. writes: "The beginning of December I noticed a small lump on the spine of my little 4-year-old boy, between the shoulders, and after an X-ray the doctors declared it tubercular. As I have much faith in you and your work, I am writing to ask if there is anything to be done in this case in the way of diet and treatments. And is there a possibility that the lump could be only a growth of some kind, as there is no tuberculosis in the family on either side.

Answer: There is some similarity between tuberculosis of the spine and arthritis of the spine, but, of course, your doctors should be able to make a better diagnosis with their personal examination than I can guess at through correspondence. The treatment in either disorder should be principally through diet and certain physiotherapy treatments.

Chili Con Carne

Q.: J. L. asks: "What is your opinion of chili con carne? I am very fond of this and other Mexican dishes. I am in good health except that I have quite a large amount of gas."

A.: Chili con carne is a Mexican dish composed chiefly of ground-up dried pink beans, dried chili peppers, garlic and various spices cooked together. I am unable to recommend it as an article of food because of the irritating spices which it contains and because dried beans are rather difficult to digest and produce a large amount of gas with most people.

Nervous Heart

Q.: R. H. K. writes: "The doctor says I have a nervous heart. What is the cause and is there any cure?"

A.: This usually means that the heart beats too rapidly. Where there is no valvular trouble, this is generally caused through overexcretion of thyroxin; which is the active principal secreted by the thyroid gland. Excessive gas pressure can also make the heart beat rapidly at times. The term "nervous heart" is unsatisfactory and carelessly used by many physicians for want of a better diagnosis.

The Story of the World War

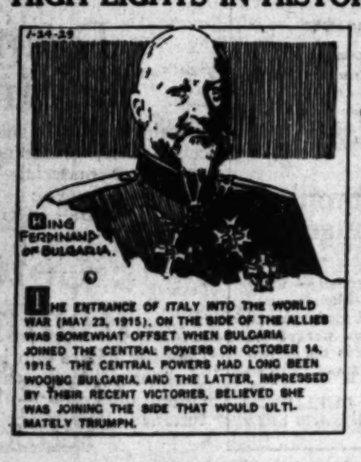
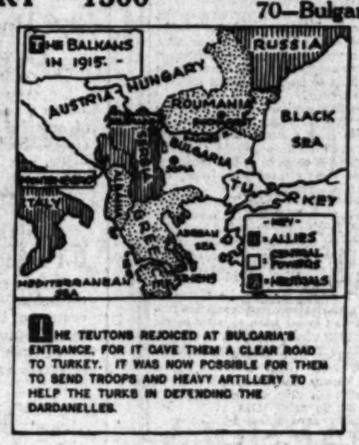
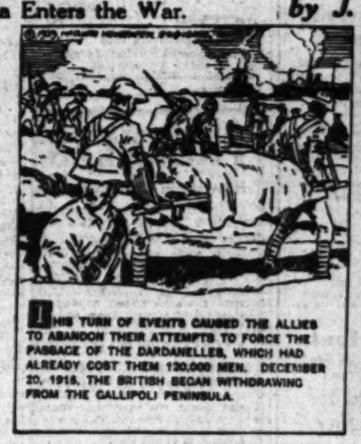
by J. CARROLL MANSFIELD



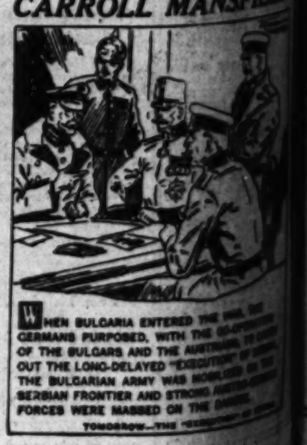
THE ENTRANCE OF ITALY INTO THE WORLD WAR (MAY 23, 1915), ON THE SIDE OF THE ALLIES WAS SOMEWHAT OFFSET WHEN BULGARIA JOINED THE CENTRAL POWERS ON OCTOBER 14, 1915. THE CENTRAL POWERS HAD LONG BEEN WOOING BULGARIA, AND THE LATTER, IMPRESSED BY THEIR RECENT VICTORIES, BELIEVED SHE WAS JOINING THE SIDE THAT WOULD ULTIMATELY TRIUMPH.



THE TEUTONS REJOICED AT BULGARIA'S ENTRANCE, FOR IT GAVE THEM A CLEAR ROAD TO TURKEY. IT WAS NOW POSSIBLE FOR THEM TO SEND TROOPS AND HEAVY ARTILLERY TO HELP THE TURKS IN DEFENDING THE DARDANELLES.



THIS TURN OF EVENTS CAUSED THE ALLIES TO ABANDON THEIR ATTEMPTS TO FORCE THE PASSAGE OF THE DARDANELLES, WHICH HAD ALREADY COST THEM 120,000 MEN. DECEMBER 20, 1915, THE BRITISH BEGAN WITHDRAWING FROM THE GALLIPOLI PENINSULA.



WHEN BULGARIA ENTERED THE WAR, THE GERMANS PURPOSED, WITH THE CO-OPERATION OF THE BULGARS AND THE AUSTRIANS, TO CARRY OUT THE LONG-DELAYED "EXECUTION" OF SERBIA. THE BULGARIAN ARMY WAS MOBILIZED ON THE SERBIAN FRONTIER AND STRONG AUSTRO-GERMAN FORCES WERE MASSED ON THE DANUBE.

Speedy Youth Has Its Wings Clipped Short

Youth had its too-fleet wings clipped by the law yesterday when two minors, a girl and a boy, were given citations to appear in Juvenile Court on charges of speeding.

The girl, Katherine Smiley, 14 years of age, of 451 South Oxford Boulevard, was summoned twice within a few hours. First she was apprehended by Motorcycle Officer Ester, who charged she was speeding forty-five miles per hour on Pico Boulevard between Arlington and Western avenues. She was stopped again later on the same thoroughfare.

The boy, Charles Gensinger, who said he is 16 and a film actor living at 923 North Heliotrope Drive, was served with a warrant to appear on April 4, to answer a charge of speeding east on Beverly Boulevard from La Brea to Highland avenues, several days ago. According to the records, Gensinger was arrested the 22nd inst., also, on a charge of reckless driving.

Trust Asserted of Rock Crusher Interests Here

Investigation of the asserted rock-crusher trust was demanded in a resolution introduced in the City Council yesterday by Councilman McAllister. The resolution, which was referred to the Public Works Committee, asserts that a combination has been formed which represents practically 100 per cent of the industry, and that it already has resulted in increased prices for paving and building materials.

The investigation asked in the resolution would be undertaken "with a view to affording relief either through prosecution under antitrust laws or through the establishment of a municipal rock crusher."

NEW CLASSES IN LAW

Los Angeles college of law is adding five more classes for beginners April 1. This will make a total of seventy-two classes in law this term. CANDIDATES MUST FILE BY TONIGHT

Several Aspirants Present Nominating Petitions as Deadline Approaches

Today is the last day on which candidates for any of the offices to be voted on at the coming municipal elections may file signed nominating petitions at the office of City Clerk Dominguez and Mr. Dominguez announced yesterday that he will keep his office open until midnight tonight to receive petitions.

He called attention to the fact that the City Hall generally is closed after 5 p.m. but said that any candidates desiring to file petitions after that hour will be admitted at the Main-street entrance of the hall.

With the deadline approaching, nominating petitions were taken out yesterday by Stewart O. Mertz, a supplies clerk of the Board of Education living at 2816 Iowa avenue, South Gate, who will seek election to the board by which he now is employed. To date nineteen aspirants have appeared in the field for the four board memberships to be filled.

Perry Thomas, City Planning Commissioner, in charge of zoning and for five years deputy City Attorney, filed his petition yesterday for nomination as a candidate for the judgeship in office No. 7 of the Municipal Court. A meeting of the supporters of Mr. Thomas's candidacy will be held April 1, when campaign plans will be formulated. Mr. Thomas is the son of former Associate Justice W. H. Thomas of the District Court of Appeals, who also was a Superior Court judge in Orange county. He has had wide experience in legal matters relative to business.

Donald Lake, attorney of 1008 Forty-ninth Place, yesterday filed nominating petitions for City Council. He is a candidate in the Eighth Councilmanic District, where he has resided since childhood.

Noon Speaker Flays Trend in Many Churches

Criticising those churches which "have degenerated into mere meeting places for human beings of various theories and philosophies," Dr. Walter A. Maier, author and lecturer of the Lutheran Church, in his noon address at Philharmonic Auditorium yesterday told his audience that many church members today "regard God and things divine as antiquated unless they fit in with the modern brand of enlightenment."

"There are, however, millions of Christians today who are deeply and prayerfully concerned about keeping the churches of this country houses of God," said the speaker. "They courageously insist on unswerving, unreserved acknowledgement of Jesus Christ as the only and all-sufficient redeemer of the world's sin, and on unhesitating acceptance of the entire Bible as the inherent and infallible revelation of God."

PACIFIC ELECTRIC PLANS SPECIAL TRAINS

Providing early morning transportation for Easter worshipers to points where services are to be held adjacent to its lines, D. W. Pontius, vice-president and general manager of the Pacific Electric Railway, yesterday announced plans of rail and motor coach service to be provided Easter morning.

For the Hollywood Bowl, cars are scheduled to leave the Subway Terminal Station at few-minute intervals beginning at 3 a.m., and beginning at 4 a.m. frequent service will also be provided on other local lines of the system direct to the Bowl entrance on Highland avenue. Motor coaches also will be operated on the Western-avenue line of the Los Angeles Motor Coach Company beginning at 4:17 a.m.

For the Mt. Rubidoux services at Riverside a special train will leave the Sixth and Main-street station at 2 a.m., arriving in ample time for patrons to reach the scene of this mountain-top service.

The Pacific Palisades at Santa Monica will be served by a special train leaving the Subway Terminal Station at 3:45 a.m., and upon arrival at the Santa Monica station, busses will be operated direct to the scene of the services.

Those desiring to attend the Mt. Forest Lawn services in Glendale will have two special trains provided—one leaving the Sixth and Main-street station at 4 a.m., and another leaving the Subway Terminal Station at 4:45 a.m.

He practiced in Portland, Or., Sacramento and Los Angeles, during which period he was examining physician for leading insurance companies and for the Pacific Electric. He twice was commander of Sumner Post No. 3, G. A. R., Sacramento, and was medical director for the California division of G. A. R.

SCARE GIVEN TO DEFENDER

Official Has Youth Plead Guilty in Liquor Case Only to Find "5 and 10" Law Applies

City Public Defender Ernest Orfila thought for a moment yesterday that he had made a serious mistake in entering a plea of guilty to charges of liquor possession and transportation for James J. Mumpower, 21 years of age, charged with the two offenses in Municipal Judge Bogue's court.

"This is a serious offense," said Judge Bogue. "You are liable to imprisonment for five years and a fine of $10,000 on this charge."

"Is that charged under the Jones Act, Your Honor?" gasped Orfila.

"It is," replied the court.

Instead of requesting that he be allowed to change his plea, Orfila then proved that his client is a first offender and that the amount of liquor involved, less than a half-gallon, is not sufficient to indicate that he is a bootlegger. Detective Lieutenant Caldwell showed that Mumpower was arrested at 4 p.m. Tuesday at Vernon avenue and South Main street when he got into an argument with another automobile driver. Police Officer L. J. Fuller found a half-gallon bottle of moonshine on the seat of Mumpower's small coupe, he testified.

Judge Bogue sentenced the young man to pay a fine of $200 or to serve twenty days in jail. Mumpower told the court he will serve the jail sentence.

COUNTY MOTOR UNIT INSPECTED BY CHIEF

The entire motor patrol of Los Angeles county met yesterday on Carson Road, just off Harbor Boulevard, for the annual inspection by Capt. W. F. Cannon, supervisor of the patrol. Capt. Cannon expressed pleasure at the appearance of his men and the condition of their mounts. There are sixty men on regular duty now, with the possibility of additions in the near future.

CANDIDATES TO SPEAK

The Third Street Defense Committee will hold a public meeting at the Belmont High School, 1575 West Second street, today at 8 p.m. Leslie R. Hewitt and other prominent speakers will give addresses. There will also be brief talks by several Mayoralty candidates, in addition to Councilmanic candidates seeking office from the Third, Fourth and Twelfth districts.

Poachers Fined as Drive Begins

Deputies from the office of County Forester Turner yesterday began an intensive campaign against poachers who, it is reported, have been killing quail, ducks and deer out of season in the mountains near Soledad Creek.

Several offenders were fined $25 each and warned that second offenses will mean higher penalties.

Butterfly Show Stirs Interest

With the recent opening of the eighth annual butterfly show, sponsored by the Lorquin Entomological Society, at the Los Angeles Museum, Exposition Park, 150,000 mounted butterflies and moths from every corner of the world were placed on display.

The exhibit this year embodies a popular vote on a butterfly to represent California, and an essay contest for school children.

The essay contest is open to boys and girls under 16 years of age, and prizes will be given for the best stories submitted.

The show will continue at the museum until April 26.

PROTEST HEARING TODAY

The City Council is scheduled to hear protests today against the confirmation of the assessments for the improvement of streets in the Lookout Mountain Road and Wonderland-avenue improvement district.

Federal Building Suggestions by Citizens Sought

Los Angeles people should get together and decide on what they want with regard to a new Federal Building, it was said yesterday by William Arthur Newman, district engineer for the government for the Pacific Coast States and Hawaii.

He believes that a new Federal Building should conform to the plans for the Civic Center and that plans for the building should be brought forward now.

Mr. Newman, who already has had a conference with the Board of Supervisors, expects to meet it again. He expects to meet John C. Austin, architect, tomorrow and discuss the situation. He probably will leave the city late tomorrow.

SYMPHONY GOES ON AIR TONIGHT

Tschaikowsky Number to Be Given Over KFI

KHJ Will Start Series of Light Opera Hours

"Chronicles of Katz" to Be Another Feature

BY DR. RALPH L. POWER

All of Tschaikowsky's "Pathetic Symphony" will be available to radio listeners tonight from 7:30 to 8:30 o'clock over a Coast chain, of which KFI will be the southern station.

Playing entire symphonies from a studio is something not ordinarily done although, of course, symphonies often are picked up from concert halls and put on the air via remote control.

Something else out of the ordinary will be the beginning of a series of light opera hours to be given at 8 p.m. each Thursday over the local Don Lee station, KHJ.

One of the Coast chains announces "Chronicles of Katz," a humorous sketch, over KMTR at 8 p.m., followed a half-hour later with the Enchanters Male Quartet.

Over another network, and to be heard through KFI, at 6 p.m., an original transcription of the immortal "Liebestraum" of Liszt will be given by the singing ensemble.

These are but some of the high spots in the radio programs of the evening. Tomorrow, Good Friday, some excellent broadcasts are promised, and, of course, most of the stations will be on the air early Sunday for the Easter-morn services.

NICK HARRIS CONTINUES TALKS

Nick Harris, who has been giving stories on why crime doesn't pay, for six years over KFI, now will give a program on Sundays for a half-hour at 1:30 p.m., according to the station management. This will be in addition to his Wednesday talk at 5:45 o'clock.

RADIO ARTIST BUILDS GOLF COURSE

FINDLEY (O.) March 27. (AP)—Tell Taylor, radio artist, is building himself a golf course "Down by the Old Mill Stream," which he immortalized in song.

Taylor wrote one verse and the chorus of the old favorite when he was fishing by a mill on the Blanchard River near here in 1906. The manuscript lay in his desk two years. Then he let a vaudeville quartet try it out in Michigan. It proved such a hit that upon their urgent request he telegraphed a second stanza to them.

More than 4,000,000 copies have been sold.

Girls Had Eyes for Figures, Too

Two girls who walked home from an automobile ride and remembered the license number of the car brought Rubin Kohn, 21 years of age, into Municipal Judge Bogue's court yesterday on charges of disturbing the peace. Kohn pleaded not guilty to the complaints and Judge Bogue set trial for April 11, next, fixing bail at $500.

The girls told Police oOfficers Campbell and Dineen, who arrested Kohn at his home at 1814 Temple street, that he had stopped them outside of employment agencies where they went to seek work and offered them jobs in Hollywood in the films.

He took them in his automobile and then made improper advances, they declared. Both girls told City Prosecutor Nix, who issued the complaints, that they jumped from his machine and noted its number.

Approval Given Ford's Plea for Factory Permit

Approval was given the application of the Ford Motor Company for the erection of its auto assembly plant on a portion of harbor tidelands north of Cerritos channel and east of Badger avenue by the Board of Harbor Commissioners yesterday. The value of the structure to be erected was given as $353,000.

The Hancock Oil Company's request for permission to construct an oil tank at Berth 215 at a value of $3000 was granted. Permits also were granted to J. K. Sato to construct an addition to a building at 1042 South Seaside avenue; to the Shell Oil Company for construction of a lubricating oil shed at Berth 167 and to Patk & Kibele, Inc., for an office building at Berth 94.

Specifications for the widening of the McCormick Steamship Company's berth at No. 179 were approved and bids will be opened April 17 at 9 a.m.

Lew Cody Plans to Return Soon

Lew Cody will be back in Hollywood soon if his health continues to improve as much as it has during the few days he has been back in California from the East. Yesterday Cody was able to leave Palm Springs to go to Arrowhead. He suffered a complete collapse several months ago after an attack of influenza in New York.

Cody told friends yesterday over long distance that he is feeling much better and that just as soon as warm weather sets in for good he will return. He probably will take a house at the beach.

His wife, Mabel Normand, continued to show slight improvement yesterday and if she is stronger within the next few days she will be permitted to receive her mail and read a little. Dr. C. E. Fishbaugh, who is attending her, said her reaction to treatment for tuberculosis is encouraging.

Open Windows Chill Alimony

Because his wife, Lina Yocum, insisted on sleeping with the windows open, William Yocum contracted rheumatism and now he can't work to get money for alimony, he told Superior Judge Schauer yesterday.

Mrs. Yocum said she had a good job and $800 in the bank before she was married.

"I gave up my job and now my money's all gone," she told the court. "I'd like to have enough to eat on."

Judge Schauer ordered the husband to pay her $7 a week pending trial of the case.

WOMAN NOW GAINING IN LIFE FIGHT

Mother May Recover from Bullet Wound Inflicted by Daughter, Surgeons Say

Mrs. Sarah Brown, 53 years of age, of 6219 South Figueroa street, yesterday was desperately holding to life despite the fact that she had been shot in the back on Tuesday. At White Memorial Hospital the surgeons said Mrs. Brown was slightly improved and they held out a hope for her recovery. Her daughter, Miss Sadie Brown, 49, held in the County Jail on a charge of suspicion of assault with intent to commit murder refused to make any new statement. George and May Beckman, respectively, 13 and 10, Mrs. Brown's grandchildren, were placed in custody of juvenile authorities.

Police delayed preparing a formal complaint against Miss Brown until the outcome of her mother's wound is certain. When she was arrested on Tuesday, she asserted her mother enraged her by her attitude on money matters. The daughter declared to be jealous of favoritism shown the grandchildren, whose parents are dead.

Mrs. Brown condoned the shooting by saying her daughter suffered a relapse following an attack of influenza and had acted erratic since. Mrs. Brown was shot in the back, the bullet lodging near her right lung. The shooting was done in her apartment home following an argument over money.

Alienist Will Aid Allen Girl in Theft Case

"I believe that this case will end otherwise than with a trial in Superior Court," Robert M. Clark, attorney for Lydia Allen, 20-year-old daughter of a well-to-do Santa Paula merchant, who was having her preliminary hearing on charges of arson and burglary before Municipal Judge McDill told the court yesterday. "We have had my client examined by a well-known alienist and I would like a continuance until I can confer with Juvenile Judge Scott in regard to her." Judge Wood granted a continuance until April 10.

Witnesses called by Dep. Dist.-Atty. Burgess declared that Miss Allen took two rings, a dress and a pair of shoes from a closet in the room of Miss Ethel Robinson at California Christian College, 775 North Madison street, where she was a guest, and then set fire to the closet when she feared the theft would be discovered. The only damages resulting from the fire is to the interior and door of the closet. Investigators Price and Lanham of the fire department testified.

Song Writers to Aid Gambol

The Screen Stars' Gambol, which is being sponsored by the motion-picture industry to finance construction of an arts building at Loyola University, will bring out not only many film celebrities, but scores of song writers, here to write theme numbers for talking pictures. Many of these writers have promised to present new compositions.

DORIS DAWSON

George Schneevoigt and the Los Angeles Philharmonic Orchestra are preparing a special group of numbers to be presented, and the Vitaphone Symphony Orchestra will offer a program. Ted Lewis and his jazz band will be on hand, while Buddy Rogers, screen actor, is planning a surprise in the shape of a "one-man band" idea.

The gambol is expected to bring out a brilliant display of finery. Doris Dawson, Wampas baby star and one of those who will be seen at the benefit, will appear in a Parisian model of black velvet of ultramodern design.

Auction Bridge Forum Planned

An open forum on auction bridge and contract to be conducted by Mrs. Guy U. Purdy, was announced yesterday for April 3, next, at the Hotel Del Mar. Mrs. Purdy is announced as having spoken before audiences in Washington, New York, Chicago and Minneapolis, defining the latest conventions of contract and suggesting new strategy for the card table.

A popular discussion of the points she brings out turns her talk into a forum for auction bridge and contract pupils. Reservations for the evening of contract with Mrs. Purdy are to be made through Barker Brothers or through local offices of the Hotel Del Mar. The lectures are arranged as a complimentary feature to all guests of the hotel.

LASKY SIGNS YOUNG ACTRESS

Jack Mulhall to Play First Double Role in Talkies; De Mille May Make Shakespearean Drama as Talker; Mary Nolan to Costar With Eddie Leonard

BY GRACE KINGSLEY

Another youngster who made good in talking pictures at the Paramount Long Island studio has been promoted to the rank of a featured player with a long-term contract.

KATHARINE FRANCIS

This time it is Katharine Francis, who has performed in "Gentlemen of the Press," and with the four Marx brothers in "The Cocoanuts," and who has just been given a contract to continue with Paramount pictures, it was announced yesterday by Jesse L. Lasky.

Miss Francis will arrive at the Hollywood studios early next month.

The young actress is a daughter of the theater, her mother, Katherine Clinton, having been a popular repertory actress. Miss Francis herself made her stage debut as a very young girl in a small role in the modern dress version of "Hamlet," which was produced in New York three or four years ago. Since then she has played in "Elmer the Great" and others and she spent a season with the Stewart Walker Stock Company in Cincinnati. So she has the advantage of not only youth and beauty, but of most valuable stage experience as well.

Miss Francis has never appeared in pictures until she went in "Gentlemen of the Press" with Walter Huston. Upon the completion of that picture, the director, Millard Webb, predicted a great future for her in pictures, and this now is on its way to realization.

MULHALL REPLACES SILLS IN TALKER

Jack Mulhall, we learn, instead of Milton Sills, will star in First National's talking version of "Dark Streets," adapted from Richard Connell's story, "Pat and Mike."

JACK MULHALL.

Due to continued illness, Sills will not be able to return to Hollywood and undertake the picture, but will be assigned another as soon as he comes back, which it is expected that he will do in about a month.

Doris Kenyon also will not be the leading woman in the picture, as heretofore announced, and so far no leading lady has been assigned.

In "Dark Streets," Mulhall will have a double role, the first double role done in a talker, so far as I know. He will be both the policeman and the gangster, giving him a wonderful acting opportunity.

Frank Lloyd will direct, and the picture will be commenced in a day or two.

De Mille Considers Shakespeare

While it is not in the least likely that Cecil B. De Mille will produce a Shakespearean drama in the talking pictures for some time to come, he discussed yesterday the possibility of his doing such a thing within the next year or so.

In case he does, it will probably be either "Hamlet" or "Macbeth" which De Mille will put on the talking screen, and it naturally will be a magnificent production from every point of view. Indeed there is not one so well equipped in picture-dom to produce such a one as he.

Mary Nolan to Co-Star

It has at last been decided what Mary Nolan's first Universal starring role will be. She won't shine alone, however, but will co-star with Eddie Leonard in "Harmony Lane," which is to be a talking and musical feature.

MARY NOLAN

This will be the popular Leonard's first picture also. He has been in Hollywood for two or three weeks, waiting to go to work, but not worrying much about it in one way, as he was under salary.

Robert Hill will direct, and the picture is to be one of the most sumptuously staged of the year, with various novel musical and spectacular features planned.

Leone Lane With Lasky

The far-famed Boston accent is getting its break in talking pictures. Leone Lane, native daughter of the Hub was signed yesterday to a new contract by Paramount, and during the coming months will play more important roles in dialogue films.

Miss Lane has been in motion pictures less than a year, and about half that time was spent as a Paramount contract player. She has capably filled roles in "The Case of Lena Smith," "Betrayal" and other productions.

First Feature Collegians

Those Collegians have sufficiently grown up, thinks Universal, to have a right to be starred in a feature-length picture.

They will also be heard as well as seen in this feature, which will be entitled "College Spirit."

Nat Ross will direct the long picture, as he has the shorties, and work will be commenced within a week.

The players include the star, George Lewis, Dorothy Gulliver, Eddie Phillips, Haydn Stevenson, Sumner Getchell and others.

"Molly-O" for Dorothy

While there is nothing definitely settled about the matter, it is known that Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer is considering placing Dorothy Sebastian in a comedy or two, she having proven her talents along this line.

DOROTHY SEBASTIAN.

If they do so, there is a strong probability that her first vehicle will be "Molly-O," made as a talker. This is the picture in which Mabel Normand starred so brilliantly for Mack Sennett only a few short seasons ago, and the rights for which M.-G.-M. would have to purchase from Sennett.

Von Stroheim Ill

Eric Von Stroheim, who recently finished directing the silent version of "Queen Kelly," starring Gloria Swanson, is lying at his home very ill with influenza, it was learned yesterday.

He has several engagements in view, but until he recovers he will not be able to consider any of his offers. His first engagement was announced as a role in a United Artists picture.

Kay Johnson Returns

Kay Johnson, who has just recovered from the effects of an operation, has returned to the Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer studio and yesterday went to work for the first time since her illness in Cecil B. De Mille's picture, "Dynamite."

Work was suspended on the picture while Miss Johnson was ill, but she looked very well yesterday, and stood her work very nicely, she declared.

Laska Winter Enacts Wife

Laska Winter, brunette ingenue, has been cast as Warner Oland's wife in Paramount's mystery melodrama, "The Insidious Dr. Fu Manchu," it was announced yesterday by studio officials.

This role will mark Miss Winter's return to the screen after an extended vacation at Palm Springs.

This won't be Miss Winter's first oriental characterization, as she appeared in such roles in various pictures, including Douglas Fairbanks's "The Thief of Bagdad," and in "Seven Footprints to Satan" and "The Rescue."

Camilla Horn to Germany

Camilla Horn is all excited about taking a trip to Germany to star in one U.F.A. picture. She was busy yesterday looking after passport matters, and if nothing happens to prevent, she expects to be on her way across the seas within a week or two.

CAMILLA HORN

The German picture in which Miss Horn will appear is called "Attila," and as the name implies is a classic subject. The actress will return to this country as soon as she finishes the picture, as she is under contract to United Artists.

MASONIC CLUB HAS MUSICAL PROGRAM

The luncheon program at the Masonic Club tomorrow noon will feature Anton Criss and his string quintet, and Reeves's Boy Trumpeters. The personnel of the quintet is Anton Criss, Violet O'Connor, Ruth Abbott, Carmelita Norton, and Lou Pavon. The program is given through the courtesy of the Platt Music Company.

At present he is playing a German doctor in "Wonder of Women" for Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer.

HAT PASSED IN COUNCIL FOR LEVY-RIDDEN CHURCH

The hat was passed in the City Council yesterday and when it had made the rounds of the members present about $60 had been collected, which was then turned over to Rev. Oren Jones, pastor of the Mt. Hermon Baptist Church (colored,) to be used to help pay a street assessment levied against his church.

So far as is known, the Councilmanic hat-passing has no precedent, even in other election years, but then neither has the impassioned plea made by Rev. Oren Jones against the assessment of his church been equaled often, if ever, in the oratorical annals of the Council's rostrum.

The negro church was assessed $67 for the improvement of alleys in the block south of Portieth street and west of Ascot avenue and its pastor appealed to the Council yesterday against the confirmation of the assessment. He presented what evidently was a moving picture of a poverty-stricken congregation overburdened by assessments and charges of all sorts for, although the Council confirmed the assessment, it immediately took a short recess, during which the collection was taken up and handed over to Mr. Jones.

SPECIAL ACT SCHEDULED BY GRAUMAN

Anita Stewart Will Appear at Chinese for Midnight Matinee

Los Angeles theatergoers for the first time will witness the act she has prepared for an international stage tour starting early in April, when Anita Stewart, widely known film star, headlines the special program at Saturday's midnight matinee of "The Broadway Melody" at Grauman's Chinese Theater.

Hollywood film celebrities are planning to attend the late-hour show as a farewell tribute to Miss Stewart, who will start her footlight tour in Chicago on April 6. The midnight show will witness her last stage appearance here before she leaves for the East.

In compliment to Miss Stewart and Sid Grauman, arrangements are being made by Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer, which produced the all-talking, singing and dancing picture of the Great White Way, to send a group of star guests to the performance. Other film and stage folk are expected to participate.

The special program featuring Miss Stewart will be staged in addition to a complete presentation of Grauman's prologue.

Orient Deserted by Whiteside

Walker Whiteside is bringing his company and production of "The Royal Box" intact from the Belmont Theater in New York. The star will offer his latest production at the Mason Theater on Monday evening.

Last season Whiteside presented two attractions, "The Hindu," and "Sakura," during his visit to Los Angeles. This season he has abandoned the mysterious and exotic Orient as a field for his histrionic endeavors, and is appearing as James Clarence, actor-manager of the old Drury Lane Theater in London.

Drury Lane Theater held a great attraction for the Prince of Wales of those days, and he was often to be found in the player's dressing room and at his humble, though cheery, lodgings. James Clarence was said to have as many amours as his royal companion the Prince. His faithful servant Davis and kindly housekeeper Mrs. Baker would no sooner get him out of one scrape, than he was into another.

O'Neil Success Will Go North

With all the attendance records of the Los Angeles Repertory Theater broken, the fourth offering of that organization, Nance O'Neil in "The House of Women," was booked yesterday for an extended run in San Francisco.

The local engagement terminates Saturday evening at the Figueroa Playhouse, and the attraction will open April 15 at the Curran Theater in the Bay City, after which it will be sent on tour.

"Mr. Pim Passes By," A. A. Milne's highly successful New York Theater Guild comedy of absent-mindedness, will begin a two weeks' engagement at the Figueroa Playhouse Monday evening, and indications already point to record patronage.

The cast will include Louis Bennison, Percy Haswell (Mrs. George Fawcett,) Paul Irving, Betty Middleton, Tudor Owen and Gloria Gottschalk. H. Ellis Reed is directing.

Threesome Will be Introduced

Gala opening of Monte Blue's new talking picture, "The Greyhound Limited," at the Fox Boulevard Theater tonight will feature personal appearances of Edna Murphy, Grant Withers and Lucy Beaumont, who have principal roles in the film.

The premiere of the new Warner Vitaphone production inaugurates the new policy of Thursday openings at the Fox Boulevard, where programs have heretofore been greeted on Fridays.

"Toot Toot! All Aboard" is the title of the stage revue, created by Lynn Cowan to carry out the railroad atmosphere of the film. Trainmen's lanterns are carried by the Boulevard Girls in one of the train numbers.

"Leatherneck" Here Sunday

With the close of Marion Harris's engagement and Milton Sills's latest starring vehicle, "Love and the Devil," at the Hillstreet, Saturday, the Eighth and Hill theater will premiere Pathe's talking picture, "The Leatherneck," starring William Boyd, on Sunday.

The featured headliner on the Radio-Keith-Orpheum program for the week will be Ran Samuels. Also on the bill will be Sid Marion, Pilcer and Douglas, and other acts.

NOT "ORCHARD" NOR "ORPHAN," AS HINTED

Ruth Taylor, who plays the feminine lead in Hadley Waters's play "Little Orchid Annie," which is scheduled to open on April 4, is being swamped with letters, telegrams and telephone calls asking her to please check up with the publicity department and see that they spell the name of her show correctly. With Riley's famous old poem of "Little Orphant Annie" in their minds, well-meaning friends insist that the title is "all wet," while from the outlying districts come requests for the correct spelling of "Orchard."

To relieve the suspense, Ruth wants everyone to know that she is "Orchid Annie" and not either "Orphan" or "Orchard." The why of the title remains to be revealed at the first performance.

City's Roar to Fill Criterion

Lola Lane

A new recruit in the pictures, has the leading feminine role in the film play which will commence an engagement at the Fox-West Coast house on Saturday. Although it is called "Speakeasy," this movie talks right out loud.

FUN FEST RULES LOEW'S

Stan Laurel and Oliver Hardy believe that escaping convicts can have funny adventures and prove it in their latest comedy, "Liberty," which is a special added attraction on an all-fun screen program opening today at Loew's State. This Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer comedy is in sound.

"Fancy Baggage," the feature talking picture, adds thrills and romance to its fun. Audrey Ferris, Myrna Loy, George Fawcett, Edmund Breese and others appear in the cast.

Fox Movietone news records the recent Tia Juana handicap races and other interesting world events in sound.

Rube Wolf introduces Fanchon and Marco's new "Sweethearts" idea on the stage. Famous sweethearts of history as portrayed include Cleopatra, Gaby Deslys, Helen of Troy, Juliet and DuBarry. Nat Nazarro, the Siroud Twins, Mme. Iki and twelve Poochi Pet girls head the cast. Jaron St. Germain designed the costumes for the sweetheart roles.

Star's Mental Feat Results From Training

Pauline Lord has frequently been complimented on her feat of having mastered the role of Nina in "Strange Interlude"—one of the longest in dramatic literature—and for never making any mistakes in her acting of the role, either in other cities or at the Biltmore Theater here, where the play is now being given. She has learned 175 part pages, single-spaced.

Miss Lord declares that she has developed a good memory for her lines because of the horrible example of a bad memory that she had before her when she first went on the stage. She began her acting career in a company of Nat Goodwin's — joining his troupe in San Francisco—and she recalls now with much amusement the frequency with which Goodwin used to forget or mix up his lines.

Once, Miss Lord recalls, Goodwin passed off a lapse very charmingly. He suddenly stopped himself in the middle of a speech that he had already delivered earlier in the evening, and turning ingratiatingly to the audience, said, "Good Lord, I said that in the other act, didn't I?"

Illustrators in 'Acting' Debuts

Two famous "extras" made their first screen appearance in Douglas Fairbanks's latest spectacular romance, "The Iron Mask," which is now at the Fox Carthay Circle.

Maurice Leloir, the distinguished French artist, and Lawrence Irving, the English painter, played small parts in one of the scenes in Athos's study. The 75-year-old M. Leloir came from Paris to supervise all historical details of the picture. He is recognized as the world's greatest authority on the seventeenth century, and was illustrator of the de luxe editions of Dumas's works. Mr. Irving, grandson of Sir Henry Irving, is one of the best known of the younger English artists and an exhibitor in the London Gallery.

Both M. Leloir and Mr. Irving made their first trip to America and visited their first moving-picture studio during the filming of "The Iron Mask," a sequel to Dumas's "The Three Musketeers." Neither proved "camera shy," and each established himself as an actor born to the lens.

Crystal-Gazing Furnishes Idea

Have you ever had your future read in the magic crystal? Perhaps you didn't believe in it. Not so long ago Philip Gibbs wrote "Darkened Rooms," a best seller, on the subject—and now Pantages Theater offers a photoplay of the part-talking variety that claims to settle the matter of "crystal gazing" definitely and conclusively.

"The Charlatan," opening at Pantages Saturday, has a Hindoo Yogi as its chief character and much mysterious crystal gazing in its sequences. Whether or not one takes everything in the picture for fact, however, doesn't matter; as Alexander Pantages says, "either way, it's a good picture."

CHEVALIER GETS DIRECTOR

Marcel de Sano, World War aviator, adventurer, diplomat and cinematic aesthete, has been signed to a contract as a Paramount director and as his first assignment will direct Maurice Chevalier in his second talking and singing picture for Paramount.

'Wolf Song' in Premiere Today at Paramount

Gary Cooper and Lupe Velez will be seen in their first co-starring film, "Wolf Song," at the Paramount today, when it opens a week's engagement.

"Wolf Song" is a tale of romance written by Harvey Ferguson, and first popularized in novel form. Action takes place in the Old Southwest, just prior to the gold rush. Miss Velez is a daughter of aristocratic Spanish dons, and Gary is seen as a mountain man. Louis Wolheim has the chief supporting role as Cooper's trapper-pal. The production has been filmed in sound, with the stars both singing several numbers. It is hailed as "The screen's first musical romance." Victor Fleming directed.

"Bubbles," a Publix road-show revue, heads the stage entertainment, with the Stanford University Glee Club also featured in a separate production. The former has the Gatanos, Gene Sheldon, Ross and Edwards, Marta Kay and the Dave Gould girls featured. Milton Charles, featured organist at the Paramount, makes his debut as master of ceremonies and musical director with "Bubbles."

Writer Misses His Own Play

Although "Courage," which the Henry Duffy Players are presenting at El Capitan, has been running in New York since October, Tom Barry, its author, has never seen the Broadway production. He has been too much occupied writing scenarios for talking pictures to take the trip East to see his comedy. Barry's first picture, "In Old Arizona" was released recently.

Barry wrote "Courage" for Emma Dunn; but at the time of its New York premiere she was under contract to Henry Duffy as guest star with his Seattle and Vancouver companies, and was unable to accept the engagement. Miss Dunn appeared several years ago on Broadway in another play by Barry called "Dawn."

Pickford Voice Interests Fans

With the entire lower floor and much of the balcony sold out already for the premiere of "Coquette," Mary Pickford's first all-talking picture, the world is waiting to hear what her voice is like. Wednesday a group of the more privileged will make up the audience which will hear Mary's voice for the first time on any public screen.

It is said that Miss Pickford's voice is not a high one, nor a very low one, but one which is easy to understand in articulation and inflection.

ELINOR SCORES "LUIS REY"

Carli Elinor, musical director of the Fox Carthay Circle, has been busier than the busiest bee for the past two months. Besides directing his orchestra at the concerts with Douglas Fairbanks in "The Iron Mask," he has been arranging, scoring and recording the music for Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer's production of Wilder's story, "The Bridge of San Luis Rey," featuring Lily Damita and Henry B. Walthall.

"LUCKY STAR" TITLED

Capt. H. H. Caldwell and Katharine Hilliker, Fox title writers, will edit "Lucky Star," the new Janet Gaynor-Charles Farrell co-starring vehicle which is now being directed by Frank Borzage.

SUPPORTING CAST TOLD BY HORTON

Helene Millard Romantic Lead in "Hottentot;" John Litel on Roster

Presenting an all-star cast that bids fair to rival any of his previously praised ones from the standpoint of ability, Edward Everett Horton announces his supporting company for his next Majestic Theater production, "The Hottentot," a comedy by William Collier and Victor Mapes.

Helene Millard, who will be remembered for several roles in a number of local and New York productions, returns to the stage here to supply the love interest. John Litel, long a favorite on both the local and eastern rialtos, portrays the rival horseman suitor for Miss Millard's favor. Florence Roberts also plays an important part. Fred Cummings, heretofore the director of Horton productions, returns to the realm of acting to become the hilarious English butler around whom much of the comedy is built. David Gallis comes under the Horton regime in a clever part. Mary Forbes, Mitchell Harris, Lottie Williams, Lewis Morrison and Harrison King are to be retained from the cast of "The Swan."

Rehearsals are well under way, and the play is rapidly rounding into shape for its opening April 7. "The Swan" positively closes April 6.

Chums Obliged to Battle for Sake of Drama

This business of jumping in and out of character is apt to get one a bit confused, according to Dadette Lee and Edythe Raynor, who portray two hard-boiled chorus girls in "Broadway," the cabaret melodrama now at the Vine Street Theater.

Offstage these two girls are inseparable chums. Onstage they enact Ruby and Maisie, two bitter enemies in the chorus of the "Paradise Night Club," the setting of "Broadway."

Occasionally during one of their fight scenes, Edythe may choke Dadette a bit too realistically or add an extra kick during the heat of the fray. But immediately upon their exit, there are profuse apologies and reassuring embraces until their next scene, when Dadette is apt to sneak in a few extra yanks of Edythe's hair as a sort of reminder. The two roles call for little short of murder.

Fans Vote for Variety Stars

More than 2,000,000 ballots were cast and over 5000 stage and screen artists represented in the coast-to-coast voting contest conducted recently by Radio-Keith-Orpheum theaters to determine the program of an all-request radio hour scheduled for April 2.

With few sections still to be heard from, Belle Baker, now in Brooklyn, and Sophie Tucker, current Los Angeles Orpheum headliner, were running neck and neck for first place. Van and Schenck ranked second, polling more than 20,000 votes. Other leaders include Rudy Vallee, Ted Lewis, Vincent Lopez, Nick Lucas, Leatrice Joy, Ben Bernie, Happiness Boys, Illini College Band, Charles Ray, Rae Samuels, Joseph Regan, Gilda Gray, Miss Patricola, Little Jack Little and Kate Smith.

According to present plans, two request programs will be arranged, the second for April 9. Broadcasting will be done through NBC network, Sophie Tucker, Ted Lewis and Nick Lucas contributing their efforts through KFI, Los Angeles.

MARY NOLAN AT PARAMOUNT

Mary Nolan, a chorus girl who has reached American screen success via German motion-picture studios, has been signed for an important featured role in W. Somerset Maugham's "The Marriage Holiday." Borrowed from Universal Pictures, she will appear as Anne-Marie Whitley, who has a love affair with the husband of her best friend, an older woman. Her part ranks in importance to those of Ruth Chatterton, Clive Brook and William Powell, who have already been assigned to the cast of this all-talking picture, which Robert Milton will direct.

DOG GETS BIG START

King, said to be the stage and screen's only white collie dog actor, has been cast for a part in Paramount's all-dialogue mystery film, "The Insidious Dr. Fu Manchu." He thus comes into another distinction, that of being the sole representative of his kingdom in talking pictures. Before making his debut in the dialogue films, King completed a vaudeville tour. Prior to that, he appeared in several silent pictures.

GARNET REWARDED

Reception of Tay Garnett's second directorial effort, "The Spieler," at the Roxy Theater, New York, has resulted in Pathe's assigning to the fast-rising young director William Boyd's next, "The Flying Fool," an all-talkie, with singing and dancing sequences. Marie Prevost and Russell Gleason are in this newest Garnett picture, for which George Green has written the music.

"REDSKIN" AT MILLION

Richard Dix in "Redskin," Paramount's non-talking film of the Navajo tribe, opens a week's engagement at Lazarus's Million Dollar tomorrow. The production is presented in technicolor, and the sound effects feature Indian songs, chants and tom tom pow-wows. Dix plays the role of Wing Foot, a young brave who becomes a great college athlete but who is called back to his people to bring about peace between two rival tribes.

"GAS" STATIONS FORM MERGER

Pasadena Home Office of New Organization

Scope of Operation Will be Nation-wide

To Prevent Price-Cutting War in Future

PASADENA, March 27.—Characterized as "the first step in the organization of a national chain of service stations," seventy independent gasoline stations in this city are reported to have been consolidated into a $1,000,000 corporation today.

Charles Forbes of 408 Adena street, president and one of the incorporators of the merged interests, announced that the organization, said to be one of the first of its kind in the United States, will be known as the "Independent Auto Service, Inc."

"The organization," said Mr. Forbes, "will deal in all petroleum products and automobile accessories, and each member station will be painted a distinctive color and display the corporation emblem.

"The principal reason for merging the independent stations is to give the operators a mass purchasing power of commodities consumed by motorists, thus reducing costs and increasing profits.

"One of the major intentions of the new concern is the prevention of the recurrence of such price-cutting wars as Southern California has just experienced.

"Products of the large companies will be marketed and all the officials of these companies with whom we have conferred, look with favor on the consolidation."

Mr. Forbes revealed that the concern has received its first shipments of oil and gasoline and is now "a going concern."

A two-story building at 47 East Walnut street, probably will be purchased by the service station group, according to Forbes.

The second floor will be devoted to offices and a large council room, while the entire first floor will be used for storage purposes.

Besides President Forbes, the officers include: O. E. Blanding, vice-president; Arthur Morse, treasurer, and Alfred Newman, secretary.

The names of the consolidated service stations will be announced within a few days, it was stated.

Police Check Boys' Adventure

MONROVIA, March 27.—Off to the battlefields of Mexico for adventure, three Monrovia - Arcadia-Duarte High School boys who left home last Friday on bicycles "to see the war," are in the hands of San Diego police today, according to Chief of Police Frank Scott.

Douglas Small, 15 years of age, of 423 Naomi Drive, Arcadia, was apprehended yesterday afternoon in Oceanside while Carl Knechtel, 14, of 120 North Ivy avenue, Monrovia, and Herman Hershmann, 14, of 216 South First avenue, Arcadia, were taken into custody yesterday morning in San Diego.

The Small boy abandoned his bicycle, it is believed, although Knechtel and Hershmann were riding their bicycles when picked up by officers, according to Deputy Sheriff Purrier of the missing person detail of Los Angeles county.

Lawyers Oppose Present System

SANTA ANA, March 27.—The Orange County Bar Association today was on record as opposed to the judicial council system of California, which administers court procedure in the State, and has thrown its influence behind the legislative fight now under way to repeal the system.

Opposition of local legal circles to the judicial council system, which has been gradually accumulating during the two years the system has been in force, crystallized in the discussion at last night's meeting, which brought the legal profession of this county squarely out against what is regarded as outside interference with the county's court business.

PRESENTING BILL STARTS NEAR RIOT

REDLANDS, March 27.—Five complaints against four well-known business men of this city were filed in the Justice Court today, all charging battery. All are the outcome of a battle which took place at the automobile establishment of Jimmie Derbin, the police report.

One of the policemen called, Ora Thomas, took a blow on the chin, but he has filed no complaint. The difficulty arose over a bill presented to Derbin by the Southwest Electric Company, represented first by Harry Jenkins, then Homer Jenkins and Henry Jenkins.

Derbin has filed complaints against the three members of the electric firm. Henry Jenkins has charged Jimmie Derbin with battery and Harry Jenkins has charged Jimmie Derbin with battery and Henry Jenkins charges G. H. Melton, head salesman for Derbin, with battery.

CITY OFFICIAL HAS NARROW ESCAPE

REDLANDS, March 27.—Capt. Theodore Krumm, City Councilman, had a narrow escape from serious injury today when he wrecked his big car on Brookside avenue. A motorist turned in the middle of the block in front of him so suddenly that he was forced into the curb. His car was damaged about $1000, but he was not hurt.

BOY SCOUTS HONORED

Two Covina Lads Receive Citations

Vernon Shaw and Merwin Gilmore
Commended for giving first aid to aged accident victim.

COVINA, March 27.—Two local Boy Scouts, who rendered first aid to E. A. Weegar, 65-year-old Covina rancher, after he was seriously injured on the 23rd inst., in an automobile accident, will receive service citations from the national Scout organization, according to Victor Teaney, field executive for this district.

The youths, Vernon Shaw and Merwin Gilmore, both 16 years of age, and sophomores in the local high school, are said to be the first Scouts in this district to receive citation for performance of duties. Their action is considered more remarkable in that they have attained only the Star rank in the organization.

After giving the injured man first-aid treatment, they rushed him to the Covina Hospital where physicians praised their work.

Weegar sustained serious scalp wounds, face lacerations and broken ribs when his machine struck a palm tree after colliding with another machine at Second and Badillo avenues. The accident occurred in front of the local Scout Home and the two youths rushed out after hearing the crash.

Traffic Toll Grows Larger at San Diego

SAN DIEGO, March 27.—San Diego's traffic mortality toll for 1929 soared to nineteen with the death of Israel Stroup, 58 years of age, local building contractor, and his wife, Addie Stroup, 70, at Fourteenth and C streets, in an automobile collision, police report.

The death rate for less than three months of 1929 exceeds by a wide margin any similar period in the city's history, police declared, and if the present rates continue throughout the present year a new national as well as local record will be established, they predict.

Stroup was killed almost instantly and his wife died within several minutes after their car collided with one driven by Ernest J. Shurtleff, 4646 Cherokee street, crashed over on its side and skidded more than twenty feet upside down. The two victims were crushed to death.

An inquest into the fatal crash will be held Friday at 10 a.m. in the Benbough funeral establishment, Coroner Schuyler C. Kelly declared. Kelly made an examination of the collision and after hearing the stories of witnesses, ordered Shurtleff held in jail on a technical charge until the inquest.

FAST GROWING SCHOOL

Ventura County District Starts Fourth Building Enterprise

VENTURA, March 27.—Marking its fourth building enterprise in four years, the Avenue school district, just north of the Ventura city limits, will vote next Friday on a $60,000 bond issue for a new grammar school to be erected on a site recently purchased from Frank Jones.

In February, 1925, the Avenue district completed a two-room school. The summer of the following year it was obliged to erect a two-story addition, and in the summer of 1927 five rooms more.

So rapid has been the growth that already the building is filled to capacity, and in addition the trustees have equipped a room in a private dwelling, where twenty-five other children are given instruction. The $60,000 now asked is for a five-room building on the second site.

At the Friday election one trustee will be elected to fill a vacancy left by the expiration of Mrs. Fred Mercer's term. She is not a candidate to succeed herself, and the only nominee is Mrs. H. E. Robinson, Jr.

CHARGE BOYS WITH ROBBERY OF CANNERY

ONTARIO, March 27.—Charged with burglarizing the Harvey Braun cannery on Riverside Road, just east of Ontario city limits, Alfred Shellenbarger, 18, Chino, and Dugan Morse, 22, of 213 West State street, Ontario, were placed under arrest last night.

Shellenbarger is said to have confessed to the charges but Morse insists he was working in Ontario at the time police say the burglary was committed. Shellenbarger said Morse was with him at the cannery and that they both were guilty of taking property from the building.

The youths are charged with stealing copper from the cannery and were questioned concerning theft of bronze bearings belonging to the Canyon Ridge Water Company.

Bail for the pair was placed at $1000 and as neither had provided the amount they were locked up in jail last night.

PAGEANT PLANNED FOR ADMISSION DAY

PASADENA, March 28.—John Steven McGroarty, author of the Mission Play, will write a new pageant depicting the pioneer history of the State of California to and including the date it joined the Union, as the feature attraction of this city's first annual Admission Day celebration which will be held in the Rose Bowl, September 9.

Harlan W. Hall, secretary of the Pasadena Tournament of Roses Association, today announced at the meeting of City Directors that Dr. Guy Gossard of Pasadena Post No. 13, American Legion, will work with Mr. McGroarty in completing the program for the celebration.

Admission Day heretofore has never been celebrated in Pasadena with special programs, although banks, city offices and schools have been closed for the day. Mr. Hall asserted that the present plans will adequately commemorate the day and will serve to popularize the Rose Bowl.

RANCHER INJURED IN TRACTOR ACCIDENT

LA CANADA, March 27.—Crushed beneath a heavy tractor which overturned on the Walter M. Murphy ranch today, Frank Contreras, a farm hand, incurred injuries that may cause his death.

Contreras escaped instant death, according to eyewitnesses, because the gasoline tank, under which he was pinned, collapsed under the pressure of his body.

The victim of the accident was treated in the Pasadena Emergency Hospital for a probable fracture of the spine and internal injuries.

He was transferred to the California Lutheran Hospital, Los Angeles, where X-rays will be taken.

JACK FROST NIPS ASPARAGUS SHOOTS

VAN NUYS, March 27.—Jack Frost this spring season has been in evidence a little bit more than in former years. Not much damage has been done, however. S. O. Houghton, large asparagus grower here, reports he has made a survey of his 450 acres of asparagus and finds that some of the shoots above ground have been slightly nipped by frosts of the last two or three days, but that the roots below ground have not been damaged.

ENGINEER SAVES LIFE

Brings Train to a Halt Before It Passes Over Would-be Suicide

SANTA PAULA, March 27.—Quick thinking on the part of Engineer O. L. Willey of Los Angeles, in the cab of the westbound Southern Pacific passenger train due in this city at 9:30 a.m., saved the life of Efigenia Jaques, 48 years of age, Mexican mother of four children, who, in an asserted demented state of mind this morning, tried to throw herself in front of the oncoming train.

Standing a block east of the depot, the woman waited until the train was approximately thirty feet from her before she threw herself across the tracks. The engineer, who had been watching her, immediately applied the emergency air brakes and stopped the train within fifteen feet of where she lay. Conductor L. M. Best of Los Angeles, took several minutes to persuade the woman to get off the track before the train could proceed to the station. The matter was reported to the local police and the woman taken to the County Hospital for examination as to her sanity.

The engineer said he had noticed the woman standing by the track every day for about two weeks, and advanced the theory that she had been nerving herself to the act which she tried to commit today.

LAW NEVER SLEEPS

Strange Tale of Ten Months' Search by Police to Find Lost Automobile Which Was Never Lost

ONTARIO, March 27.—Love's labor lost and how, was written on the police books today as a grand finale to a ten months' search all over Southern California for a lost automobile that wasn't lost at all.

On June 3, 1928, D. W. Duvall, Ontario, reported to police that his automobile had been stolen.

The law enforcement department set to work right away to find the automobile. The search extended all over Southern California. Papers regarding the automobile were obtained from the Motor Vehicle Department at Sacramento.

The police traced the car through six sales, always drawing closer to a solution. The end of the trail came today at the M. and H. Garage, North Lemon avenue, where the machine was located by the persistent police. Joyfully the police told him that his stolen automobile had been found.

Then Duvall provided the climax to the tedious search by announcing that three days after he reported the car stolen, he had found it. But in the meantime he had forgotten to tell the police and their search went on for ten long months.

WATER SUPPLY UNSAFE

County Health Department Orders City of Azusa to Make Investigation

AZUSA, March 27.—Branding the domestic water supply taken from the San Gabriel River as polluted and unfit for use the County Health Department has ordered the City Council to take immediate steps in the matter and investigate the placing of a chlorination plant at the city reservoir.

City Water Superintendent Jack Pierce is making an investigation this week and will report to the City Council next Monday, according to City Clerk M. A. Hynes.

According to health officials, the city water supply has been polluted for some time but the condition has reached an alarming state since construction on the San Gabriel dam started.

The City Clerk has on file the following letter:

"Honorable City Council,
"City of Azusa,
"Gentlemen:
"We wish to notify the City Council of Azusa that water taken from the San Gabriel River is unsafe for use for domestic purposes. This state of affairs has existed for some time, but has become very serious with the construction of the San Gabriel county flood-control dam. With the number of men who are working there, it will be impossible to watch everyone and as the number of workmen increases si will the pollution. The contractor is doing everything that he can to provide toilet facilities, but the responsibility of serving a safe domestic water rests with the City of Azusa.

ADDICT'S SCHEME FAILS

Alhambra Physician Forewarned of Activities of Confidence Man

ALHAMBRA, March 27.—The scheme of an asserted drug addict to obtain narcotics fraudently from local physicians, successful in at least two instances, was halted today with the arrest of D. W. Wright, 51 years of age, who is said to have worked the same ruse in other communities.

Wright was arrested at the offices of Dr. L. B. Smith, whom he had selected as his third victim. He had called Dr. Smith on the telephone, police learned, stating that he was "Mr. Evans of the Arizona-California Construction Company."

"I am sending one of our men, D. W. Wright, to you," Wright telephoned. "He is suffering from tuberculosis and we are sending him back to Arizona. I want you to give him sufficient drugs to last him until he arrives in Arizona and send the bill to us."

But Dr. Smith had previously been warned of the activities of the man and when Wright arrived at the office the police were waiting. He was placed under arrest and is said to have confessed his operations. He was sent to the psychopathic ward of the General Hospital.

Dr. H. L. Charles and Dr. R. A. Walker, both of Alhambra, had been defrauded by Wright, who used the same ruse here last November, it is said. Bills sent to the Arizona-California Construction Company at an Arcadia address were returned with notations by postal officials that there was no such firm there.

LOST HIKERS RETURN

Two Santa Barbara Youths Spend Night in Mountain Fastness

SANTA BARBARA, March 27.—Lost on a mountain trail from 8 o'clock last night until almost dawn this morning was the experience of Robert Hathaway and Elbert Cochran, Jr., high school youths who set their alarm clocks for 2:30 o'clock yesterday morning and for twenty-four hours tramped up and down the coast range of mountains between Santa Barbara and Gibraltar Lake.

The two boys started before daylight yesterday morning to catch sunrise from the crest of Lacumbre. Taking food for one meal with them they had luncheon along the shores of Gibraltar Lake and spent the day hiking about the back country. Yesterday evening they started the long hike home, expecting to reach Santa Barbara by 9 o'clock. Taking a new trail, over which neither of the boys had traveled before, they discovered several hours later that they were lost. All night they tramped the trails of the mountainside hoping to strike a familiar road that would lead them back to civilization. Not until daylight this morning did they finally find their way out of the tangle, some few miles beyond Goleta on the Coast Highway. Sheriff's officers had been called to organize a search party when the boys returned home.

SCHOOL ELECTIONS

HUNTINGTON PARK, March 27. An election in both the Huntington Park Union High School district and the Huntington Park city school district is scheduled to be held on Good Friday, the 29th inst., when one member of each of the boards will be elected. The term of Mrs. Helen B. Camp of the high-school board, expires May 1. Mrs. Camp is a candidate for re-election and resides in Walnut Park. The term of A. F. Ulrich of South Gate expires the same date, and he is a candidate for re-election.

WANTS RAILWAY TO CONSTRUCT STATION

RESEDA, March 27.—For some time Reseda has made effort to get the Pacific Electric to build a small station in the townsite. Following a new resolution passed by the local chamber of commerce, John Lauesen has been appointed to visit railway officials in the city and obtain a definite expression from them. If the station is erected it will probably be on a site near the intersection of Sherman Way and Reseda Boulevard.

EVERYBODY SATISFIED

SAN FERNANDO, March 27.—Because vacations cannot be granted to former city employees who have resigned their posts, the City Council here was forced to appoint a former police officer for one week and immediately grant him a week's vacation with pay. The technical question arose in the case of Fred Thompson, who resigned from the force recently. Before resigning, Thompson had requested the vacation from his chief. The latter neglected to place the matter before the Council until after Thompson was off the force. So the appointment and vacation with pay satisfied the law, the Council and the police officer.

ORANGE, March 27.—Tired of living, M. Paul, 72 years of age, of 242 Bush street, Orange, locked himself in the bathroom at his son-in-law's home last night at 8 o'clock and turned on the gas.

The son-in-law, Frank Showalter, broke in the door and found Paul unconscious on the floor. He was rushed to the Orange County Hospital, where he was revived.

Today Paul still insisted that he was tired of living and ready to die. He has been in ill health for some time and is being held under observation at the County Hospital.

LONG BEACH, March 27.—Announcement of plans to erect a $2,500,000 fourteen-story apartment on Ocean Boulevard near Atlantic avenue was authorized today by W. C. Archibald stated that construction will start on the building within sixty days.

MISSION WORKER HURT IN AUTO ACCIDENT

RIVERSIDE, March 27.—Alonzo M. Petty, D.D., field secretary of the American Baptist Home Missionary Society, suffered fractures of the pelvis girdle in two places when struck by an automobile here Sunday afternoon, X-ray examination revealed today at the Community Hospital. ALHAMBRA, March 26.—A woman was seriously injured and her husband and three children received minor hurts late last night when their automobile crashed into a Pacific Electric freight train at the Fremont-avenue crossing on the Covina line.

The most serious injured is Mrs. William Miller of Bell. She suffered a fractured pelvis and possible internal injuries. The other members of the family escaped with lacerations and bruises. Mrs. Miller was removed to the Garfield Hospital, Monterey Park.

Miller failed to observe the train on the crossing and crashed into it. His heavy touring car was wrecked.

BUILD NEW PLUNGE AT BALBOA BEACH

NEWPORT BEACH, March 27.—Construction of a large double plunge on the Balboa Beach front in connection with the ocean front bath house is to begin at once, it was announced today by Ray Burlingame, official of the Balboa Beach Amusement Company who took out the building permit.

The main plunge will be 45 by 105 feet and the children's section will have dimensions of 20 by 45 feet. The cost of the structure is estimated at $15,000. The building is to be equipped with hot and cold water showers, will have diving towers, seats for spectators and will be one of the most modern on the Coast. The plunge will be built of reinforced cement.

ANAHEIM, March 27.—Many residents of Northern California will attend the ninth annual California Valencia Orange Show being held this year at Anaheim, May 23 to June 2. This fact is evident from the many inquiries being received by officials of the Los Angeles Steamship Company, which carries the greatest percentage of Los Angeles-bound passengers from San Francisco on their two palatial liners, the Yale and Harvard.

Both the Yale and Harvard will be utilized to bring the many visitors to the orange show from the northern portion of the State. Officials of the steamship line are cooperating with both the orange show officials and with the Anaheim Chamber of Commerce to make the 1929 event the biggest ever presented.

New Supervisor Takes Charge

SAN DIEGO, March 27.—L. H. Anderson, newly appointed supervisor of the Cleveland National Forest, with headquarters at San Diego, arrived here today from the Angeles National Forest, where he has been stationed as assistant supervisor. Anderson succeeds J. E. Elliott, who on Monday was transferred to San Bernardino National Forest, where he is supervisor.

Anderson is well acquainted with the problems confronting the forestry service in the Southern California area, having worked out of Los Angeles office for several years. He has had twenty-three years' experience in forestry work. Accompanied by Elliott, who now is getting established at San Bernardino, he is to make an inspection tour of the Cleveland area within the near future.

WINTER REIGNS IN MOUNTAINS

ONTARIO, March 27.—Eleven members of Ontario Rangers' Society, home today from an attempted trip to Jenks Lake, in the San Bernardino Mountains, know that there is as much winter in two hours' drive from Ontario as there is in Alaska.

When they attempted to drive to the mountain lake their road was blocked by trees blown over by winter winds and by heavy drifts of snow.

A hidden rock in the road smashed the crankcase on one of their cars, which they forsook, then pushing ahead with a toboggan.

But the snow, wind and cold were too much for them and they returned to the land of sunshine, oranges and warmth.

EXCLUDE WOMEN FROM MURDER JURY

VENTURA, March 27. (AP).—A jury of twelve men will hear the trial in Superior Court here of Dominic Leo and Frank Rocco on charges of murder growing out of the asserted gangster slaying of James Brady on the 1st inst.

After a full day of wrangling, during which women on the venire were excused, the jury was accepted early today.

Brady, who was an asserted San Francisco liquor dealer, was "taken for a ride," police say, and thrown from an automobile here. Leo and Rocco, who came to Southern California from oPrtland, Me., were arrested after the discovery of the car in which it is asserted the shooting took place.

SPEAKER FLAYS GOVERNMENT

SAN FERNANDO, March 27.—In an address before members of the local post of the Veterans of Foreign Wars of the United States Frank T. Strayer, past commander-in-chief of the organization, flayed Congress for failure to appropriate sufficient funds to care for disabled veterans. Strayer attacked the policy of appropriating millions for prohibition enforcement and neglecting disabled veterans.

Governor Promises Immediate

SANTA ANA, March 27.—In a gubernatorial statement of immediate action looking to the relief of asserted deplorable conditions under which disabled veterans are living at the State land settlement project at Delhi, Governor Young, commander-in-chief of the California Department of the Veterans of the World War, today announced his intention of visiting the Delhi project at an early date.

At Delhi, Mayor Young was amazed to learn that not only was the project a complete failure in every sense, but that hundreds of disabled veterans who had gone there, penniless, and with the hope of securing a home on the barren land that would be theirs, were living in tents and even in a wild flower.

"They have no water," he said, "a lot of them have not been paid for and that they have no homes that they are entitled to as compensation checks for which they receive from the government are for an amount that averages but $30 a month, an average family of four cannot get relief in signs.

"In a lengthy conference with Mayor Young assured me that immediate steps would be taken to secure equitable settlement of the bitterly denounced the lack of interest in reimbursing the veterans who gave not only their services but also their all to the Government as the Government's Delhi project. The State Department of Mission admits it is a failure, but does Gov. Young, but no relief has been taken. I demand that legislation to give them relief."

Tells Mission of Legion Oxnard

OXNARD, March 27.—A telegram of the American Legion, the Department of California, outlined comprehensive plans for the N. Belgrano, Jr., department commander, who paid an official visit to the Ventura County post of the American Legion, at a meeting held in the Community House in Oxnard.

"We are this month celebrating the tenth anniversary of the founding of the American Legion," stated Belgrano in his telegram, "and it is fitting that we take stock of our principles, what we have done and whither we are going.

"The Constitution of the United States needs protection. Our men and women in the service of this country have written of Constitution, and it is our duty to bring to bear down to the last man, woman and child to render null and void the infamous and provisions.

"The American Legion must protect that Constitution and should say to those people who would like to tear down its principles and subscribe to its tenets or get out.

"There are certain principles of the people and of the American Legion to which I declared Mr. Belgrano.

Community betterment was another angle to Mr. Belgrano's talk. "The Legion is not a selfish organized body in order to improve their condition, but ever they must work for an ambition, for a cleaner citizenship, and for the execution of vice."

AID DEMANDED FOR VETERANS

Official Reports Project Failure

Disabled ex-Service Men in Dire Need

Governor Promises Relief Immediately

SANTA ANA, March 27. — Following gubernatorial assurance of immediate action looking to investigation of asserted deplorable conditions under which disabled veterans are living at the State land reclamation project at Delhi, William A. Murphy, commander of the Department of California, Disabled American Veterans of the World War, said his home here today, following a decision of his twenteith local of the United States Veterans' bureau, and chapters of the D.A.V. in Southern California.

At Delhi, Murphy reported, he was amazed to learn that no progress in the project a complete failure in every sense, but that hundreds of disabled veterans were living there, penniless, and with a few barren land that would not produce even a wild flower.

"They have on hand," he said, "a lot of farm implements paid for and that they cannot use, homes that they are paying for, and compensation checks that they receive from the government, for that average but 400 a month is an average family of four, with no relief in sight.

"In a lengthy conference with Young assured me that immediate steps would be taken toward an equitable settlement. I cannot help but bitterly denounce the lack of interest in reimbursing the veterans who gave not only their all financially to the Delhi project. The State Land Settlement commission admits it is a failure, and does Gov. Young, but no action has been taken. I demand immediate relief."

Tells Mission of Legion at Oxnard Meet

OXNARD, March 27.—State program of the American Legion for the Department of California was outlined comprehensively by Paul N. Belgrano, Jr., department commander, who paid an official visit to the Ventura County post of the American Legion, at the meeting held in the community house in Oxnard.

"We are this month celebrating the tenth anniversary of the founding of the American Legion Society," stated Belgrano. "It is fitting that we take stock of our principles, what we have done, whether we are going."

"The Constitution of the United States needs protection. There are men and women in this land of this country living under the guise of Constitution, that are attempting to tear down its principles and render null and void its amendments and provisions.

"The American Legion shall protect that Constitution, and I should say to these people and to tear down its provisions, to ascribe to its tenets or get out of the people and it is up to the American Legion to lead the way," declared Mr. Belgrano.

Community betterment was another angle to Mr. Belgrano's talk. "The Legion is out to support every organized body in their efforts to improve their community in every way they need, whether it be a sanitarium, a swimming pool, cleaner streets, or aid in the prosecution of vice."

Buy Airplane for Officers

PASADENA, March 27.—Approval of purchase of a three-passenger airplane for exclusive use of the local police department is predicted following Chief Eric Young's attempt to secure the ship for use in "hot pursuit" of bandits' automobiles and returning fugitives to the city, it was announced when the request was sent in completed form to the City Council. Police Chief Charles H. Kelly said today.

Motorcycle Officer L. R. Hill, licensed pilot, and Motorcycle Officer R. F. Ewing, a former United States Army aviator, will act as monoplane observers.

"Every police department in the country," said the police chief, "will ultimately have its own aquadron and Pasadena will be the leader in organizing it. Then so that it can take care of the many of whom are responsible for escapes by air at the present time."

COWBOY DANDY HERE FOR R[ODEO]

SAUGUS, March 27.—Lance "Brummel" Saunders, possessor of whose up-to-the-minute wearing apparel is nearly as well known as his deft calf roping and bulldogging, has entered the fourth annual Saugus Ranch rodeo to be staged here on Sunday, April 28, according to Bob Anderson, director of the show. Saunders roped his way to the big money at Phoenix and Tucson, Ariz., during the winter months, and is entered in several weeks, and is entered in several some Class A contests. He was also in the Baker ranch rodeo, and one of the most graceful steer ropers in the show, was forced out to lop off a few seconds in the bulldogging record, Anderson said.

KIWANIS DELEGATES

SAN FERNANDO, March 27.—Walt Collins and A. L. Gaines were selected as delegates and were selected as delegates and alternates from the local Kiwanis club to the district convention to be held in Redlands this summer. H. H. Dean and E. M. Sykes were chosen alternates to follow in lieutenant-governorship of the district of Kiwanis.

ALCOHOL PLANT SEIZED IN RAID

County Dry Agents Arrest Man in Charge

Mash, Still and Product of "Factory" Destroyed

Wright Act Fines for Month Now Total $11,140

Sixty-six barrels of mash, a twenty-gallon a day alcohol still and ten gallons of raw alcohol were destroyed yesterday by Capt. Plummer, chief of the District Attorney's Wright Act bureau, after officers of the bureau discovered the still at 2330 Silver Lake Boulevard.

Tony Rino, 49 years of age, who was found on the premises by the raiding officers, refused to divulge the name of the owner. Officers believe Rino is only employed there. He was lodged in the County Jail.

CLEVERLY EQUIPPED

The still and three mash rooms, on the upper floor of the two-story structure, were the most efficiently equipped for concealing fumes from the cooking mash yet encountered by the dry squad. A two-inch galvanized pipe to which rubber tubing from the barrels was attached, carried the fumes into the sewer.

Rino said the place only had been operating a week and that the plant cost $1400 to equip.

Officers who made the raid besides Capt. Plummer, were J. S. Rico, S. P. Leap, Fletcher Talbert and O. L. Childers.

BUREAU ACTIVE

Leap, who has charge of accounts in Plummer's office said yesterday's plant was the sixth of the month destroyed with 190 dryiaw violation arrests. The stills total 375 gallons daily capacity of 180 proof alcohol. In one raid 10,000 gallons of mash were destroyed. Liquor destroyed for the month totals 3000 gallons outside of yesterday's capture, Leap said.

Capt. Plummer's office has produced $11,140 in fines for the month, to date, with sentences to violators totaling 6620 days in prison. There are 250 cases now pending, it was announced.

New Phonograph Process Told by Canadian Here

Declaring that his process of recording the voice and other sound effects in indestructible discs gives promise of revolutionising recording and repopularizing the phonograph in the home, Dr. A. E. Lauder, president of the Lauder Recording Company of Vancouver, B. C., yesterday announced his intention of locating in Los Angeles on arrival here of equipment from the Canadian city.

According to Lauder, now at the Biltmore Apartments, he is the inventor of a process which records on metal records, suitable for reproduction on practically all phonographs. The records, impervious to climatic conditions as well as indestructible, may be produced at less than one-tenth of the present cost of recording, he said.

The invention is the result of five years' experimentation, according to Lauder, who is an eye specialist by profession.

COUNTY DELAYS SITE BUYING

Prices on Proposed Lots for State Building Still Going Down, So Supervisors Wait

Indications that the bottom has not yet been reached in the downward trend of prices for sites for the new $1,250,000 State building yesterday caused the Board of Supervisors to delay action on purchase of the site.

Just as the Supervisors were about to act, word reached them that the agent for one of the sites available was in a position to offer a substantial cut in price, knowing that his client was about to be left out of the sale and purchase. Shortly after it was made known that a second site very likely could be purchased at a figure considerably under the price quoted when the owners thought they had the field to themselves.

In addition, it was revealed that the option on one of the sites expires in a few days and the optioneers in the case are anxious to get the names of the Supervisors on the five dotted lines.

For the first time yesterday two of the Supervisors agreed on one site, it was reported at the Hall of Records. If one more Supervisor "flops," the deal will go through, it is indicated. This site is at the northwest corner of First and Spring streets, originally priced at $3200 a foot, but reduced by successive price cuts until it now is offered at a price lower than any site except one outside the Civic Center, which is on a steep hillside, and when graded, would necessitate three or four basements and subbasements on the "low" side of a building constructed on it.

No Supervisor would predict yesterday when the matter of the Statebuilding site will be taken up again.

"We are going to buy the best site at the lowest possible price," said Supervisor Shaw.

TIME FLIGHT DELAYED BY LACK OF BAROGRAPH

Lack of a barograph to time the attempt of Mrs. Florence Lowe Barnes, San Marino society aviatrix, to break the world's solo endurance flying record of thirty-six hours, will postpone the scheduled take-off from next Saturday to Sunday morning, Mrs. Barnes announced last night.

"When Okey Bevins took off for his nonstop attempt from here to New York, he carried away two officially timed barographs with him," Mrs. Barnes said. "There seems to be a shortage of correctly regulated barographs in Southern California and we will have to have one sent from Washington by air mail. This will retard the start, and I'm sorry, because I'm all keyed up to go up and stay up."

PLANE TESTS TODAY

Officials at the Lockheed Aircraft Company reported last night that the new Lockheed which Mrs. Barnes will use in her endurance attempt will be given official load tests today and then will be turned over to Mrs. Barnes for a few practice flights before she goes aloft from Metropolitan Airport early Sunday morning.

The take-off will be made as soon as daylight breaks so that Mrs. Barnes can take advantage of the heavy early morning air to get the Lockheed off the ground. The plane will carry a capacity load of 430 gallons of gasoline and fifteen gallons of oil, weighing approximately 2800 pounds.

Special pumps were installed late yesterday in the cockpit of the Lockheed so that Mrs. Barnes can refill the wing tanks from those in the fuselage during the long flight. She will replenish the eight gallons of oil to be placed in the tank at the start by seven gallons more in one-gallon cans to be stacked in the bottom of the cockpit.

CONFIDENT OF SUCCESS

Mrs. Barnes last night was confident that the Wright Whirlwind 225-horsepower motor will get the heavy load in the air and keep it there until she breaks the record held by the late flyer, Royal Thomas. She will have to stay aloft twenty-two hours to break the woman's record held by Mrs. Louise McPhetridge Thaden.

Although she has been flying only six months, Mrs. Barnes was selected by the Lockheed organization to pilot its ship in the endurance flight. She is the granddaughter of the late S. C. Lowe, pioneer Southern California engineer, and is the wife of Rev. C. Rankin Barnes, South Pasadena minister.

PREPAREDNESS PLEA MADE

Dr. Charles Decker Tells City Club Nation Must Command Respect of All World

Defending our national policy of maintaining an army and navy of sufficient strength to command the respect of possible enemies, Dr. Charles W. Decker, in an address at the City Club yesterday criticised the "extreme pacifist" who "sees danger in the adequate preparedness of America, but looks with complacency on a foreign murderous monopoly masquerading as a benefactor of humanity."

Comparing the military status of Soviet Russia with that of our own democracy, Dr. Decker pointed to the fact that the latter country maintains one soldier to every sixty-six inhabitants, as against one soldier to each 280 citizens of the United States.

"Last year the United States appropriated $375,000,000 for the Army, as compared with $405,000,000 appropriated by Russia," said the speaker. "Yet the actual amount of money spent by Russia for military purposes was even greater, in comparison, considering the fact that the Russian soldier receives less pay and is less well taken care of than the American soldier. Our army and navy expense in 1910 was 40 per cent of our national budget, whereas today our expense for all military purposes is only 17½ per cent of the budget. The real danger is that we may be depriving ourselves of adequate national defense."

Harry James, chairman of the membership committee of the Junior City Club, announced that the new organization now boasts nearly 100 members. The charter membership drive will close May 1. All men between 16 and 32 years of age are eligible to membership. Chairmen of the other committees are as follows: Organization, J. L. Brader; entertainment, King Walker; reception, John D. McPherson; publicity, John D. Enefer; by-laws, Paul W. Brown.

Gas Expected to Continue at Present Price

The price of gasoline appeared to have settled down to the fixed maximum scale of 18½ cents a gallon yesterday and dealers look forward to accepting this price for the remainder of the summer, it was asserted. Many assert they will resist efforts of organizations proposing to establish different rates for different sections of the city. To aid such action would tend to precipitate another gasoline "war," they assert.

With the Texas Company increasing their wholesale price to 17½ cents Tuesday most of the dealers saw an end to the controversy.

In San Diego and San Francisco the prices underwent no change and dealers asserted they expect none.

EX-POLICE OFFICERS HONORED

Four Who Served City in Past Days Presented With Gold Badges

Three former detective lieutenants and one captain who joined the Los Angeles police department in the last century were presented with gold badges by members of the detective bureau at Central Police Station yesterday.

They are Capt. Grant Roberds, Sr., and Detective Lieutenants Joseph Rich, Thomas F. Rico and H. L. Varey. The presentations were made by Chief of Detectives Cline.

Rich and Rico served continuously on the department for more than thirty years, Roberds for twenty-one and Varey for twenty years. All retired years ago. Roberds commanded the detective bureau for several years. Rich, Rico and Varey figured in numerous gun battles with bandits. All walked beats in the toughest parts of the city during the period when driving a horse and wagon across Broadway at First street at ten miles an hour was a speeding offense.

The retired officers still make their homes here.

EASTER GIFT FOR HOOVERS

California Lilies Going Today Via Air

Billie Dove Takes Blooms to Vail Field

TWENTY Easter lilies, selected from among choice blooms raised in Hollywood gardens, will be dispatched this morning by air express and delivered to President and Mrs. Herbert Hoover at the White House on Saturday morning.

The California lilies are a part of the many thousands that have been provided to decorate the Hollywood Bowl for the sunrise services Sunday, and the gift and delivery was arranged through cooperation of the Civic Easter Sunrise Service Committee of Hollywood and the Western Air Express.

The flowers were delivered to Vail Field yesterday afternoon by Billie Dove, film actress, accompanied by members of the committee, and were turned over to the American Railway Express for shipment by air. Pilot Doty, of the Western Air Express, will leave with the blooms today at 7:35 a.m., and on flying schedule they should reach Washington at midnight Friday, for delivery Saturday morning.

A hand-lettered and illuminated parchment scroll inclosed with the lilies contains the following Easter greeting:

"Hon. Herbert Hoover and Mrs. Herbert Hoover, The White House, Washington, D. C.

"These lilies, sped to you by air express, bring Easter greetings from California and tidings of our annual sunrise worship in the Hollywood Bowl, our great outdoor temple where many thousands will greet the dawn on Easter morn with redoubled faith in God and our nation. (Signed) Easter Sunrise Service Committee, George M. Chapman, general chairman; Mrs. Bert Fesler, Mrs. Leiland Atherton Irish and Frederick D. Raymond, vice-chairmen; Billie Dove, Herbert Hoover, Jr."

Herbert Hoover, Jr., who is an official of the Western Air Express, aided in the dispatch of the gift, and personally thanked the members of the committee for their thoughtfulness and manifestation of the California spirit.

FLEET FLAGSHIP TO BE IMPROVED

California Will be Made Strongest on Seas

Aircraft Carriers Also to Undergo Repairs

Admiral Pratt Will Retain Staff in New Post

The superdreadnaught California, flagship of the United States Battle Fleet, will this summer undergo a five-month period of modernization at the Puget Sound navy yard, costing $650,000, to increase her efficiency as a tactical flagship in action. The improvements are expected to make her at once the strongest offensive and defensive craft on the seas.

Modernization of the 33,000-ton flagship ahead of seven battleships of earlier or contemporary commission is in line with the Navy Department's policy to bring the battle fleet up to its maximum tactical efficiency as an integral unit. The California was commissioned in August, 1921, at the Mare Island navy yard and has a main armament of twelve fourteen-inch guns.

REVAMP CARRIERS

The fighting efficiency of the fleet will be further increased this summer by changes in the underwater armoring of the new 33,000-ton aircraft carriers Saratoga and Lexington, which are expected to materially increase their present top speed of nearly thirty-five knots. The Lexington will depart San Pedro for the Puget Sound navy yard on April 15, begin its overhaul on April 19 and complete the overhaul on June 19. The Saratoga will sail for Puget Sound May 13, begin overhaul May 18 and complete it on July 2. Both carriers will return to the base after overhaul for trials and will remain here during the summer for tactical flight training.

The California will be undergoing modernization from June 24 to October 19, while the U.S.S. West Virginia, flagship of the battleship divisions, will also be at the Puget Sound yard for annual overhaul from July 1 to August 14.

Announcement that Admiral William V. Pratt, now commander-in-chief of the battle fleet, will keep his present staff practically intact when he succeeds Admiral Henry A. Wiley here on May 21 as commander-in-chief, has been made by the Navy Department, while Vice-Admiral Louis McC. Nulton, commanding the battleship divisions, will retain his aides when he relieves Admiral Pratt as head of the battle fleet. Admirals Pratt and Nulton yesterday were in conference aboard the California.

PERSONNEL OF STAFF

Admiral Pratt's staff includes: Capt. A. J. Hepburn, chief-of-staff; Capt. R. E. Ingersoll, assistant chief-of-staff; Commander H. M. Cooley, fleet engineer; Commander W. C. Barker, fleet personnel officer; Commander W. Wilton fleet gunnery officer; Lieutenant-Commander Russell S. Berkey, flag secretary; Lieutenant-Commander W. I. Causey, Jr., fleet athletic and communication officer; Lieutenant-Commander George D. Murray, fleet aviation officer; Lieut. C. W. T. Campbell, flag lieutenant; Lieut. A. J. Spriggs, fleet radio officer; Capt. W. N. McDonnell, fleet medical officer; Capt. E. W. Scott, fleet chaplain; Commander A. J. Chantry, fleet constructor; Lieut.-Col. Gerard M. Kincade, fleet marine officer.

Admiral Nulton's present staff includes: Capt. Arthur St. Clair Smith, chief-of-staff; Commander O. M. Hustvedt, force gunnery officer; Commander J. E. Evans, force engineer; Lieutenant - Commander John W. McClaran, flag lieutenant and force communications officer; Lieutenant-Commander R. O. Davis, flag secretary; Lieutenant-Commander Lowell Cooper, force radio officer, and Maj. A. A. Cunningham, force marine officer. Assignment of officers to fill in additional battle fleet offices on Admiral Nulton's staff has not yet been announced.

MARYLAND RETURNS

The battleship Maryland rejoined the fleet last night after completion of her annual overhaul at the Puget Sound navy yard, while the dreadnaught Idaho is due at the base next Saturday after interim docking at Hunter's Point.

The United States Fleet flagship Texas, carrying Admiral Wiley, sailed last night for a fortnight's visit to San Francisco, during which Admiral Wiley will inspect the naval establishment in the Bay district. She will return here on April 12.

CHAMBER ASKS FOR NEW CITY ORDINANCE

The Chamber of Commerce board of directors has recommended that the City Council adopt the ordinance creating a division of forestry with a city forester in charge, for the purpose of planting and maintaining trees along the streets of the city in a beautifying campaign that has been indorsed by the chamber for several years.

STUDIOS BANKRUPT

A voluntary petition in bankruptcy was filed yesterday by C. Sharpe-Minor Studios, Inc., 3634 Beverly Boulevard. No schedule of liabilities and assets was filed, but will be within ten days. The petition was filed by C. Sharpe Minor on authorization of the board of directors. Minor now is an organist in a local theater.

FASHION EXPERT BACK FROM TRIP

Peggy Hamilton

FIRST LADY EXTOLLED FOR STYLE

Peggy Hamilton Returns to City from Eastern Tour in Study of New Modes

"Mrs. Herbert Hoover, California's first lady of the land, is going to express in dress what foremost American women long have desired, dressing with individuality and expressing personality in gowns, understanding one's self and dressing accordingly," according to Peggy Hamilton, The Times fashion expert who returned home yesterday.

Miss Hamilton has been on a four weeks' tour of the East, going there as hostess of the inaugural train from here, and lecturing on Hollywood styles in Cleveland, Detroit, New York, Milwaukee and Chicago.

"Our lovely first lady seldom wears bright colors," Miss Hamilton said, "but has a liking for burgandy shades and dull purples, beige or gray or for evening wear brocades shot with dull silver or gold. Although dressed in fashion she never follows the dictates of fashion to the extremes."

Miss Hamilton said she saw in New York many evidences that Paris is losing place to America as fashion dictator of the world.

"But I really believe that Paris has more to fear from Hollywood than from New York," she said. "Our designers are certainly as capable and the exploitation of their modes through the unparalleled and unlimited medium of the screen is invaluable."

GROUND TO BE BROKEN FOR UNIVERSITY'S "Y"

CEREMONY DUE TUESDAY ON WESTWOOD CAMPUS FOR WOMEN'S EDIFICE

The first ground-breaking ceremony on the new campus of the University of California at Los Angeles, other than for administration buildings, will be conducted next Tuesday afternoon when soil will be turned for the new house of the Y.W.C.A. at Westwood. Construction on the house will be started immediately. It will be ready for occupancy next September when the university moves to its new site.

The ceremony Tuesday will be dedicated to the memory of Sarah Elizabeth Lloyd, mother of Mrs. Ralph Smith and Mrs. Charles Dobbins, who are financing the Y.W.C.A. as a memorial to Mrs. Lloyd. Transportation to the ceremony will be furnished to all students of the university desiring to attend, parties leaving from the present Y.W.C.A. house at 755 North Berendo street at 4 p.m. After the ground breaking, a picnic supper will be served at the home of Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Robinson in Westwood Hills, followed by dancing.

FUGITIVE YOUTH HELD IN TENNESSEE

Police here were notified yesterday that Carl Jones, 19 years of age, is being held for them by the authorities of Memphis, Tenn. According to Detective Captain Williams of the automobile detail the young man is known here as Arthur Jones and is charged with passing a worthless check to the Dalton Sales Agency of 542 South Figueroa street for a sport model car. When arrested in Memphis his car bore license plates registered as attached to a Studebaker car owned by Clarence Barnett of Ventura.

OLD SALT WOULD BUILD PIER

Years ago—O. C. Olsen, master of sail and steam, guided his ships along the trade routes of the south seas, until he had a competence on which to retire.

Now Olsen, who still cherishes the memories of his life on the ocean wave, has the idea of building a pier on his property near Point Dume, where he can look across the water every day toward the blue and misty distances of the Antipodes.

The Board of Supervisors has agreed to sell Olsen a franchise for his pier, and County Counsel Mattoon yesterday directed Deputy Counsel Vobayda to draw up an ordinance advertising the franchise for sale. Olsen, in his application, says that the pier will cost about $37,000 and will be 800 feet long. It will be used for fishing boats and as a landing place for hydroplanes.

LITIGANT FREED OF WRIT CHARGE

Court Holds Officer Alone to Blame for Violence

Nonsuit Granted in Case of Mrs. Viola H. Porter

Woman Says Marshal "Beat, Bruised and Abused" Her

When a litigant places a writ of attachment in the hands of an officer and the officer uses violence in serving the writ, the litigant is not liable for the damage the officer does. The litigant has the right to assume that when he gives the writ to the officer to serve the officer will not commit any illegal acts.

Such was the announcement of Superior Judge Yankwich late yesterday in granting a nonsuit in the case of Viola H. Porter, motion-picture scenario writer, against H. K. Ward & Co. and Max Freedman.

Mrs. Porter asserted that on June 23, 1928, for the purpose of maliciously injuring her, the company assigned to Max Freedman a claim against her for $85.57. Freedman, the complaint asserted, brought a suit against Mrs. Porter in the Municipal Court and had an attachment issued.

"BRUISED AND ABUSED"

The complaint further asserted that when the attachment was levied a deputy marshal "grievously beat, pinched, shoved, wrenched, scratched, bruised and abused" her in the presence of two of her neighbors, causing her to suffer physical pain and humiliation.

Mrs. Porter asked damages in the sum of $7615 as follows: $25 attorney fees, $30 for loss of her automobile, which was attached; $50 for loss of business, $20 for a doctor's fee, $2500 for injuries inflicted by the marshal and $5000 punitive damages.

NONSUIT MOVED

At the end of the plaintiff's case the defendants moved for a nonsuit. In granting the motion Judge Yankwich declared:

"The court has no sympathy for any officer who, under the guise of authority, violates a citizen's rights. Such officers do great harm to the administration of justice. They violate the letter and the spirit of the law. They undermine confidence in the law and bring it into disrepute.

"However, under the law, a litigant is not responsible for illegal acts of an officer unless he ordered them done.

"If these officers are guilty of these acts they should be dealt with by the proper authorities. Brutality under the guise of authority should not be tolerated."

TO THE MAN WHO IS AFRAID TO LET HIS DREAM COME TRUE

YEARS AGO you heard of Rolls-Royce—later you saw one—and a dream formed in your mind . . . "Some day, when I have the money, I'm going to own that car!"

Now you have the money—and you waver. A dozen bogies buzz about your ears . . . "I can get along with a cheaper car" . . . "Is Rolls-Royce really worth the price?" . . . "Maybe folks would think I'm splurging" . . .

Yes, you can get along without a Rolls-Royce. You can get along without trips to Europe, or a fine piano in your home, without Oriental rugs on the floor, or sterling silver on the table. But you don't. Because the actual value you get out of these things makes them worth more than their cost. And your friends know that. These things you buy are above criticism. They are proof of your judgment, your good taste.

Now take Rolls-Royce. The protection it offers you and your family is alone reason enough for its purchase. For Rolls-Royce is the safest car in the world! No part on which the safety of the occupants depends has ever failed in this car. Ask your insurance friends—they'll tell you Rolls-Royce gets lower collision rates than any other car!

Then the comfort, the restfulness of Rolls-Royce—the solace it brings to nerves harried by business, frayed by the din of a noise-mad age. Rolls-Royce was built as a protest against noise—against not only obvious squeaks and rattles, but against even those tiny quavers and quivers that, seemingly negligible and perhaps unnoticed, wear you down, bring you up tired at the end of a long trip.

Prove that! Step into a Rolls-Royce, grumpy and weary from a day at the office. The car cradles your tired body like your lounge chair at home. The roar of the city may be all around you—you move in a well of silence. Rough roads may lie ahead—you take them without a tremor. Instead of riding, you float! Restfulness almost as complete as dreamless slumber! You can drive 300 miles in a Rolls-Royce without fatigue!

Or say you're dawn-fresh, eager for a thrill. Take the wheel of a Rolls-Royce—and get it! See how the car hugs the road, holds its direction. That's balance! See how it levels out hills. That's power! See how it eats up the miles. That's speed! And try the brakes—foot-brakes that have brought a car down Pike's Peak with the clutch out and the motor off!

What do you pay for this comfort and quiet, this super-safety, the supreme joy of perfect motoring? No more than you pay for an ordinary fine car. True, the first cost of Rolls-Royce is high. Why? If we could take the car to pieces right here on this page, we would show you, gear for gear, shaft for shaft, why Rolls-Royce costs its price. But—and here is one of the sweetest points of the car . . .

You never realize it has gears and shafts. You drive it year after year, and the motor never flutters, the springs never complain. Rolls-Royce is guaranteed for three years—nine times longer than any other car! Consider this 3 year insurance against failure of any mechanical part and compare it with your own experience!

Then compare the depreciation on your present car with that on a Rolls-Royce 10 years old. You're paying for a Rolls-Royce without ever owning one! But, you may say, "I don't want to keep a car ten years, because of changes in body styles." All right, change the coachwork on your Rolls-Royce every few years. You'll have an everlastingly new car—and you'll still be making the best fine car investment in the world! America's foremost bankers—163 of them—endorse Rolls-Royce as an investment by owning Rolls-Royces themselves!

But this page isn't big enough for the whole story. Rolls-Royce is the finest vehicle that a wizard age has offered to man. And you, with the purchase price in your pocket, hesitate to buy it!

No matter where you live, Rolls-Royce will gladly send a car to you for a 100-mile trial. Or perhaps you would rather see a representative—or secure printed matter giving more detailed information on Rolls-Royce. Make your request—we will fulfill it.
